2 Grant schools go remote amid COVID19 outbreak

With four "non-instructional" school staff members and seven students testing positive for COVID19 last week, Grant High School and Grant Middle School closed on Friday.

In a written statement, school Superintendent Brett Zuver said that the schools will switch to only remote learning for 14 days, returning to in-person instruction on Friday, Oct. 9.

"Grant's Primary Center and elementary school have not had any reported cases or quarantines up to this point," Zuver stated. Those schools are still conducting face-to-face

In compliance with the governor's Executive Order 2020-185, students in the elementary grades are now required to wear face coverings in classrooms and common areas. Bus service has been halted for at least this Zuver said that school officials have been in communication with District Health Department 10, families and others.

With contact tracing being studied, nearly 100 middle and high school students and a few staff members have been quarantined for 14 days. The superintendent noted that the quarantine is a "precautionary protocol" and does not mean that all of those people are sick.

"These are not decisions that we take lightly or want to make without careful and thoughtful consideration," Zuver said. "We looked at multiple scenarios and wanted to implement the best plan possible where students could still be served where feasible and we could also move forward with halting the spread of illness."

The world's largest producer of babyfood products, Gerber Products was founded in 1927 in Fremont by Daniel Gerber, owner of the Fremont Canning Company, which produced canned fruit and vegetables. Today, Gerber produces nearly 190 food products labeled in 16 languages and distributed to 80 countries around the world.

City of Fremont and Newaygo County officials worked with Gerber Products and the Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) to help ensure that the company chose Fremont for this new investment. The Right Place also connected the company to workforce development resources at Michigan Works! West Central to assist with workforce recruitment and training.

At its meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 22, the Michigan Strategic Fund authorized a 10-year Renaissance Zone in support of the project. The Newaygo County Board of Commissioners and the Fremont City Council had already passed resolutions of support for establishment of a Renaissance Zone for the manufacturing plant area. "As stated in our original Agricultural Processing Renaissance Zone agreement in 2008," said Fremont Mayor James Rynberg, "the City of Fremont is fortunate to acknowledge Gerber Products' beginnings here in Fremont and their continued commitment to our community. Our city council unanimously endorses the application for this new Michigan Strategic Fund Renaissance Zone and enthusiastically supports these continuing policies promoting sustainability and partnership.'

"We are pleased Gerber has chosen to continue investing in Newaygo County," said Newaygo County Administrator Christopher Wren. "They provide quality jobs for local residents and we look forward to seeing their continued growth in our community."

"Gerber has been a critical piece of the Newaygo County economy for decades," said Julie Burrell, Newaygo County Business Development Coordinator with The Right Place. "The company provides hundreds of quality advanced manufacturing jobs with competitive wages, and Gerber also supports the area's agribusiness industry. This expansion strengthens Gerber's presence in Newaygo County and will positively impact the local economy for years to come."

"Gerber is an important employer in west Michigan," said MEDC CEP Mark A. Burton, "and the company's decision to expand in Fremont means good jobs for area residents and underscores the strength of the state's manufacturing talent," said MEDC CEO Mark A. Burton. "We're pleased to work with our local partners and support this investment, and we look forward to working with this longstanding Michigan company as it continues to grow and add jobs for Michiganders."

Consumers Energy also helped with ways to reduce energy costs and promote clean energy practices.

"Consumers Energy is excited to help Gerber Products make investments to create jobs here in west Michigan," said Lauren Youngdahl Snyder, Consumers Energy's vice president of customer experience. "We have made a Triple Bottom Line commitment to people, the planet and Michigan's prosperity, which our collaboration with Gerber Products illustrates perfectly in Fremont. When Michigan wins, we all win."

Judge omitted from ballot; New ballots on the way

By R.C.Wheater Sr. Newaygo County Clerk Jason VanderStelt said that he learned on Saturday afternoon that Newaygo County's election ballots did not include the 78th District Court Judge position.

Somehow, the judicial election list from the state had omitted the judgeship, although incumbent Judge Kevin Drake had indeed filed for re-election.

By then, approximately 6,145 absent voter ballots had been sent out to Newaygo County voters who had previously submitted applications for the Nov. 3 general election. VanderStelt said that 41 of those ballots had been returned to local township or city clerks.

"The Newaygo County Clerk's office has been in contact with the ballot printers and the correction has been made," VanderStelt said in a written statement released on Monday morning. "New ballots are being printed at the time of this statement and shall arrive on Thursday, Oct. 1 to the local clerks."

"Upon arrival of these new ballots," VanderStelt added, "our clerks will be diligently working to reissue new absent voter ballots to all voters who have already been sent a ballot. These new ballots will be accompanied by a letter explaining the error and the voter's options."

Voters who have not already returned their original ballots are being asked to use the replacement ballot and destroy the original. Voters who have already sent those original ballots in are asked to vote again with the replacement ballots and return them. The original ballots will not be counted. If people do not use the replacement ballots, their original ballots will be counted but will have no vote recorded for the district court

"Every voter will have their vote counted," the county clerk stated. "Newaygo County has procedures in place that will ensure only one ballot for each voter will be counted per state election laws, policies and procedures."

Order allows more venues to reopen

On Friday, Governor Gretchen Whitmer signed executive orders allowing for the reopening of movie theaters and performance

The governor also signed Order 185, which requires face coverings for students in grades kindergarten through five.

"Michigan took some of the most aggressive action against COVID-19 in the country," the governor said, "and as a result, the health of our families and our economy are faring better than our neighbors in other states. As a result, we are now able to reopen movie theaters and performance venues with strict safety measures in place."

Beginning Oct. 9, a number of previously closed businesses are slated to reopen statewide, including indoor theaters, cinemas, performance venues, arcades, bingo halls, bowling centers, indoor climbing facilities, trampoline parks and more.

Under Executive Order 2020-183, instead of being limited to 10 people, non-residential indoor gatherings and events now must limit attendance to 20 people per 1,000 square feet or 20 percent of fixed seating capacity, with a maximum of 500 people in Michigan's largest venues. Non-residential indoor venues must require face coverings. Instead of being limited to 100 people, non-residential outdoor gatherings and events now must limit attendance to 30 people per 1,000 square feet or 30 percent of fixed seating capacity, with a maximum of 1,000 people. Regions 6 and 8 are subject to the same rules covered in the revised MI Safe Start order, except non-residential indoor venues may allow up to 25 people per 1,000 square feet or 25 percent of fixed seating capacity, with a maximum of 500 people in the regions' larg-

Executive Order 2020-185 requires all students in grades kindergarten and higher in regions 1 through 5 and 7 to wear face coverings in classrooms. Prior orders had recommended, but not required, face coverings for children up to grade five.

"With the 2020-2021 flu season approaching, we are in a precarious moment in our fight against COVID-19," said Chief Medical Executive Dr. Joneigh Khaldun. "This new mask requirement is so important to protect students and educators and to keep our schools open. This year, it's more important than ever that Michiganders across the state get their flu vaccine as soon as possible, mask up, and maintain at least six feet of physical distancing."

The executive director of the Michigan Funeral Directors Association said that Order 183 will benefit bereaved families.

"Increasing the number of people able to attend a funeral is the right thing to do," said Phil Douma, "and grieving families across our state can now more properly mourn their losses and honor those they love."

Blood donors can help with COVID19

Plasma from whole blood and platelet donations that test positive for COVID19 antibodies may now help current coronavirus patients who are in need of convalescent plasma transfusions.

The American Red Cross is encouraging donors to make appointments to give blood or platelets now to help ensure that coronavirus patients and others who depend on transfusions have needed blood products this fall.

In April, the Red Cross began collecting COVID19 convalescent plasma from previously diagnosed individuals, who could only give at one of approximately 170 Red Cross blood donation centers across the country. Red Cross experts say that convalescent plasma contains COVID19 antibodies that may help the most critical patients actively fighting the virus.

Now, whole blood and platelet donations made at any Red Cross blood drive or blood donation center could be helpful in this effort.

"Donations that come back positive for COVID19 antibodies now undergo secondary testing to confirm antibody results, and that enables the Red Cross to then potentially use the plasma from those donations for COVID19 patients," said Dr. Erin Goodhue, executive medical director of direct patient care with the Red Cross Biomedical Services. "With approximately 2 percent of the US population testing positive for COVID19 antibodies, every donation is important to ensure patients with coronavirus have access to every treatment option available to them."

The Red Cross encourages eligible individuals to schedule appointments, download the free Blood Donor App, visit RedCrossBlood.org online, call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enable the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device.

In thanks, the Red Cross is offering a $1,000 Amazon.com Gift Card to five lucky winners who come to donate in October. Details are available online at rcblood.org/

Additionally, people who come to give by the end of September will receive free haircut coupons by email, usable at participating Sport Clips Haircuts locations. More information is available online at RedCrossBlood.org/ Sport-Clips.

Antibody testing may indicate if the donor's immune system has produced antibodies to this coronavirus, regardless of whether an individual experienced COVID19 symptoms. Donations are tested using samples pulled at the time of donation and sent to a testing laboratory where they also undergo routine infectious disease testing.

COVID19 antibody test results will be available within one to two weeks in the Red Cross Blood Donor App or donor portal at RedCrossBlood.org. A positive antibody test result does not confirm infection or immunity. The Red Cross is not conducting diagnostic tests.

Along with the usual safety and infection control standards, Red Cross blood drive and donation centers are also following stringent COVID19 prevention protocols.

People who are 17 years old, weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also must also meet certain height and weight requirements.

EDITH MAASSEN

Edith Marjorie (Herlein) Maassen was born in Muskegon on Sept. 5, 1924, youngest of eight siblings. Her upbringing taught her compassion, faith, and perseverance. She graduated from Muskegon Community College and Hope College, earning her master's degree from the University of Michigan later in life. At Hope, she studied music and organ performance and met her future husband, Pierce Maassen.

Teaching elementary school until Pierce's seminary graduation, Edith then worked by his side, playing the organ and piano and directing choirs in churches he pastored. After his 1967 death, she taught fifth grade and music in Fremont until her retirement. She had by then moved to the edge of Manistee National Forest, expressing her fierce independence and love of nature. She was the organist for Fremont United Methodist Church and remained active in her community and local government.

Edith relocated Zeeland in 2002 to be closer to family. She found a new church home at Second Reformed, where she served as an elder and literacy volunteer. She continued her life-long loves of reading, especially history; knitting, sewing, and other needlework; and gardening, bird-watching, and observing nature. She followed politics closely, saving the Time magazine announcing President Obama's historic election with her library of books on Lincoln.

Edith's spirit is carried forward by her children, Ruth, Peter, and Lois; their partners, Tom Tamlyn, Kay Gouwens, and Chris Wiers; her grandchildren, Dmitri Brown, Emily Powers Souza, Paxton Wiers, Avril Wiers, and Lillian Maassen; and her great-grandchildren, Eleanor, June, Hazel, and Bennett.

MURIEL "Jackie"

CRUZAN Muriel Elizabeth (Munro) Cruzan, "Jackie," on Sept. 15, 2020, after etly cast off her earthly moorings to take up her Heavenly residence.

Born on August 18, 1929, in London, England to Maitland and Muriel (Robinson) Munro, she survived the horrific bombing of London which sent her on a life journey of overcoming challenges.

Her determination to survive put her in many interesting employment experiences in England including farm hand, filling station attendant, nanny, service in the Royal Air Force, and telephone operator. Jackie met Marvin Cruzan of White Cloud, while he was stationed in England serving with the Army Air Corps. He would eventually become her husband for 65 years until his death in 2019.

After relocating from London to Michigan in 1954, Jackie continued employment commitments to help build a family, support her husband's college teaching degree program, and serve the communities in each place she called home, the longest being Pickford. She worked as a telephone operator for Michigan Bell, and as the Chippewa County MSU Cooperative Extension 4-H Program Coordinator in the 1980s-1990s. She helped rebuild the program to include activities for hundreds of children and teens. She especially enjoyed encourag-

starting and facilitating a teen club and events. She led students on trips to Washington DC, New York City, Lansing, and England. She enjoyed serving as a Girlguiding Leader in London, and Girl Scouts leader in White Cloud. Jackie became a woman of faith in Christ by God's grace. Placed into foster care as a child, she was introduced to the Bible and God by foster parents. But the War's pain and hurt turned her away. God drew her to Himself in a hospital room after losing an infant son through the words she read from 231-689-1492. John 3:16 in a Gideon Bible found in a bedside drawer. She gave her life to service in churches throughout her years as Sunday School teacher, Youth Group leader, Lay Witness speaker, and in later years hosted a Prayer Shawl Ministry in her home. She loved the Prison Letter Ministry she faithfully shared through CrossRoads Bible Institute, touching countless lives behind bars.

Jackie pursued a variety of interests and was a life-long learner. She was well-known for her beautiful and intricate knitting. Her green thumb was obvious in her flower gardens. She was an avid reader up to her loss of sight. She loved hosting Teas, soaking up classical music, and catching the annual Christmas Message by the Queen. Out of the loneliness and hardships of her past grew a special heart for the newcomers, the and invite them into her home, and was quietly generous to many in need through the years. She broke the chains of her past leaving a fresh legacy for those in her footsteps. Independent, strong, and loyal, she loved her children, grandchildren and

By Pastor Matt Stoll, Holton United Methodist Church

I've heard it several times before, but as I was in conversation with someone in the community and invited them to join us for worship on Sunday I received the response, "I'm not really into the church thing." They identified as a Christian believer, but didn't feel like "institutional religion" was for them. Perhaps it was because they had a bad church experience in their past, or were discouraged by judgmental or hypocritical Christians, or maybe they're just not a "joiner". It is true that churches are not perfect places, and yet it is in our imperfection that God's grace works through us. One of the Biblical analogies of becoming a Christian is that we become a part of a body, the body of Christ.

"Just as a body, though one, has many parts, but all its many parts form one body, so it is with Christ. For we were all baptized by one Spirit so as to form one body.

Now you are the body of Christ, and each one of you is a part of it."

1 Cor. 12:12-13, 27

When we trust in Jesus by faith we become part of Christ's body (also called the Church), whether we acknowledge or accept it or not. God intentionally designed us to be uniquely who we are, and saved us, and put us into His body so that our specific part, with its unique combination of gifts, talents, abilities, and personality would complement and work in cooperation with all the other parts (that is other Christians) to do God's work.

"But in fact God has placed the parts in the body, every one of them, just as he wanted them to be." 1 Corinthians 12:18

God intentionally put his body together (including our part) to work together with all the other parts so we would accomplish more together than we could individually. This way we would need to love each other, and rely on each other (and the grace of God), not just our own strength and abilities. When we choose not to be in fellowship with, or work with other Christians, we are like a hand off doing its own thing without the rest of parts of the body (no ears for hearing, no eyes for sight). Not only can we not fully accomplish God's work without the rest of the body (at least the way God designed it), but the rest of the body is missing the part it needs (us) to fully do God's work in the world as well, including supporting and caring for each other (1 Cor. 12:25-26).

Since God designed his body so all the parts would fit and work together, that means every part (Christian) is important and matters for his body to function properly the way he intended. So, no matter how gifted or not we may feel we are, how many abilities we think we have (or don't), no matter how big or small our function or role is, whether it is visible or behind the scenes, everyone is needed and matters in the body of Christ because everyone contributes something. There are no insignificant parts.

If you are a Christian, what part or role did God intend for you to play in Christ's body (the Church)? Are you living this out? If you are not connected to a local congregation, consider how God intended for you to be a part of and work together with the other parts of his body to fully live out God's purposes and mission. Take a step of faith, prayerfully follow God's lead to a local Christ centered faith community, don't just be a spectator, get involved, get to know people, care for each other, put your God given gifts to work with others.

The Indians lost to the visiting Mohawks on Friday night at White Cloud.

Morley Stanwood's defense controlled much of the action, returning three of four intercepted passes for touchdowns. On offense, the Mohawks ran for more than 200 yards.

"We had 6 or 7 plays that only game experience can teach," said Indians Coach Joe Gorman, "and some of our players hadn't been in those scenarios yet. Take those away and we have a respectable game on our hands."

Traveon Brunson caught passes for 86 yards, including a 74-yard touchdown pass. Taylor Bode caught the 2-point pass after the touchdown in the second quarter.

Scheduled to play at Grant on Friday, the Packers drove north to Ludington after Grant High School activities were canceled because of a COVID19 outbreak.

Things improved for the Packers in the second half at Ludington. The combination of quarterback Payton Mansfield and tightend Gabe VanVleet showed some promise, with VanVleet finishing with 7 catches for 71 yards and 2 touchdowns.

Young rider wins state title

From the

R.C. Wheater Sr.

Ellie Ouwinga and her nine-year-old quarterhorse Homer won the National Barrel Horse Association youth state final in Midland on Sept. 7, making Ellie the state champion in the sport of speed and precision.

Ellie, a 13-year-old eighth grader at Grant Christian School, also placed fifth in the state in the Open class barrel racing event, competing with riders of all ages, including adults.

Ellie, the daughter of Joe and Bunnita Ouwinga, took-up barrel racing seven years ago, starting at the same time as her mother, who also races.

"We don't get that competitive with each other," Ellie said of her mother, explaining with a grin: "I usually beat

"I think my Mom would rather see me win than to win herself," Ellie added

Competition events and running their Sun Stables establishment east of Grant provide plenty of togetherness for this family. Joe is not an avid rider, but > his daughter said that he enjoys working with the horses and equipment and spending time with his two riders.

"He trailers us everywhere," Ellie said of her father. "I'm very blessed with my parents."

Ellie said that Homer proved his championship qualities with his performances at Midland. She said that he has a fun, quirky personality combined with plenty of determination and intelligence.

"He is one of the goofiest animals ever," she said, adding that he is welltrained and well-bred, with plenty of heart. Plus, he is "really smart."

"He is very good at his job," Ellie said.

As the other half of the partnership, Ellie said that her success depends on plenty of hard work, the ability to handle the pressure of competition, and the time management and discipline to balance school work, horse-related chores and competition.

She said that she enjoys hunting and fishing, and she noted that she got her first buck last year.

Ellie said that the best parts of barrel racing are the people involved and the sheer fun of competitive riding. She said that her goals for her riding career include qualifying for national finals and winning the Mid States Rodeo Association championship.

Her career goals include a desire to work with horses in some way.

Homer and Ellie Ouwinga recently teamed-up to win a state championship in barrel racing. "He is one of the goofiest animals ever," Ellie said of Homer. "He is very good at his job."

Politically Motivated Divisions

Dear Editor,

Editors in smaller towns often need to be careful in how political their citizen opinion submissions

So I will try to be careful in expressing my concerns - no, they are fears - as to how our politically motivated divisions are creating hatred, anger, violence and death in our country now. And it is escalating, perhaps to an end that we do not know now, but may regret had ever happened.

The political divide and vitriol is being felt and mirrored from the halls of our capital to the halls of our schools, and into our neighborhoods and streets. And although all hate and vitriol can either start or end with each of us individually, Our leaders of Our Nation can, should and do set a tone that says "Do like me. Follow me".

So I weep when I hear messaging from the highest level of the campaign trail that talks disparagingly about refugees from "dangerous" countries to a crowd of nearly all white European descendants, in a Midwest town that opened their doors to war torn refugees ("how did those refugees work out for you?"), surrounded by Native American tribes and their reservations. Then going on to say that the crowd has "good genes, you know that right? A lot of it is about the genes, isn't it? Don't you believe....the racehorse theory? You have good genes (here) in...". Historians liken this rhetoric to that which culminated in eugenics-theory led "cleansing" (murder and genocide) of people from "unwanted" racial and ethnic ancestry, and other "defects". It begins with rhetoric and divisive talk, and can end with a following of dangerous power.

I weep when I see the raging, never before seen fires out west; the never before known numbers of hurricanes of intense force in one season; the loss of 2/3rds of our planet's wildlife in the past 50 years (catastrophic). Yet our country has rolled back environmental protections that had taken years to put in place; we have removed ourselves from the rest of the world's concerns and commitments by blatantly opting out of the Paris Climate Agreement; and we ignore science and citizen observations from around our globe that shows undeniable warming and destructive consequences to our earth and oceans. But the deepest moral sin we have created against the earth and our local environments is our religious, national and personal irresponsibility as stewards of God's Creation. And this is being led and exampled by our leaders and their policies that put a higher value on cash and untethered capitalism over care of our only planet, and therefore of its people.

I weep when I hear and see our leaders of the Coronovirus Task Force putting forth the "official" policy of 'social distancing, washing hands, wearing masks and not gathering in large crowds' in order to help slow the spread of the disease - yet do not publicly practice it themselves as positive examples for our citizens. And even worse, host major events with hundreds or thousands of people who must sign a disclaimer that they won't sue the organizers if they get sick. When asked, the Chair of the Task Force says it is up to each state how to deal with the safety measures - as if the nature of the virus changes at their borders. In the mean time our country has 4% of the population of all nations, yet has 25% of the world's Covid cases. More cases lead to more deaths: over 200,000 of our family members and neighbors now (and growing). Yet I do not hear our leaders mourn them, nor attempt to mitigate the rising deaths through promotion of their own policies of safety.

Sometimes there is one very personal issue that we take to the polls with us as we vote. But there is no one political party or candidate that carries all of our our leaders in power will carry the tone and the moral compass of our nation and therefore of each of us as its citizens. We must consider the greater ramifications that will follow as policies are made, as laws are carried out, and our neighboring nations.

I am listening to the 489

In Peace, Sally Wagoner

own values in their platforms. Our voting decision must consider how as diplomacy or war are offered to generals, admirals and senior security officials as they take a public stand to halt these politically motivated divisions and the directions these divisions intend to take our nation.

VanSingel says education remains top priority in tight budget year

State Rep. Scott VanSingel, who chairs the House Higher Education Budget Subcommittee, said that the state's education budget will not be cut despite the budgetary and economic impact of COVID19.

Kindergarten through 12th grade education, along with higher education, will be protected from state spending cuts. In fact, VanSingel said, school districts will even receive a roughly $65 funding bump per-student across the board.

"I'm pleased that in spite of this tight budget year, lawmakers were able to come together to ensure schools were held harmless," VanSingel said. "Last year's funding levels were maintained, meaning the devastating cuts that were anticipated a couple months ago simply won't happen."

Under the plan, the state will dedicate approximately $15.5 billion to K-12 schools in the new budget year, exceeding the $15.3 billion originally established for the current fiscal year. Michigan's minimum per-pupil foundation allowance will also remain steady at $8,111, with an additional onetime bonus investment expected to equal about $65 per student, an overall boost of about $95 million. Highlights of the plan also include: • A continued commitment to literacy programs. VanSingel explained that learning to read at an early age is a building block for

• Making student mental health a priority given the many challenges and changes students have endured over the past year. The plan invests in school-based health centers and programs at the intermediate school district level.

- Funding for districts to identify students who need additional help and parents who need help finding childcare.
- Resources for students who are engaged in virtual learning.
- Ensuring funding for vital programs like career/technical education, special education, STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) competitions and First Robotics is held harmless.
- Protecting local control. • Guaranteeing financial stability for school districts that are growing, ensuring they receive the full foundation amount for every student.
- Incentives to encourage new teachers to stay in the profession by offering a "new teacher" stipend of up to $1,500.

The education budget proposal follows the August approval of the Return to Learn plan, which empowered local school districts to do what is best for their communities and students when it comes to COVID19 prevention and learning methods. Now, VanSingel said, lawmakers are ensuring that students, parents and teachers have the resources they need in order to succeed in their unique learning situations.

The plan invests $1 billion more in K-12 schools this academic year than it did in the 2016-17 academic year, even though the number of students enrolled in public schools has declined statewide.

Approximately a quarter of the annual state budget is devoted to K-12 education.

State Senator Jon Bumstead of Newaygo said that House Bill 5396, a general omnibus budget, increases local revenue sharing and includes $20 million to ensure that nursing homes have adequate personal protective equipment to protect staff members and residents, $7 million to graduate at least 50 new state troopers and maintain trooper strength, $26 million for the Going Pro program to help train employees, and $30 million for Michigan Reconnect to help people complete associate degrees or skills certificates.

It also invests $15 million in the Pure Michigan tourism campaign, deposits $35 million in the state's rainy day fund, and fully funds the 2015 plan to help fix the state's

Rep. VanSingel said that legislators reached the budget agreement in negotiation with Governor Whitmer and that she is expected to sign the legislation into law.

Dear editor and recyclers,

I was at the Fremont recycling center last Saturday to get rid of my clean Styrofoam. I was very distressed to have to remove armfuls of plastic bags which I put into the garbage and to see the many cardboard boxes that had

Well, maybe the woman who's name was on the boxes can't read or just ignores what is accepted in the containers that go to Grand Rapids. I wanted to include the name of the woman from Fremont who's name was on the packages and surrounded by the many plastic bags in this letter to the editor but was advised not to publicly shame her. Good idea. So I'll probably just call her. It is disturbing to those of us who recycle responsibly to see unaccepted items in the container which then requires the recycle company to reject the entire container which includes so many items that have been carefully cleaned and separated

And hey, if your plastic bags go into the garbage, if you collect them all in another plastic bag, the unsightly look and contamination of plastic bags flying around, caught in trees and fences will be reduced as well. Please please recycle, but recycle responsibly. Be responsible for your trash! Do more than part of the job. Thank you. Valerie Deur

Grant Christian School to host Harvest Festival

Grant Christian School is inviting the public to attend the school's 2020 Harvest Fest on Saturday, Oct. 10 from 5 to 8 p.m. at the school.

The free event will feature pumpkin painting, a children's tractor pull, table-to-table trick-or-treating, food, cider, coffee donuts and more.

Children are encouraged to wear costumes and adults may also wear costumes. Organizers ask that participants refrain from costumes that are "too ghoulish."

The event will be held outdoors and every effort will be made to comply with social distancing requirements.

A Bird in the Hand

A tiny female goldfinch crashed into the window of Jane Stroschin's Fremont area home. The bird was stunned and motionless, so Jane had the bird sit on her hand for a while to keep her safe from neighborhood cats. After a bit of a rest, the goldfinch flew away.

Dr. Tsai joins local cancer center team

Judy Tsai MD has joined the staff of the cancer center at Spectrum Health

Gerber Memorial. With the addition of Dr. Tsai

(pronounced "tie"), the Cancer Center is welcoming Newaygo County patients to receive care and treatment locally.

"Our Cancer Center team is excited to have Dr. Judy Tsai join us and provide care close to home for patients and their families here in Newaygo County and nearby communities," said cancer center manager Brandi Miller. "Being able to provide cancer services during the COVID19 pandemic means people in Newaygo County don't have to drive far, and they'll be receiving care in a smaller setting where we can better manage social distancing." "In addition to Dr. Tsai," Miller added, "Gerber Memorial's Cancer Center team includes registered nurses, a nurse practitioner, a registered dietitian, a financial counselor and many other professionals. Our goal is to provide personalized care to every patient, and we're proud to provide such a wide range of specialized care for our neighbors."

Young farmers donate $6,000 to area food banks

Young farmers from almost a dozen western Michigan counties raised $6,000 at a recent golf outing and promptly donated it to food banks across the region.

Almost 50 members active in Michigan Farm Bureau's Young Farmer Program participated recently at Waters Edge Golf Course in Fremont, representing the organization's District 4 (Allegan, Barry, Ionia, Kent and Ottawa counties) and District 7 (Mecosta, Montcalm, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana and Osceola counties).

Before teeing it up, both groups also participated in district-level Discussion Meets, pitting members' publicspeaking skills and industry knowledge against each other in a competition format that has been a hallmark of the Young Farmer program for more than half a century.

All funds raised for the event were split between the two districts for distribution to local food pantries.

District 4 donated its $3,000 to Coopersville Cares, while District 7 split its $3,000 share between the Sears Food Pantry in Osceola County, God's Helping Hands (Mecosta), Bread of Life (Oceana), Lakeview Ministerial Association (Montcalm), St. Thomas Parish (Muskegon) and True North Community Services in Newaygo County.

"I think we were all questioning whether we'd have an opportunity like this under the current circumstances, but we got creative and pulled off a great event," said Mike McKeown, who represents District 4 on MFB's State Young Farmer Committee. "It was great to see our Young Farmers come together to discuss issues and enjoy a round of golf with friends, all while raising money for a good cause."

Conklin-area apple grower Adam Dietrich chairs the State Young Farmer Committee.

"It was tremendous to bring district Young Farmer groups together safely and work with some great sponsors for a fun day on the golf course," Dietrich said. "I was thrilled we had great discussions and raised $6,000 through Harvest for All, an effort that feels particularly important this year with everything happening."
