Piedmont Library and Cultural Events Society meets needs of local libraries

> By Emily Loughridge Contributing Writer

"Oh", the Places You'll Go" is one of the more popular titles seen in reference to libraries, and it coincides with the mission of the Piedmont Library and Cultural Events Society (PLACES) because their mission is to help the library with its needs, speak to the townspeople to learn what they want from the library, and organize community events, such as the Founder's Day Art Show.

This spring, PLACES awarded two local librarians with a box of around 17 books, including diverse titles and multiple Newberry and Caldecott award winners.

The two awarded librarians, Candice Boesch from Stone Ridge Elementary and Mem McCutchan of the Early Childhood Center, along with others applied for the PLACES scholarship, which offered the opportunity to buy new hardback books that their budgets might not allow for. The hardback books are more durable and would be able to serve more children over the years.

"The books received as part of the PLACES grant will encourage more student reading by putting interesting, beautiful books in their hands. Seeing a book with one or more medals on its cover doesn't hurt," said Boesch. "The books are also available to our teachers to share with their classes, offering even more exposure and further piquing students' interest."

Boesch said she chose multiple Caldecott Award winners and other awarded books, because she does

Piedmont High School welcomes Spears as new principal

By Emily Loughridge Contributing Writer

Every school year begins with new faces in the classroom, and this year won't be any different for Piedmont High School as the district welcomes Steve Spears, the new high school principal. Spears has spent 34 years as an educator, most recently as the principal of Bristow High School. Spears said he has famcated in the Piedmont area, and he was waited for the right opportunity to move closer to his family. He is excited to be a Wildcat and contribute to the outstanding tradition of Piedmont and plans to integrate himself into the community by being present at community and school events, Spears said.

"I wasn't going to relocate just anywhere. It had to be a school district that stood for excellence. Piedmont Public Schools

Spears graduated from Yukon High School before attending Oklahoma State University for his degree. He then taught for 21 years, primarily at Yukon Public Schools, as a teacher and coach. Later, he transitioned into leadership with titles of principal, assistant principal, and athletic director at various schools across the state, including Norman, Amber-Pocasset, and Western Heights.

Spears said that 34 years in education across five different school districts has exposed him

Visbanking delivers seamless banking research

By Cara Pattison Contributing Writer

Local start-up company Visbanking is a leading nationwide provider of banking information services. Founded in 2020, Visbanking is a virtual banking information service that provides visitors with data and analysis on banking institutions across the country.

The company came to fruition after former consultant Brian Pillmore needed a way to examine all competitors in the banking market for a client. Faced with the challenge of a lack of information for comparative data amongst banking rivals, he decided to use his IT skills to create a solution to the problem.

"As the consultant, if there wasn't data available then I had to find a way to gather it - even if it meant creating a new way to do it," Visbanking Founder and CEO Pillmore said.

After spending a month on the project for his client, the bank's leadership changed and the endeavor experienced an untimely death. Not one to give up easily, he decided to take the need he identified during this project and breathe new life into it via his own start-up company.

"In my past role as president and regional CEO of a bank, I had spent significant time trying to win new business from my competitors. Based on my time with the consulting projects and my past work experiences, I recognized the need for accessible banking information about those rivals. I realized that the experience I had gained could be leveraged to form the foundation for a service that could be provided to every bank across the United States.'

Pillmore's brainchild takes information from 4,800 banking institutions and over 300 million data records on these banks and turns it into easily understandable reports using data visualization. Decision-makers can select a single bank or all U.S. banks and view the information they need in either static or dynamic visualization.

Visbanking does the research and crunches the numbers for data seekers. Customers are able to support their business decisions with tables and graphs that add value to their strategies. These custom reports include information from bank call reports for the past 21 years from active and inactive banks, performance reporting, news articles, stock filing information, geographical details, deposit data and legal entity information with hierarchies and organizational charts, PIIImore said.

"Users can utilize our service to assess comparative performance between institutions, determine key economic indicators and trends of other banks in different geographical areas, define a market and measure the market share from banks in an identified area. It saves time for busy professionals by giving them more than 50 customized data visualizations and reports. The beauty of this company is that we have created the largest source of information on banking data in the U.S. - and it is available to all to use. We are excited to contribute to the world of banking research with this package."

Pillmore's virtual banking research tool is available to any bank stakeholders like bankers, investors and vendors to banks, and anyone else needing specific bank information to drive their decision-making.

Always looking to contribute to the industry, just last month his company released a free, open-sourced contribution to the banking information technology world called 'fdicdata.' For the techie experts out there, it uses the R-programming computer language to allow data scientists and others interested in directly accessing FDIC data with regards to the 4,800 banks in the U.S.

"The package will help individual decisionmakers and the banking industry community better utilize data on all banks in the United States. This package is available for download from CRAN, - the Comprehensive R Archive Network — and GitHub."

To get a glimpse of the power of Visbanking, Pillmore encourages anyone to visit his website and perform a free bank search.

He said he is committed to working collaboratively with staff, faculty, and students, as well as providing an exceptional environment for learning. The Piedmont Public Library and PLACES representatives presented the books during one of her classes which caused her students to erupt with cheering and applause. Boesch said the students could not wait to check out the new books and the class immediately read a few.

Michelle Ferguson, Piedmont's head librarian, said PLACES plans to offer two opportunities, one for the fall and one for the spring, for librarians to apply for the scholarship. Over the last two and a half years, PLACES had funded grants for local school librarians, with the money coming from private donations and a Microsoft partnership for volunteer efforts and community enrichment. In 2021, PLACES gave $1,000 in brand new hardback books to seven different schools.

PLACES has already impacted many students' lives with their grants to local schools, and will continue to place new hardback books into the hands of students who need them. A few of the books Boesch received, include "Have You Ever Seen a Flower?" by Shawn Harris, "The Rough Patch" by Brian Lies, "Hello Lighthouse" by Sophie Blackall, and "Me & Mama" by Cozbi A. Communication Federal Credit Union expanding to Piedmont Communication Federal Credit Union recently purchased the former Great Plains Bank location near the intersection of NW Highway (Highway 3) and Piedmont Road (Highway 4). The credit union plans to open its new financial center in this facility in late summer.

"We have many credit union members in the area and are very excited to be the first credit union in Piedmont. Additionally, we are proud to offer convenient credit union access to everyone in the area," Communication Federal President/CEO Larry Shropshire said. "Our credit union was founded in Oklahoma City in 1939 and we have retained our core focus of serving the financial needs of individuals and families. We offer a suite of checking and deposit products for small businesses to help them grow and thrive in the communities we serve."

The credit union plans to employ about eight people at the new location. It will offer traditional financial products including checking and savings options, student accounts, mortgage loans and land loans. The credit union's land loans have been popular with customers in the Piedmont area when seeking to purchase land and build a home.

This will be the credit union's 23rd branch location.

BeReal or BeFake? Can new app make us all more authentic?

By Emily Loughridge Contributing Writer

BeReal, one of the newest social media platforms, hit the market in 2020. The French social media app was designed by Alexis Barrreyat and Kevin Perreau and gained popularity in the last year. The app's daily notification encourages users to share a photo of themselves and their surroundings within a randomly selected two-minute window, with the goal of posting within the window.

A growing thought surrounding social media is that it encourages users to be unauthentic and to post just a highlight reel of their lives. Every Instagram or Facebook post you like is most likely a three-minute cross section of someone else's life - but it looks glorious and certainly greener on their side of life.

Maybe it's someone's vacation, wedding or promotion, which deserves a pat on the back and a "congratulations" comment, but we don't see the reality behind those photos, such as the crying child or horrendous sunburn.

I believe the thought behind BeReal was to change that stigma, to force users to post what is happening immediately in front of them with no filters or edits needed.

BeReal forces users to be in the moment, giving others a view of the real them and what they are doing. Maybe that's reading a book with your dog, eating fast food, waking up from a nap or literally a hundred other things. It's a real moment from your life, which feels more intimate compared to a curated Instagram car-users to post late, after the randomly selected two-minute window.

So how real is BeReal? Whether intentional or not, the ability to post late allows users to continue to put their best foot forward. Why post without makeup on in bed when I can post three hours late and be out at a cute brunch place with friends? Quickly the good intent behind BeReal can become BeFake.

After much internal debate, I recently downloaded BeReal – and I sincerely enjoy the app. My reasoning is more aligned with the sentimental value it will give me down the road. I'm an avid lover of taking and printing out photos, I love seeing my friends' and family's smiling faces at me.

I'm currently in college, the alleged best years of my life, so can you imagine in 10 years I will be able to swipe through my BeReal archives and see what I was doing, who I was friends with and what was deemed important in this stage of my life.

Just being home for the summer and looking back on my BeReal memories from a month ago tugs at my heartstrings. It makes me sentimental and miss my friends. Therefore, I'm pro BeReal because it will be a record of my daily life to look back on one day.

Even if users post late, they are still collecting a snapshot of life. Whether users utilize the app

The books are also available to our teachers to share with their classes, offering even more exposure and further piquing students' interest.

Library readies for slew of events, activities

By Michelle Ferguson Piedmont Public Library

With a sarcastic "Alas and alack," dear readers, you'll be sad to know that this past Saturday, the library book club finished the most depressing series of literature ever developed. Faulkner is dead to us; I mean, he's dead anyway, but never again shall we attempt to read another missive by the man, no matter how humorous his invention of creating air holes in a coffin.

Five awful books later, we're all in recovery, refusing to read anything more than social media posts until our brains overcome the trauma of reading poorly written passages about the worst characters ever invented. Really, don't even mention it to us, we'll be shrieking all over again.

Fortunately, the next book club selection is a bit lighter fare - "The Secret Diary of Hendrik Groen, 83 1/4 Years Old." Our fearless discussion leader will be registered nurse Amy Siefke, joining us June 3 at 10 a.m. to discuss the quirks of aging and floating cookies in a fish tank. Copies of the novel are still available, if you'd like to come in and grab one; it's yours to keep forever.

But before that, join us for the library's Third Annual Community Bike Event. If even two of you bring your bicycles and ride around with us, attendance will have doubled, and we will call it a success. Wheels up from the front door of the library at 10 a.m., to make a quick nearly-four-mile dash around town, and then again, should tired legs allow.

The past two years, we've been a most festive group, trailed by Piedmont's finest in blue, lights flashing while we ride and holler Howdy to everyone we see watching in wonder from their front porches. It's a miniature parade of happy people with too many handlebar bells and police in tow in case our rowdiness gets out of control. Bring your bike! Join us, please, you'll love it! (Don't worry that during the inaugural event, a novice rider fell while attempting to scale a local speed bump. No injuries except to his ego, and I believe he was holding a refreshing coffee, lost in the incident. Police were on hand to watch us appropriately -lovingly — mock while also assuring the rider he was unharmed and could continue the arduous four-mile trip. We still laugh; it's funny.)

Also, it is Community Outreach Month at the library! We kicked off our Tuesday Story Times with Fire Chief Andy Logan reading to the littlest Piedmontians.

Next Tuesday, May 16 at 10 a.m., Chief Scott Singer will be our guest reader. We hope for a big crowd, as the chief is retiring at the end of June and we hope lots of folks will come and show appreciation for his years of service to our little burg. May 23 brings City Manager Joshua Williams to the forefront. He'll be reading a fascinating tale sure to engage and delight everyone in attendance. (No idea which one, but they're all scintillating stories, you'll love it.) And rounding out our cavalcade of local notoriety is Community Development Director Julie Steele, eager to lead us on a bear hunt. (As of this writing, that is the preferred book title; no bears will be harmed in the hunt. We just aren't great hunters.)

Whew! We're also gearing up for a tremendously busy, entertaining summer. Be ready to read, because we have lots of prizes to award for all who participate in our summer reading extravaganza! I'm tired already.

Piedmont Public Library: welcoming the whole town to visit with our wonderful community leaders, learn their faces, know who to go to for help and bring them treats —librarians love chocolate, just sayin'-since 2003.

Piedmont schools puts out call for help with bus routes

By Traci Chapman Managing Editor

Piedmont Public Schools has a critical need for bus drivers, and Director of Transportation Josh Critchfield has found a new and different way of welcoming new members to the family.

That way is a May 20 event, "Donuts and Drivers," held from 9:30 a.m. to noon at the district bus barn at 802 NW 2nd Street in Piedmont.

"The idea is to give anyone interested the chance to come and experience the culture, have a cup of coffee with us," Critchfield said. "We want people to see that it's not a big scary school bus, it's really a great opportunity to do something great for the kids and our department is really a wonderful environment."

The district needs seven new bus drivers for the start of the 2023-24 school year, which starts in August. When searching for new drivers, it can sometimes be a challenge to recruit them in the same way many other staff members and teachers apply – via the district website.

"The people we're looking for – sometimes they are retired or semi-retired and they aren't as familiar with or care that much about technology, so it's not easy or convenient for them to apply online," Critchfield said. "We're also hoping that coming and meeting with us in person, asking questions and being able to talk about what it takes to become a bus driver will relieve any hesitation someone might have – and it also gives them a chance to see and get on a school bus."

Drivers are hired on a six-hour contract, which gives them eligibility for the same benefits teachers get – including retirement and healthcare. Hours may vary slightly but are generally 6-9 a.m. and 2-5 p.m. on days school is in session, Critchfield said.

Base pay for someone with no experience is 17 per hour, with increases based on experience. All district employees are paid once a month – for bus drivers the contract is for 173 days annually.

"Whatever they make annually gets broken into 12 equal payment," Critchfield said.

Most people who can drive a car can be a bus driver, the transportation director said.

"We provide all start to finish training inhouse and will work with everyone step-bystep," he said. "You don't need to have experience – we've had people who haven't driven a car for 30 years who are excellent bus drivers."

District personnel go to the state driving test with new hires and help walk them through the licensing process.

The need for drivers is especially significant this year because several bus drivers have retired or left the district; several teachers and coaches serve as bus drivers and some have left the district or have been reassigned, Critchfield said. There has also been significant growth in the PPS district, with large subdivisions cropping up, particularly near County Line Road, he said.

For more information about the Donuts and Drivers event, call the PPS transportation services office at (405) 373-2311; the office is open from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on all school days.

To apply for a position online, go to https://piedmont.tedk12.com/hire/ViewJob. aspx?JobID=22.

"We hope we get to meet a lot of people, get to know them and let them see what a great district and a great department we have," Critchfield said.

Ken and Karen Mc-Queen are two of Piedmont Public Schools' standout bus drivers. They are part of a valuable group of people who are desperately in need of more support, as several drivers prepare to retire, leave the district or are reassigned and unable to help keep the PPS fleet moving, administrators say.

GOLD RUSH

Humes racks up three first place finishes at state

By Blake Colston Sports Editor

YUKON - Piedmont's Dade Humes stayed within striking range in the 1600-meter run, waiting for the right moment to kick into high gear.

"I knew that I had a decent finish, but I knew the guys behind me could also finish really well," Humes said. "So, I told myself I had to go early if I wanted a chance of out-kicking them."

When Humes decided to accelerate on his final lap, no one could keep pace with the Wildcat junior.

By the time his push ended, Humes had opened up a wide enough lead to take a peek back at his nearest competition as he closed in on the finish line. As Humes crossed, he let out a roar of satisfaction in celebration of his third gold medal in two days at the Class 5A state track meet at 12 years, and these kids...I knew it was their year," said head coach Brad Brucker, who has been with PHS for all but one season since the program's inception in 2011. "It feels so amazing to know that all that hard work has paid off."

Brucker's message to his team during the lead-up to Friday night's game was that unity and resilience would be the key to beating a McGuinness squad that had won seven straight against PHS, including a 1-0 victory in last season's state title game.

As the game neared the 100-minute mark on a night when heat indices neared 95 degrees, Hahn embodied Piedmont's collective will-power to break its slump vs. the Irish with one final and decisive push.

"We've wanted this for so long. We deserved this win and I'm so proud of us," Hahn said.

Hahn put PHS in front in the 27th minute with a smooth finish off a well-placed set piece from Evelyn Sydnes. Bishop McGuinness surrendered only four goals this season and Hahn accounted for three of them.

"She showed her mettle tonight," Brucker said. "We could not be more proud of her and this whole group."

Though Hahn netted the gamewinner for the Lady Wildcats, PHS sophomore goalkeeper Hattie Morris saved the day more than once. Under constant attack from a relentless McGuinness offense throughout both halves and in overtime, Morris never flinched.

She made a diving save to prevent a goal in the first half and leaped high to deflect away another scoring opportunity for the Irish in the second. Even when Reese Roberts chipped home the equalizer for McGuinness in the 60th minute, Morris kept her cool.

"That was just a good shot. Kudos to them, but I knew I had to play my hardest," she said while fighting back tears. "I just really wanted to win."

When McGuinness had to have a goal in overtime, Morris proved to be unbeatable.

"Hattie had the game of her life and we don't win that game without her," Brucker said. "She was absolutely amazing. The diving save she made in the first half was the absolute best save I've seen in the women's game in 12 years."

Morris didn't play in last season's state championship game, but she took in the atmosphere on the sideline at Taft Stadium. That helped her to smooth out any pregame nerves on Friday night, she said.

"I got to experience it last year, so I had a feel for it and I felt like I was prepared," Morris said. "I was just ready to get after it."

She credited teammates Jacqueline Stovall, Fallyn Brock, Ali Daugherty, Brekyn Cope, Rylie Burnett, Braxtyn Turner, Brianna Butler and others for giving her the confidence to play her best game at the most important time.

"They were able to provide structure for me and they were able to get the ball out when I needed them to get it out," she said.

Morris was on the opposite end of the field for Hahn's game-winner but was able to see her break free.

"I was thinking go Jordan, go Jordan, go Jordan," Morris said.

Droves of Piedmont fans made the trek to Newcastle Friday evening. The visiting side stands overflowed with blue and yellowclad supporters. Hundreds more PHS backers lined a chain link fence that ran from one end of the field to the other.

'I'd love to tell every one of them thank you personally," coach Brucker said. "Tonight doesn't happen without their support."

Soccer 'I believe we're the better team'

Season-ending loss tough to accept for Wildcats soccer team

By Blake Colston Sports Editor

A few days after Piedmont's seasonending loss to Bishop McGuinness, first-year head soccer coach Thomas Sedgwick still hadn't moved past the 1-0 setback.

"I believe we're

the better team," Sedgwick said when reached by telephone. "I think they're a good team, but I believe we should've come away with the result in our favor."

McGuinness put home the decisive goal with 15 minutes remaining in regulation, and in a low-scoring defensive battle, there wasn't enough time left for Piedmont to create the equalizer.

"Whoever scored first was going to win," Sedgwick opined.

Still, the Wildcats put on a ferocious charge down the stretch in search of a tying goal, but Mc-Guinness walled up and kept the 'Cats' hopes from materializing.

"The momentum had completely shifted by then," Sedgwick said. "We never stopped believing in ourselves and we had chances, but it wasn't to the point it was one-on-one or an open goal or anything like that."

Piedmont controlled possession and had the majority of quality scoring opportunities in the first half, Sedgwick said, but PHS came up empty.

"We were dominating the game. We were putting pressure on them and had three or four chances to go ahead," he said. "But we couldn't stick the ball in the back of the net."

Keeper Jay Brinsfield added a clutch save on a penalty kick attempt from the Irish in the first half. McGuinness also had a goal disallowed because of a handball call.

"We told the boys at half that luck was on our side and that we had to turn it into a physical goal," Sedgwick said.

It wasn't meant to be, though. Late in the second half, McGuinness got loose on the wing and fired a shot that beat Brinsfield to the far corner.

Yukon High School.

Humes' final time of 4:27.20 was more than a full second in front of runner-up Carson Burd from Lawton MacArthur.

He also took first in the 3200 and was the third leg on the Wildcats' state championship 4-by-800 relay squad that included Kanyon Cobbs, Reese Fricke and Riley Pauley.

Claire Collins pulls in front of Tahlequah's McKenna Hood during the 1600-meter run.

"That was my job to come in and get points for the team," Humes said. "I'm just glad I executed, and that God gave me a healthy body to do that."

Thanks to Humes' huge weekend, the Wildcats went into the final event of the day – which began almost two hours late due to a weather delay – with a mathematical chance to defend their 2022 state title.

In the end, Coweta held off Piedmont for the state championship. PHS finished third behind the Tigers and runner-up Ada.

"I knew it was going to be an uphill climb," head coach Kelly Beck said. "To be this close at the end is more than I thought might be possible."

COLLINS SHINES

Beck lights up when given a chance to talk about freshman distance runner Claire Collins, and it's easy to see why.

Collins finished runner-up in the 3200 and 1600-meter runs in her first varsity season. Sophomore Lily Scheck was third in the 3200 despite battling through a quad injury.

"In cross country season, they're going to be an amazing duo," Beck said. "When we go into 6A, we can compete for a state title because we have girls like that."

Collins on Saturday set a new personal-best time of 5:16.22 in the 1600.

RECORDS ARE MADE TO BE BROKEN

Cobbs' first event on Saturday was his best all weekend. He broke Piedmont's school record in the 800-meter run with a time of 1:55.03, good for third overall. Fricke took fifth.

Fricke, Cobbs, Blue Ayers and Mikah Rocco waited out a weather delay before turning in a superb performance in the 4-by-400 relay. The foursome broke the school record by three seconds (3:22) while finishing fourth overall. Those points propelled PHS from fifth to third in the team standings.

BURNETT STAYS BUSY

Rylie Burnett's schedule was rather hectic over the weekend. The sophomore on Friday took part in the state track meet during the day, then later that evening traveled to Newcastle to play for Piedmont in the state championship soccer game.

After playing more than 90 minutes in a game and postgame celebration that ended near midnight, Burnett was back in Yukon again on Saturday for the conclusion of the track meet. She qualified for state in the 100-meter dash, the 200-meter dash, the 4-by-200 relay, and the 4-by-100 relay.

Burnett is also a starter for the PHS basketball team.

Grove upsets Piedmont in state quarterfinals

By Blake Colston Sports Editor

JENKS — Piedmont's baseball team had big plans for its fourth consecutive trip to the state tournament, but they were cut short last Thursday.

Grove starting pitcher James Wise pitched a complete game shutout as the Ridgerunners upset the Wildcats, 2-0, in a Class 5A quarterfinal played at Jenks High School's Hinch Field.

Caden Gain provided the game-winning one-out, two-RBI-double in the fifth inning for Grove, which won for the 13th time in 14 tries.

It was an abrupt and surprising end to an otherwise storybook season for PHS, which finished as district and regional champions with a record of 28-10.

"I really liked our odds going into it. I didn't have anything prepared to say to the guys because I didn't expect to lose in the first round," Piedmont head coach Adam Skokowski said. "But, it's the state tournament. No matter what state tournament it is, in any class, when you get here any team can beat you at any time. I'm proud of these guys and what they've done."

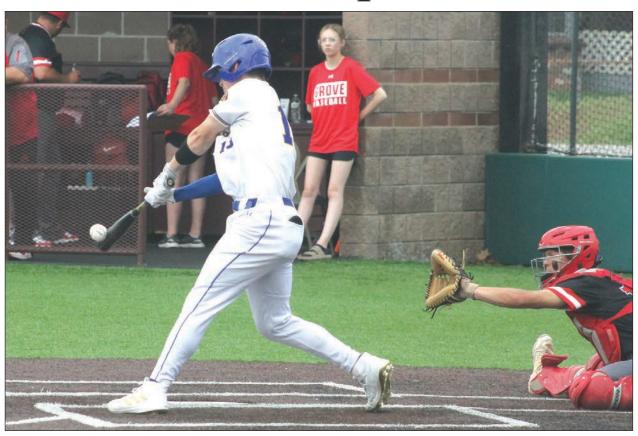

Wise pitched seven innings with seven strikeouts and three walks while scattering four hits as the senior southpaw handed Piedmont its first quarterfinal-round loss since a 4-2 defeat to Pryor in 2019. Wise's fastball topped out in the high 80s and he also mixed in a slider, but Skokowski estimated that 80% of Wise's pitches were fastballs.

"He tried to make us prove we could hit his fastball and we didn't. He had a helluva outing," Skokowski said.

"He's got some arm-side run. The ball moved a lot and he pounded the inside corner. He throws from a low arm slot and from the angle it looks like it's coming at you, and it peels back over the plate."

Piedmont starter Jakeb Koop went toe-totoe with Wise for six innings. The senior righty struck out nine batters and allowed only three hits and two earned runs while lowering his career ERA at the state tournament to 1.98.

"Koop threw lights out and that's twice for him in the state tournament, because he closed up shop on Sapulpa in the semifinals last season," Skokowksi said. "They got a big hit with runners on base. He was nails other than that."

The Wildcats had multiple chances to take the lead. In its first at-bag, PHS stranded a runner on second base and in the third inning, back-to-back singles from Luke Hill and Nicholas Elmhorst went to waste.

Down to their final three outs, the Wildcats loaded the bases with a pair of walks and a hitby-pitch, but Wise got a called strike three to seal the upset.

"We get one big hit right there and it's a gamechanger," Skokowski said. "It came down to clutch hitting and it just wasn't our day."

Weston Thomas and Jackson Harriger each singled and finished 1 for 4 on the day. Thomas also pitched one scoreless inning in relief of Koop.

Looking ahead, Piedmont will lose some key pieces from this team. Starting pitchers Jackson Califano and Koop, as well as catcher Jackson Harriger, graduate. Leading hitter Noah Smith and starting infielders Cole Girard and Logan Hill must also must be replaced.

Fort Reno DAR members beautify historic facilities

Work part of chapter's 'Project 250'

By Traci Chapman Managing Editor

Fort Reno Daughters of the American Revolution have a special bond with the place that is their namesake - Historic Fort Reno – and most recently they showed their dedication to the place with beautification efforts of its visitors center and museum.

That work came as part of the DAR chapter's "250 Project," designed to commemorate the United States' 250th birthday.

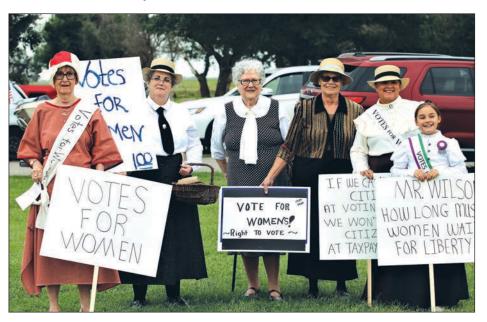

"This was the second event of the ladies working at the museum, which they're doing on a quarterly basis," Historic Fort Reno President Deb Kauffman said. "We are so thankful for everything they do."

On hand for the April 25 cleaning and beautification project were DAR members Leslie Dietrich, Paula Harman, Brenda Brazell and Nancy Seaton, Kauffman said.

"We love Fort Reno and are always happy to be part of keeping it accessible and beautiful for visitors," said Dietrich, honorary regent of the Fort Reno DAR chapter. "The history represented by this fort is immeasurable."

The four women and other DAR members - both present and past - have had a strong connection to the historic fort. The group annually lays wreaths at the graves of

County jail body scanner catches felon with dope

Inmate allegedly brought drugs to County lock-up

By Conrad Dudderar Staff Writer

EL RENO — A felon may be heading back to prison for allegedly trying to hide drugs inside her body while being booked into the Canadian County jail. Del City's Tessie Lynn Danker, 38, was formally charged April 18 in Canadian County District Court for bringing contraband into jail and driving with a suspended license. Assistant District Attorney Rebecca Boyer alleges Danker on Feb. 19 brought methamphetamine and a smoking pipe into the Canadian County Tessie Lynn Jail, 301 N Evans. Danker The contraband

Although filming of "Twisters" was delayed for El Reno's Jenks Simmons Field House, Hollywood did head to Okarche last week for filming of the highly anticipated sequel to 1996's "Twister." Filming last week centered around and at the old Griesel Ford building just south of Okarche and caused traffic headaches for commuters between Okarche and El Reno. (Photos courtesy)

he storm will have to wait, at least for a bit. Plans to start filming Twisters in El Reno – and in particular Jenks Simmons Field House - were pushed back a bit until dates can be found that don't conflict with other already scheduled activities.

El Reno City Councilwoman Amy Neathery requested a permit that would allow Universal Studios to begin production here be tabled until a May 23 special council meeting. She said El Reno Public Schools had a conflict with the timing of the planned film production. Council agreed to delay the request until the upcoming special meeting.

El Reno School Superintendent Matt Goucher said on Wednesday, the district had received a request for two dates the production company wanted to film at the Jenks Simmons Annex. He said after reviewing the request, it was realized the Annex had already been booked for those dates.

"It stays pretty full the entire summer," Goucher said, referring to Jenks Simmons. He said basketball, wrestling camps and other activities use the field house during summer months.

Goucher said there is "no problem" with the production company using Jenks Simmons, it just needs to happen when other activities have not already been scheduled there.

Neathery said she was certain dates could be found to accommodate the filmmakers.

And from the sounds of it, Twister 2 is going to be a major film production.

Steve Maddox of the El Reno Film Commission told the council the production will be one of the "top movies of 2024." He said the Centre Theatre as well as the downtown area are "why the movie is being made here and not in Georgia."

Maddox said a crew of more than 500 people will be coming and going during the production, expected to last in El Reno for some three weeks.

Maddox said El Reno will reap "major" attention from the movie. He said producers plan to keep the name El Reno in the movie and will build another was allegedly discovered when the inmate entered the new body scanning machine in the county jail's receiving area.

Allegations against the defendant are detailed in a probable cause affidavit signed by Canadian County Sheriff's deputy Leonard Anderson.

Anderson arrested Danker at about 1:49 a.m. Feb. 19 for driving with a suspended license on Ranch Road just north of S.W. 22nd. He pulled her over driving a pickup that he observed failed veterans buried in the Fort Reno Cemetery; they regularly assist with special events, like the upcoming Memorial Day service, set this year for May 29.

The group also in 2016 designed and bequeathed the fort with a special bench honoring veterans of - and those lost in – the Vietnam War.

The national DAR was founded in October 1890. The organization's objectives are historical, educational and patriotic; the now more than 1 million member nonprofit works to promote historic preservation, fund scholarships and provide donations to several institutions of higher learning across the country and volunteer for everything from U.S. Veterans Administration facilities to conducting programs about the Constitution and assisting in naturalization ceremonies and more.

trolley car. "They want to tip it over."

Maddox said he is hopeful Universal will agree to leave the "movie trolley" here so it can become a tourism attraction.

Maddox said downtown El Reno will be featured in the final scene of the movie, or what he described as "the hero scene." He said the scene will "blow your mind."

Mayor Steve Jensen said the timing of Twister 2 comes at an opportune time. Jensen said with the film scheduled to be released in 2024, it will give El Reno great exposure ahead of the 2026 centennial celebration of Route 66.

Jensen said at a recent gathering of Route 66 communities in Arcadia, Lt. Gov. Matt Pinnell said the state plans to spend "$30 million" over the next five years to help make improvements along the historic highway.

"That's going to be $6 million a year for the next five years," Jensen said.

He said the state wants to invest in attractions that can help attract visitors during the centennial year and beyond.

to maintain its lane while crossing the Caddo Jake Bridge, Anderson stated in his affidavit.

The deputy learned Danker had previously been charged with driving under suspension in April 2005 in Lincoln County and in January 2017 in Oklahoma County. He also found her insurance policy was expired.

The vehicle was impounded.

Anderson transported Danker to the Canadian County Jail, where she told Capt. Austin Moore and the deputy that she did not have any contraband and was not using any illegal drugs.

"When we arrived at the jail, Tessie was changed out of her street clothes and into the Canadian County Jail inmate uniform by a female detention officer," according to deputy Anderson's affidavit.

"Detention staff then conducted a full body scan of Tessie using the body scan machine. Detention staff advised that on the scan monitor, it was shown that Tessie had what they believed to be contraband located inside her person/pelvic area."

Danker then retrieved the contraband from her pelvic area and it was placed in an evidence bag.

HALF A GRAM AND A PIPE

Deputy Anderson asked Danker why she did not tell him about the contraband, and she reportedly replied that she was scared.

She admitted having half of a gram of meth and the pipe, according to the court affidavit.

Bringing contraband into a jail is a felony punishable by one to five years in state prison and/ or a $100-$1,000 fine. Driving with a suspended license is a misdemeanor punishable by up to one year in jail and/or a $200-$750 fine.

Danker was released from custody Feb. 20 on bonds totaling $3,500, district court records show.

The defendant's previous felony convictions in Oklahoma and Lincoln counties for distribution of controlled dangerous substances and possession of controlled substances led to her serving in state prison between 2015 and 2019, state Department of Corrections records show.

Two drug trafficking cases against Danker are pending in Oklahoma County.

Canadian County detention officers since late October 2022 have been using a Tek 84 full-body scanner to catch inmates trying to conceal drugs, weapons and other contraband before they enter the county lock-up.

Canadian County commissioners approved the $147,000 purchase in April 2022.

That action was prompted after several inmates attacked fellow prisoners using hand-fashioned weapons, one inmate set fire inside a cell and another snuck a cell phone inside the jail.

Detention Capt. Moore called the body scanner a "great tool – a great deterrent.

"Every jail is going to have that issue of contraband," he said. "Any tool we can come up with to try to limit that as much as possible is always going to benefit the safety and security of the jail staff and the public."

State, local agencies advocate Mental Health Awareness Month

May is Mental Health Awareness Month, a time to come together as a community to shift from stigma associated with mental health issues, raise awareness of resources available for those dealing with mental health issues and to start conversations encouraging those in need to seek support and treatment.

"Mental Health Awareness Month provides an opportunity for all members of the community to work together to promote mental health awareness throughout Oklahoma," Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services Commissioner Carrie Slatton-Hodges said. "Together we can create a culture where mental health is prioritized and resources are readily available for those in need allowing them to live healthy, fulfilling lives."

Each year, nearly 300,000 Oklahomans report having a substance abuse disorder. Additionally, approximately 300 Oklahomans are admitted for urgent care or crisis mental health services.

In the past year, 4.1% of adults in Oklahoma had serious thoughts of suicide, with one in 10 students reporting attempting suicide in the past 12 months — mental illness adversely affects thought processes, relationships, productivity and ability to adapt to change or face adversity. Early identification and treatment can make a profound difference in the successful management of mental illness and inspire recovery.

That's why the 988 Oklahoma Mental Health Lifeline is so crucial, officials said.

The 988 Mental Health Lifeline is designated as a three-digit number for the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline. The 988 Mental Health Lifeline operates 24/7 and offers services for mental health crisis calls.

Operators are licensed and certified health crisis specialists who answer calls, connect to and dispatch local services and mobile crisis teams.

The Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services (ODMHSAS) believes Oklahomans deserve to have mental health and addiction services within reach without fear of judgement and shame.

As part of the Mental Health Awareness Month initiative, communities across Oklahoma are partnering with ODMHSAS to promote the 988 Oklahoma Mental Health Lifeline, a free and confidential service that provides immediate support for those experiencing a mental health need, all starting with a simple call or text.

Since its launch, 988 has received an average of more than 3,500 calls and texts per month. "Seeing this many people utilizing 988 to reach out for help in times of need provides hope for the future of our community," Slatton-Hodges said. "Oklahoma is regarded as an industry innovator and is leading the nation's launch of the 988 Mental Health Lifeline, creating the most comprehensive crisis response continuum in the nation that leverages technology and alternative to law enforcement. This is something we all should be proud to claim."

Throughout the month of May, the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services and 988 will share re-

In the past year, 4.1% of adult Oklahomans have had serious thoughts of suicide. One in 10 students have reported attempting suicide in the last 12 months sources and information related to mental health on its website and through social media channels. El Reno city hall to implement summer hours, could become permanent

By Ray Dyer rdyer@elrenotribune.com

The El Reno City Council moved forward on a number of projects at last week's regular monthly meeting and agreed to alter the office hours at City Hall over the summer.

The new summer hours will be Monday through Thursday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. On Friday, offices will open at 7:30 and will close at 11:30 a.m. City Manager Matt Sandidge said the new hours will take effect May 30 and will run to Labor Day. He said a number of municipal governments have gone to this format and are finding success with it, including Mustang. The new times are considered a "trial," but if the system works, it could be adopted after Labor Day, Sandidge said. Hours have normally been 8:30 to noon, with offices closed for lunch until 1 p.m., with closing time set at 5 p.m. The new format will actually extend office hours as City Hall opens earlier, remains open over lunch and does not close until 5:30. Council also agreed to wrap up the COVID Response Project, approving a resolution supporting how the federal funds were administered.

Millie Vance, who for years has worked with the city on Community Development Block Grants, praised the efforts of the city in working with local nonprofits to help acquire equipment that mostly supported helping to feed people, including Blessing Baskets, The Lord's Harvest and the Community Action Agency. The CAA helped people with rental and utility assistance parks for the more than $600,000 project. The contract is turnkey and comes with a 25-year warranty.

The company, Musco Lighting, has installed lighting in Oklahoma for entities such as the Bricktown Ballpark and Oklahoma State University. Funding for the project is coming from the royalty fund produced through mineral leases.

This pharmacy is independently owned and operated under a license from Health Mart Systems, Inc. during the pandemic.

The Lord's Harvest and Blessing Baskets were able to acquire a truck and several freezers to help feed people during the COVID pandemic. Vance said more than 19,000 meals were served by the organizations during the COVID response and CAA helped some 380 households at the same time.

"I'm from Ardmore and we don't have this kind of nonprofit effort," Vance said, referring to Blessing Baskets and The Lord's Harvest.

The projects acted on include:

• New LED lights for the Ashbrook Sports Complex. Council agreed to contract with an Iowa-based company that specializes in ball-

Sandidge said the current lights are not adequate and it's difficult because of the age of the system to find replacement parts.

• A contract with Lone Hickory Cattle for waterline work at SH 66 and U.S. 81. The $760,465 contract is part of the construction for the roundabout that will be built there. Sandidge said financing is from the Oklahoma Department of Transportation in the form of a 10-year, 0 percent interest loan.

Jeannie has lived in Piedmont for 14 years and has been married to Billy Roberts for 22 years and they have two children, Brady (17), who is a Senior and a wrestler at Piedmont High School and Josie (12) who is a seventh grader at the Middle School of Piedmont and plays school and club volleyball. The Roberts family lives in Northwood Lake Estates and when they are not at a kid's sporting event or a community event, they take every opportunity to get out on the water with their family and friends to play, relax, and build memories.
