Tenants of Coffeville Village Apartments, Eastside Terrace Apartments to be given six months to one year to find other housing, apartment owner says

> BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

COFFEYVILLE — Efforts are underway to assist tenants at a pair of east Coffeyville apartment complexes to locate new housing, Coffeyville city commissioners learned last week.

Speaking at the commission meeting on Sept. 22, Chris Hodges, who owns the Coffevville Village Apartments and Eastside Terrace Apartments, announced that an unnamed buyer is planning to acquire the two complexes. That means tenants within 50 units of the Coffeyville Village Apartments will have to relocate, as will tenants in the Eastside Terrace Apartments, which are formerly known as the Cleveland Apartments.

Hodges said he will retain ownership of 40 other units at

Because the sale of the properties remains under negotiation, Hodges could not divulge the name of the interested buyer or the plans for the properties.

However, he said that he visited with tenants at both complexes about locating other housing arrangements. Because Coffeyville Village Apartment and Eastside Terrace Apartments are subsidized through a pair of a federal housing programs through the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture Rural Development, many of the tenants will be able to receive vouchers to use at new locations, not only in Coffeyville but also other subsidized housing develop-

Additionally, Hodges said federal law requires the subsidy programs to remain allocated in the community even after certain housing units are no longer available.

"Both agencies (HUD and the U.S. Department of Agriculture Rural Development) take very seriously the idea of displacing any resident," he said. "This is a good thing for Coffeyville because it empowers the tenants to move to a location within the community that is more conducive to the kind of residential envi-

Hodges also said an existing housing development, whose name he did not reveal, was working with him to assume many of the tenants that will be displaced from 50 units of the Coffeyville Village Apartments and the Eastside Terrace Apartments.

He said that by retaining 40 other units of the Coffeyville Village Apartments, he will assist in relocating displaced tenants to that location. Hodges said he conferred with tenants over the past several weeks after rumors swirled throughout the neighborhood of evictions and forced moves. He said those • see APARTMENTS, page A3

PLANS DISCUSSED FOR MODIFIED ENTRANCE AT CANEY GRADE SCHOOL

Higher construction prices could delay school's entrance project

BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

CANEY — Fear about rising costs of construction materials and disruptions to supply chains have caused the USD 436 Board of Education to reconsider - at least temporarily - modifications to the main entrance at Lincoln Memorial Elementary School.

At a planning retreat on Monday at the elementary school, board members, school principals and Superintendent Blake Vargas talked about anticipated improvements to the local school campus, with a modified entrance at Lincoln School remaining a high priority.

However, Vargas said a quick examination of construction materials during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic has revealed inflated prices. The costs of steel and lumber, as well as many other construction components, have almost doubled during the pandemic. Additionally, supply chains have been disrupted internationally, causing vendors to delay the receiving and shipment of their materials, he said. Vargas said modifying the school's main entrance to incorporate all foot traffic through the main office should remain a priority . . . but perhaps at a time when construction costs return to lower levels.

In the meantime, Vargas and the board pursued plans for the modified entrance. On Monday, they examined the east entrance facing First Street, which serves as the main entrance and will continue to be the primary entry point into the school after the modifications to the entrance are made.

Vargas presented several architectural renderings from EMIG and Hauff Associates Architects of Emporia showing various entrance options. Each option has all traffic entering the building flowing through the main office for enhanced security purposes. Additionally, the existing offices will be reconfigured somewhat to accommodate a modified entrance. Board members also discussed the most pressing classroom needs at Lincoln. Cameron Traxson. Lincoln principal, said the school's preschool class is now located in the largest classroom in the building. However, with 34 total students in the preschool broken into two shifts (18 in the morning, 16 in the afternoon) each day, the classroom is filled beyond capacity.

The preschool room is located in a classroom that is less than 900 square feet. More current trends indicate that a preschool should have at least 1,200 square feet, said Vargas.

Additional concerns within Lincoln involve storage - or the lack of it. Traxson said classrooms of the 21st century have more items and more resources, which take up space either on the floor or on shelves and closets. He said classroom teachers do their best to keep their resources contained within their rooms, but there are many resources that have to be stored elsewhere in the building.

Board members and school administration toured the school's playground areas and discussed concerns about the need for more protective materials under swing sets, slides and other playground features. At Caney Valley Jr.-Sr. High School, the most pressing need appears to be an expanded vocational agricultural facility. Plans have been envisioned for constructing a new vocational agriculture facility on the east parking lot of the schools campus. Members • see LINCOLN SCHOOL, page A3 to be sold at the Montgomery County Sheriff's Sales are listed.

The listing of tax sale properties can be found on pages B2-B6.

The tax sale will be held at 9:30 a.m., Friday, Nov. 20 at the Independence Civic Center.

Paul Kritz, county counselor, said the properties are placed for public auction due to tax foreclosure. This occurs when a property owner fails to pay the property taxes for three or more years on any parcel of property.

Each listing contains the total tax costs and interest owed by the delinquent property owner. The owner can "redeem" a property by paying the amount owed, including interest, by no later than the day before the tax sale. However, the bid at the sale does not have to reach that level in order to be sold, Kritz said.

Special assessments, which are fees attached to a property by a local government, are still subject to be paid by the purchaser of the properties. Kritz advised all potential buyers to do their homework to see if any special assessments or nuisance fees are attached to a property at the time of the tax sale.

Courthouse bell no longer tolls but reveals interesting history

BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

INDEPENDENCE — A Montgomery County Chronicle reader recently asked, "What is the deal with the bell on the north side of the Montgomery County Courthouse? Does it still work?'

So, with the force of a gong that reverberates with deep resonances from any bell, we found some answers.

And, it didn't take long to find results.

The bell itself is inscribed with the date of its forging at the McShane Bell Foundry of Baltimore, Md. The date: July 1890.

The bell sits on a cradle that also was forged from the McShane Foundry. A slight nudge of the bell on its perch indicates that it is capable of movement. However, years of sedated silence have obviously caused the bell to "settle" in its present state of stagnation.

With a July 1890 date in hand, we narrowed our sleuthing to newspaper pages from the summer of 1890 to find out more about the bell.

The Montgomery County Courthouse that was completed in December 1887 included a large cupola that was designed to hold a clock and a bell. As a gift to Montgomery County, the City of Independence decided to purchase a clock works and bell for placement in the new courthouse in 1890. The cost: $5,000. Included in that price were construction of new sidewalks and a stone wall to surround the courthouse property.

Newspapers from that era indicate that the Independence town fathers believed the bell would benefit the town as it would serve as a sound for the start of local schools each morning. It also would serve as the town clock, where its high perch could be seen from many people in the downtown Independence business district.

County commissioners signed a contract with S.O Ebersole in July 1890 for construction of the bell's rigging, as well as • see BELL, page A3

"Katy," as she was known to those closest to her, was born on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1952 in Caney to Earl and Betty McReynolds. Norma went to Caney schools, graduating from Caney Valley High School in 1970. After high school, she attended Coffeyville Community Junior College.

COVID-19 UPDATE

County official says transmission has hit saturation level

ICC faces elevated numbers in past week; Independence, Coffeyville schools also post positive cases

BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

INDEPENDENCE — Escalating cases of COVID-19 in the past week have caused Independence Community College to continue its "study-inplace" program for students.

Vincent Bowhay, ICC's vice president of student affairs, confirmed Monday that the campus has seen an elevated caseload in the past week. After one student was diagnosed as being positive for COVID-19 on Sept. 16, other testing followed after multiple students may have been exposed to that one case. That led to the mission as being "saturated." Rick Whitson, Montgomery County emergency management director, told the Montgomery County Chronicle that the rising numbers of positive COVID-19 in the past several weeks have now reached a state of "community spread," meaning it is capable of transmission in most settings. Schools are being the most affected, not just in terms of positive cases but also in the sheer volume of quarantined people who may have come into contact with a positive COVID-19 carrier. "The numbers are growing rapidly," he said, adding that he has appealed to the Kansas Division of Emergency Management and Kansas Department of Health and Environment to assist Montgomery County with contact tracing.

As of Monday, Whitson reported 99 active cases and more than 400 quarantined individuals. Meanwhile, total COVID-19 caseload (past and current) has now surpassed the 400 level, with 426 total cases and six deaths being reported.

ry Hines and Floyd Watson, all of Caney.

A memorial celebration of her life was held at the Wark Memorial Park shelter house in Caney on Saturday, Sept. 12, 2020, with her high school classmate, David Fuqua, officiating.

The family requests that donations be made in Norma's memory to the American Diabetes Association and The Journey Home hospice house.

Dr. Terry "Bryson" Read

INDEPENDENCE — Dr. Terry "Bryson" Read, age 71, passed away peacefully early in the morning of Friday, Sept. 25, 2020, at Montgomery Place in Independence.

Born in Odessa, Texas, the son of Edith Karon (Terry) and Bryson Earl Read, Bryson graduated from Odessa High School and North Texas State University before entering dental school at the University of Texas School of Dentistry at Houston.

Following graduation in 1978, he joined the private dental practice of Dr. Dale Devore, a partnership that lasted until Dr. Devore's retirement in 1985. Dr. Read continued as the sole practitioner of the private dental practice for 18 years, selling the practice in 2003.

In 1974, Bryson married Lela Elaine (Laney) Beidleman. Together they had two children, Timothy Bryson and Robert Henry. After a lengthy battle with cancer, Laney passed away in 2000.

In 2002, Bryson married Suzanne Day Woods. In 2003, he sold the practice and relocated to Colorado Springs, Colo., where he practiced dentistry until 2010 when he and Suzanne moved to Bartlesville, Okla. His association with dentistry continued as he volunteered at the Green County Free Dental Clinic in Bartlesville.

In 2016, they returned to Independence, where Bryson again became active in his beloved Rotary Club International. He had previously served as president of the Independence chapter and had been an active member of the Downtown Rotary Club of Colorado Springs.

Bryson was an active member of the Independence community, serving on the Independence Recreation Commission Board, being a member of both the Independence Chamber of Commerce and the inaugural Leadership Independence Class. He was a retired member of both the Kansas and Colorado Dental Associations as well as being a Life Member of the American Dental Association.

Dr. Read enjoyed few things more than his family and friends, dog Maddie, practicing dentistry, music, travel, KU basketball, the Bus Ministry at the First United Methodist Church, and coaching, watching or playing any level of baseball and softball.

He was dedicated to taking the best possible care of each of his patients. He was competitive in every aspect of his life but also quick with a smile. Dr. Read was best known for being a gentleman, and was kind, considerate and sweet. He was quick to care, hesitant to anger, and never one to turn down an opportunity to make a joke or laugh (even though he would often repeat the same joke ad nauseam).

Dr. Read was preceded in death by his father, Bryson "Cuz" Earl Read, mother Edith "Kay" Read, his first wife Lela "Laney" Elaine Read, and his sister Sally Kay Read's partner, Donna Sessions.

He leaves behind his wife Suzanne, of the home; his sister Sally Kay Read of Lake Kiowa, Texas; sons Tim and his wife Jamie of Tulsa, Okla., Rob and his wife Jenny of Dallas, Texas, Mark Woods and his wife Kathy of Independence; and a daughter, Kara Woods Henschel and her husband David of Manhattan Beach, Calif.

Also surviving are grandchildren Gavin Bryson Read and Addyson Angel-Read, Cooper Lane Read, Dutch Inclan, Tommy and Kyle Woods, and Ben and Aaron Henschel.

We are grateful for the support and care Bryson received from Eagle Estates, Montgomery Place and Harry Hines Hospice. niece, Nikki; and many other cousins and relatives.

Donnie was everyone's best friend and he had many of them as he made friends freely and completely.

Donnie had a varied working career as a correctional officer and driving semi-trucks, but his passion was firefighting/first response. He loved talking about his firefighting experiences and had most recently been a volunteer with the Edna Fire Department. Donnie was a member of the American Legion Riders Post #20 and participated in all events so he could show appreciation to veterans and their families.

He lived life to the fullest. This year he accomplished one of his life-long dreams: riding to and experiencing the Sturgis Motorcycle Rally. He was a fun-loving person and truly a kid at heart! He was called home sooner than expected, but he is now with his mother in her arms again.

Cremation has taken place by Complete Cremations of Harrisonville, Mo. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to James R. Bullock, P O Box 192, Altamont, KS 67330 to help with Donnie's final expenses.

An escort for his memorial service will begin at the Labette County High School parking lot at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 10, 2020. The ride will go east from Altamont, to Parsons via Highway 59, then Highway 400 west to Highway 169, south to Cherryvale to the north Liberty Street entrance where a stop will be made to "flag up" and proceed to the Cherryvale Community Center. Fire departments are invited to stage on the byroad at the Liberty Street entrance at Cherryvale. All are welcome to take part in the procession.

Celebration of Life Service will be held at the Cherryvale Community Center (former National Guard Armory), 712 South Liberty Street, Cherryvale, beginning at 2 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 10.

Daniel Paul Henisey

INDEPEPNDENCE — Daniel "Danny" Paul Henisey, age 80, died Monday, Sept. 28, 2020 at Ascension St. John's Hospital in Tulsa, Okla., after suffering a stroke.

A celebration of life service will be held at 11 a.m., Monday, Oct. 5 at the Zion Lutheran Church.

Visitation will be held from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 4 at Potts Chapel of Independence.

Danny was born in Coffeyville on Jan. 14, 1940 to Virgil Paul and Ethel Mabel (Temple) Henisey. On April 16, 1963, he married Sally Miller and they had one daughter, Lauri Ann. They later divorced.

He was then a single father to his daughter in the 1970s and 1980s, and coached her fast pitch softball team and her senior girls fast pitch traveling teams. He also coached her basketball teams and brought home first place trophies; the girls he coached thought he was the best coach ever.

In February 1985, Danny went on a blind date arranged by his good friends, Fred and Sharon Muller, and he and Catherine (Cathey) Stone eventually married on May 20, 1989.

He held various jobs in his life and then settled in at Universal Cement Plant in Independence and retired there in 1994. After retirement and moving to Coffeyville, he started driving a truck for Muller Construction; he had been a part of the Muller family since high school and had supported their family as if they were his own. Fred and Sharon Muller were his best friends and he was Fred's best man at his wedding while Fred was Danny's best man at his wedding.

Danny was an outdoorsman all his life; he loved to hunt deer, pheasant and quail. He participated in shooting sports and was a life-time member of the Independence Gun Club. He was also an avid Nascar and football fan. As a teenager, he rode bulls and horses and loved to watch PBR bull riding.

Danny was a people person and never knew a stranger. He had a magnetic personality and his smile made everyone a little happier. He could be very ornery but in a good way. He liked to make up silly songs for the grandkids and they were discovery of eight more cases, all of which were asymptomatic, by Sept. 20 and brought the total to nine confirmed cases.

The ICC administration decided on Sept. 20 to close inclass instruction and go to a virtual instruction. Social interaction on campus also was limited, Bowhay said.

On Tuesday, Sept. 22, ICC responded to concerns about the coronavirus and offered universal testing opportunities to any student, faculty, or staff member that wanted one. The testing was made available through ICC's partnership with Labette Health. These tests identified 31 additional cases. An employee also tested positive at this time with their primary healthcare provider. These positive cases brought the ICC total to 42, with eight staff members and 34 students self-isolating.

"Our quick response helped us to identify those who needed care and put measures in place to protect healthy individuals," said Bowhay. "We take the health and safety of all employees and students very seriously and we will continue to be transparent as we work together to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic. The college has been decisive in putting measures in place that protect our community and provide support to those who need it. As a college, we have invested resources to be able to provide free testing, implemented telehealth services for all members of the ICC community and chose to reduce our operations through Oct 6."

The announcement of a higher caseload on the ICC campus comes on the same day when Montgomery County's chief emergency official labeled the COVID-19 transFor the sake of comparison, the total caseload in Montgomery County one week ago (Sept. 21) was 365 with five deaths and 73 active cases. Montgomery County began the month of September (Sept. 1) with 257 total cases, 71 of which were active at that point.

Asked if he is seeing any new trends regarding the COVID-19 symptoms, Whitson said he believes the coronavirus may have mutated into a new strain, with the most prevalent symptoms now being mild flu-like conditions or mild sinus allergy conditions.

Statewide, the Kansas Department of Health and Environment reported today (Monday) 2,037 additional positive cases and five additional deaths since last Friday. The total statewide COVID-19 caseload is 58,629 with 637 deaths. Hospitalizations are now at 2,852.

Also on Monday, USD 446 in Independence announced yet another positive case involving a staff member at Eisenhower Elementary School. It marks the second time in as many weeks that an Eisenhower Elementary School staff member has tested positive for COVID-19.

In Coffeyville, school administrators closed the Dr. Jerry Hamm Early Learning Center and moved classes to remote learning after several staff members contracted COVID-19, said Dr. Craig Correll, USD 445 superintendent.

Corell said he anticipated the center to remain in its remote learning mode through next Thursday, Oct. 8.

Graveside services under the direction of Webb & Rodrick Chapel & Crematory were Tuesday, Sept. 29 at Mount Hope Cemetery in Independence.

In lieu of flowers, a charitable donation in the name of Dr. Bryson Read can be made to: First United Methodist Church of Independence, 200 S. Penn Ave., Independence, KS 67301; Independence Recreation Commission, 1501 North 10th Street, Independence, KS 67301.

Independence voters to decide sales tax question

At general election, City's 1.0% special use sales tax to be considered for 10-year renewal

BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

INDEPENDENCE — When Independence city voters cast their ballots in the upcoming general election, they will also decide the fate of a sales tax renewal propos-

On the ballot will be a special question that asks Independence residents whether to renew a 1.0 percent sales tax for special uses. The current special use sales tax for various improvements to City facilities will expire in October 2022; renewal of the sales tax question will allow that current 1.0 percent sales tax to continue for an additional 10 years.

By renewing the existing special use sales tax, citizens will not be increasing the local sales tax rate. It will remain the same at 9.5 percent.

City manager Kelly Passauer said the current one-cent special use sales tax has been in effect since October 2012. During that time, the sales tax has been used to make improvements to various street projects (specifically West Main Street, 10th and Chestnut intersection, Penn and Chestnut intersection, Peter Pan Road); mandate handicapped accessibility compliance for city sidewalks; provide upgrades and improvements to Memorial Hall, Independence Dog Park, and Riverside Park and Ralph Mitchell Zoo; install an emergency alert system; and provide some funding for the first phase of the City Hall renovation project.

Many of those projects will continue if the special use sales tax is renewed for an additional 10 years.

If approved, the renewed sales tax will also dedicate revenue for economic development initiatives, stabilize property taxes and mill levy support, and assist with debt repayment of bonds related to previous and future projects.

What happens if the special use sales tax is not renewed? Chuck Goad, who serves as director of the Independence Economic Development Advisory Board, said city leaders will have no other choice but to shift the tax burden to property taxes, which, he said, will prove unpopular with many residents.

"The responsibility of paying sales taxes is shared among local

How will Independence's special use sales tax be used?

Independence city residents will be asked whether to renew a 1.0 percent special use sales tax at the upcoming general election. That onecent sales tax will be dedicated to various programs and projects within the City of Independence. They include:

31% — Debt repayment of bonds related to previous and future major projects.

27% - Street and sidewalk improvements, and more work toward compliance with federal handicapped accessibility laws.

25% – Continued mill levy support.

12% – Continued improvements to Riverside Park and the Ralph Mitchell Zoo, as well as other city-owned facilities.

5% – Economic development initiatives to recruit and retain local employment.

residents, as well as visitors, tourists and those passing through our community," said Goad. "Because Independence continues to evolve as a popular regional destination for shopping, dining and recreation, our base of sales tax payers is significantly broader than just our local residents.³

To equate the scale of sales tax revenue to the amount of property taxes, the City of Independence currently collects about $1.9 million per year in sales tax revenue. The City of Independence also has an assessed valuation (in 2020) of $47.2 million. One mill will generate $47,275 in property tax revenue for the City of Independence. By dividing the sales tax revenue collection ($1.9 million) by the amount of property tax derived from one mill, the result is 40.825 mills . . . meaning it would take a property tax increase of an additional 40.825 mills to pay for the same programs and projects.

The scale of a property tax hike of 40.825 mills would be unlikely, considering state budget laws now put a tax cap on many aspects of municipal budgets. So, programs and projects would likely be stripped down, if not entirely eliminated from the city government, if the sales tax question is not renewed, said Passauer.

Although the general election will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 3, early voting will be allowed beginning Oct. 14.

The City of Independence has a total sales tax rate of 9.5 percent. The local sales tax is dedicated to four areas:

• 6.9 percent: State of Kansas sales tax,

• 1.0 percent: City general fund support (no expiration),

• 1.0 percent: USD 446 education facility support (expires 2032), and • 1.0 percent: Special use sales tax (expires 2022).

"I wasn't expecting this injury, but Windsor Place helped me deal with it. I received excellent care at Home N Sight. Anytime I needed help, which was frequently, someone was always available. They helped me, but they also taught me how to help myself. That encouraged healing and independence. Everything I did there helped me get better. All the small things combined made for big improvements in my abilities. I'm thankful that Home N Sight helped me recover. I'm glad to be back at Assisted Living. I missed all my neighbors."

Our relationship with James Corle began last spring. He had a variety of medical issues and wasn't able to take care of himself at home. He made frequent visits to the hospital. That's when he decided to make the move to Assisted Living at Windsor Place.

The staff at Assisted Living was able to get James' health back on track by carefully monitoring his diet, blood pressure, diabetes and medications. He enjoyed his independence, but had help whenever he needed it. In just a few months James was feeling better and enjoying all the activities.

Unfortunately, James suffered a broken hip. Following hip replacement surgery at CRMC, he needed a higher level of care than assisted living. Windsor Place had the perfect solution. James was transferred to Home N Sight where he could receive 'round-the-clock nursing care as well as daily sessions with the on-site therapy team. It didn't take long for James to regain his strength and mobility and he moved back to Assisted Living on August 25

From home care and rehabilitation services to long-term nursing care, Windsor Place is pleased to offer a full range of care options. Call today to find out which service best fits your needs.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievance. - FIRST AMENDMENT TO THE U.S. CONSTITUTION

Old-fashioned front porches are making a comeback

During my growing-up years, my family moved around a lot, 12 places in my first 18 years. The houses all had one thing in common a front porch at each location. Some were really small but a couple of them had big wraparound porches.

Thanks to the current pandemic, porches are making a comeback. With everyone spending lots of time at home, and taking care of their homesteads better than normal, these small appendages are favorite places for gathering with friends or family.

As I drive through area towns, I admire the houses with these small spaces that give entrance to a front door Older houses are the best front-porch houses, obviously because they were built before air-conditioning, and therefore needed a place where shade reigned.

When I started dating Kathy in 1962, I would leave my parents' rural home and wave goodbye to them as they sat in a porch swing on our front porch.

Then only two miles away was the George home where Kathy's parents also sat on their porch in the evenings. There was something welcoming about those scenes, and that's apparently what draws people to TAYLOR their porches today as they stay a safe distance from other folks.

> Truth be known, most of us would paint an expansive front porch on our modern homes, if only we could. We would add wooden banisters and comfy adirondack chairs or a swing. Ask a kid to draw

Cuff a picture of a house and he/she will include a porch on the front. All the beautiful pictures you see on front covers of magazines are porched.

There, we wrote it. Porched.

Back to the pandemic, did you know that people are mowing their lawns more often than during most years? Yep, same with planting flowers and shrubs. We've all become home bodies, and our places of abode are beneficiaries.

Porch-sitting also adds to neighboring, family conversations and Mayberry moments.

So, we highly recommend this old-fashioned concept of relaxation. Of course, sitting on a patio or deck also counts.

So if you have a choice when choosing a house to buy or rent, look for one with a front porch. Then add the fun stuff where two or more folks can gather.

And if you can't make it happen in reality, just dream your porch into existence.

Your blood pressure will drop and your worries will dash away — at least for a while.

That's a promise.

Taylor says father's signs do not represent it is his right to post them.

I do not have any control the county! This, not only is a over what my father states burden to the taxpayers but it on his signs and he feels that is taking money from the area dozer and trackhoe operators in the area. In visiting with a county commissioner, he informed me they were doing this for the power company in order to run overhead power lines down the road, because a property owner is building a new house. Either way, the power company or the land owner, should our tax dollars be utilized to take out a tree line for the power company or the landowner's new fence? This needs to either stop or everyone in Montgomery County needs to line up at the trough and get a little piece of the pie! Better yet, me and a couple other landowners I know need a tax refund for the work we have already had done. Let's take a closer look at who we are voting into office. They claim they are Republicans but I believe deep down they could have a socialist agenda. I hope in the next election I can say: "Mission Accomplished!"

OUR THOUGHTS

Unfounded criticism

Trump's Supreme Court nominee is one for the good side of life

Those bashing President Trump's nominee to the U.S. Supreme Court need to find something other than her Christian views as their reasons for opposing her.

Amy Coney Barrett is already facing cruel criticism for her personal religious life, some fearing her place on the high court will result in overturning Roe vs. Wade and the Affordable Care Act.

That's a stretch, at this point, because she hasn't even gone through the Senate Confirming Hearing which is scheduled for later this month. No doubt, that abrasive exchange with members of the Judiciary Committee will bring out her warts, if she has any. But at this point, Barrett appears to be the consummate candidate to become a SKOTUS associate justice.

Conservatives will come out of the Trump years in office with at least three appointments, and it's possible he will remain in office another four years.

But if the worst thing to be said of Amy Coney Barrett is that she is happily married, the mother of seven children (two were adopted from Haiti and one child has Down Syndrome and special needs); that she is a faithful member of the Catholic Church and quite conservative in her thinking, then her beliefs are in line with those of thousands of Americans

Anyone living in 1960 can remember when political opponents of John F. Kennedy claimed the Pope in Rome would be running the White House if he got elected. Nothing like that happened, and it is despicable to hear outlandish claims about Barrett just because she professes a strong allegiance to Jesus Christ.

She has already proven herself as a qualified jurist in her role as an appellate court judge, earning Senate confirmation to gain that appointment. So far, Barrett has not brandished her religious beliefs during her public appearances. But her resumé lists her church affiliation, and it includes her added affiliation with "People of Praise," a widely accepted open-church charismatic group.

If her answers during the upcoming confirmation hearings prove her to be a zealot who makes irrational promises to those who appoint her, then fine — she would deserve a no vote. But we predict good things from Amy Coney Barrett during her time on the court, which might well exceed the life expectancies of half the American people.

family, business ideals

Editor:

I am writing this letter to again address the signs my father, Jim Taylor, Sr., posts on his red truck, which he parks around town, at a busy drive through food establishment, and at his place of business here in Coffeyville.

Unfortunately, many have associated these signs with Taylor Crane & Rigging and myself. It is for this reason, I feel it is important to again remind everyone that my father has never been involved with my business.

I also want to stress to my local clients and the prominent business owners who have contacted me regarding these messages that I am not responsible for what my dad states on these signs, nor do I support what they say. I have taken every opportunity to let others know that these messages do not in any way represent my thoughts or beliefs regarding the individuals or companies listed.

I have addressed this in previous letters to the editor placed in the Coffeyville Journal. And, while as a member of the Coffeyville City Commission, I personally addressed the issues with city staff and fellow commissioners. I understand how upsetting these signs can be for others, as they have impacted me personally. They have culminated in strained relationships with long-time clients and friends. Many of which know he is not involved with my business, but have become so frustrated with him that it impacts their feelings towards myself. I am truly sorry that these signs are continuing to cause trouble for others, but I am at a loss as to how to rectify this situation.

He does not acknowledge the impact they have on my business or me personally. As a result, I feel I must, once again, remind our community that these signs should reflect on him and him alone.

I appreciate your time and understanding.

Taxpayer miffed at county's removal of trees on private land

Editor:

About 10-11 months ago I took it upon myself to get a local trackhoe and dozer operator to clear a hedgerow on the north end of my property, for a fence I was about to build.

This project cost several thousand dollars to complete and I was very happy with the job my contractor did for me.

Fast forward to Thursday of last week. After returning home from a trip to Garden City, I could see in the distance a big orange, newer trackhoe cleaning out a fence row just across the road from my place. Upon further investigation I found out this was Montgomery County's public works department equipment! I called the owner of the property and they said all they did was call the county and they showed up promptly and started to work! Not only are they cleaning out the hedgerow about 20 feet into their property, they are pulling the line posts along the way!

Wow! What service the county provides!

Not only did I pay full price to have mine done, I'm paying for part of theirs and numerous other landowners in

Frustration into action

Repulsed by presidential debate, Americans should march to the polls

The Great American Clown Show on Tuesday night offered considerable evidence why Americans detest politics . . . and resort to hibernation in the autumn months every four years.

The presidential debate offered nothing tangible, other than utter repulsion. Shame on our two-political system for thrusting their nominees into the roles of national embarrassments. Diarrhea and gonorrhea may have garnered more respect on Tuesday night than Trump or Biden. That's how bad our presidential selection process has become. How disagraceful!

Our sentiments are best summed up in the words of retired news broadcaster Dan Rather, who wrote late last night via social media: "Who won and lost tonight in a horse race sense, I don't even want to address. Frankly, I don't give a damn. This was a sad, sad, sad night for this nation that I love with all my heart. This is a moment to mourn what we have lost, and are in danger of losing. I don't want to hear from the pundits, I want to hear from the people. I want to hug all of you in a warm embrace and say, we can, we must be a helluva lot better than this.

"We need to dig deep into our moral character. We need to look at ourselves in the mirror and into the hearts of our neighbors and fellow citizens. We need to embrace a patriotism that is broad, inclusive, and just. We know bullies. We know when racists refuse to denounce racism. We know when autocrats try to undermine democracy.

"There will be an election. And then there will be a future. No president is bigger than the nation. The American people have a voice. And after tonight, I sense millions are eager to turn their yelling at the television into marking their ballots." Andy Taylor

New experiences at the dental office resemble a day at the spa

On that day of my appointment, I tied up all of the loose ends I could at work, returned several calls, made sure the boys were squared away in school for the day, and sped to the specialist even requires that of a more highly qualified doctor. I tend to start with the regular doctor, the hometown favorite that everyone claims is their dentist, then I get advanced to the next level. That dentist is usually lesser known but their name is spoken with a bit of fear in the tone just because you know what might be coming. Then there's the surgery dentist at the next level, who more people know because of the wisdom teeth rite of passage, yet most people only see once in a lifetime. Beyond that, I'm not sure...maybe light a candle and say a prayer because you are beyond repair.

So I arrived at the fancy clinic and was greeted by the sweetest office staff, all outfitted in their cute fall attire, offering me flavored water, and reminding me to sanitize my hands with their high end formula. The awaiting procedure room resembled something out of a golf magazine with ornate wood shelving, a television just two feet from my head with scrolling scenic photos and relaxing music, appropriately draped dental items as not to increase any fears, and a doctor with an assistant who spoke in calm, cool tones, giving a spa ambiance to the entire experience.

Obviously in any dental procedure there were a few uncomfortable moments, like the first shots of anesthetic in the roof of my mouth, but once I counted to ten and focused back on the pretty pictures, the rest of the time there was, well, quite honestly, a vacation.

The phone didn't ring, there was no traffic, emails were silenced for later, and for two hours my mouth was propped open with blocks and wires, so the only thing I had to focus on was not snorting. I mean, with a foot rub and aromatherapy, their fees could quadruple. The doctor even asked to see a picture of our dog, Samson, so my admiration for her went through the roof.

That same week, our oldest son was fitted with new braces. Because he did not receive my poor dental genes, he only requires a little bit of adjustment, which means his braces are the fancy trays that can come out when eating, and only those with a keen eye will know they exist. I watched from the chair in the side of the exam room as they placed a few dots of a substance that will hold the trays in place on his teeth, and we walked out of there with no pain, all smiles, and requests for fancier cases for holding the trays. The office staff engaged in conversation about current events, we laughed, and even made recommendations on area restaurants. It was like a conversation with friends around a campfire.

My mind raced back to the two times I had braces around his age, and oh the horror! Tight fitting metal bands were squished into the gums of the back teeth, rubber bands were used to realign jawlines, and the metal brackets would have to be covered with wax sometimes just to relieve the wear and tear to the inside of my mouth. And while the dentists I visited in my younger years were kind, in my mind, they were scary. We didn't have much in common, their gloves smelled like cauliflower, and the shots they would hide below my shoulder before raising them toward the mouth were the size of oil pipes and felt as though they were shoved clear into the top of my head.

Even though our son attempted to milk his new situation for the first 24 hours, it didn't work as his daddy and I recounted the trials and tribulations of pre-millennial dentistry. And even our experiences are a cake walk compared to the true pain and horror that our parents and grandparents faced before such modern advances.

So I may have found my new "mom's day out" experience at the dental specialist office. Flavored water, views of the ocean, and soundscapes music piped in my direction are awaiting. Heck, I don't even have to worry about keeping my mouth open or closed, as it is done for me. I'm looking ahead and anticipating the next procedure. I think I'll schedule it on the calendar during an especially busy week and have an excuse to disconnect, focus on breathing without snorting, and let the fancy professionals improve my dental future.

Bell: courthouse feature stands in silence the new clock works. Newspapers do not indicate how Ebersole was able to hoist both elements into the courthouse's highest elevations, but it would have required considerable muscle power as the bell itself weighed 1,200 pounds. The clock works, which were manufactured from Seth Thomas in

Thomaston, Conn., weighed 1,300 pounds.

The Independence Daily Reporter of July 13, 1890, revealed that the bell was placed below the clock . . . while the clock's mechanical components were installed below the bell (but directly above the district court room). The Reporter noted that the bell's deep resonance could be audibly heard from two to five miles away, depending on the wind direction.

The bell and clock were finally install and fully operational by late September 1890.

The bell and the clock stood as visible and audible elements of the courthouse until the building was modified in the 1930s. The massive Victorian architecture — including the statue of Lady Justice atop the south entrance — would be wiped away, and the striped down courthouse would be encased with concrete and stone like so many buildings of the 1930s architectural phase, which relied on cubist style, flat lines, and stark finishes.

With stately and elaborate architecture befitting most courthouses of the late Victorian Era, the Montgomery County Courthouse, as seen in this 1895 photo, incorporated numerous structural elements, including a cupola, a statue of Lady Justice, a clock tower and bell. The bell, now located on permanent display on the north side of the courthouse, required considerable muscle power to raise its 1,200-pound weight to the area tucked inside the roof structure below the clock.

Farm Bureau annual meeting is Tuesday

INDEPENDENCE — The Montgomery County Farm Bureau invites the public to attend its annual meeting on Oct. 6 at 6:30 p.m. at the 4-H Building in Independence's Riverside Park. Due to current state and local guidelines, this year's event will be presented a little differently.

Depending on the weather, the intent is to utilize the building with as much of an open air setting as possible. It is planned to open all windows and doors to facilitate a fresh air environment. If the outside temperature happens to cool down by then, please dress accordingly.

The meal and dessert will be catered and served in individual containers. Bottled water and tea will be provided as well. Tables and chairs will be spaced out as much as the room allows. Feel free to sit together as a family, or as friends. It is asked that you please respect the rights of those wishing to maintain social distancing guidelines. Masks will be available upon request and will not be required, but you may wear one if you so desire. In addition to the usual orders of business, it will be voted on to amend the bylaws to allow the ability to hold virtual board, special and or annual meetings, and to be able to conduct business as such.

This year's silent auction proceeds will benefit Jessica Wood, daughter of Cherryvale's Warren and Melody Wood. Jessica was born with hypoplastic left heart syndrome (HLHS), a complex and rare heart defect. Throughout her twenty years, she has endured numerous medical procedures, including one this past summer. If you will be unable to attend the meeting but would either like to bid on an item, or make a donation, contact Kathy O'Brien at (620) 331-0826.

It's not known where the bell went after the original roof and cupola were removed. However, it later found its eventual place on the north side of the courthouse, where it has stood in silence ever since it issued its last gong in the 1930s.

The procurement and placement of that bell, as well as the clock works, did generate some controversy. The South Kansas Tribune, which was a weekly newspaper that was a mouthpiece of the Republican Party, complained about other newspapers questioning the placement of the bell and clock in the courthouse. Referring to those people and newspapers who questioned the bell and clock's procurement as "Calamityites," the Tribune took the persistent questioning to task.

"These miserable, contemptible growlers are so willfully ignorant and so destitute of any patriotic pride that it is hardly worth while to correct them," the Tribune opined on Oct. 15, 1890. "As soon as one gets that disease they being to fault find and it grows on them until they are ready to gulp down the most improbable lies, and are perfectly miserable, and lose their love of country and love for their wife. "The fine clock and bell, along with the magnificent sidewalks the stone wall and all the improvements are a free gift from the City of Independence. The City voted $5,000 and the county has the cash, and the Board of Commissioners is simply directing how it shall be expended.

"In nine cases out of ten, these whiners don't pay ten dollar's tax, but they yawp as if they were paying hundreds."

Apartments: housing options given to tenants rumors were baseless, as were rumors that tenants had 30 to 60 days to move out of their apartments.

Hodges clarified tenant relocation would begin no less than six months and no more than one year from the date of the properties are sold.

During his meetings with tenants in the past two weeks, Hodges said he believed he alleviated many of the concerns of apartment tenants. However, he said he realizes the anticipated relocation of many apartment tenants will be bittersweet, as they leave their long-standing homes in east Coffeyville but also remove themselves further away from the sprawl of the CVR Energy complex.

He said he understood the concerns of many tenants who believe their location adjacent to the CVR Energy complex no longer made portions of east Coffeyville a desirable place to live.

"We're trying our best to facilitate the relocation of many of the residents to other apartments or housing developments in Coffeyville," Hodges said.

of the Caney Valley FFA program have been raising funds toward construction of a facility, and the Caney Valley FFA Boosters also have been involved in fundraising.

Relocating the vocational-agriculture area to a new facility would also open the existing vo-ag room to other uses, such as a room for the school's weightlifting classes, said Jimmy Littleford, high school principal.

Another major concern at the junior-senior high school building is the condition of the main gymnasium floor. That wooden floor, which was original to the school's construction in 1972-73, has warped over the decades due to moisture. Additionally, supports under the gym floor have eroded or collapsed.

However, the cost to replace the entire main gym floor would be more than $112,000, according to a bid that was received in September 2019. Vargas said he anticipated the cost to replace that floor in 2020 would be considerably higher.

"Replacement of the gym floor always gets deferred because there is usually something more pressing that comes up each year when we plan for it," said Vargas. "So, we're approaching a gym floor that is almost 50 years of age and in need of replacement. At some point, we can't hold off too much longer."

Monday's meeting also saw good news in terms of the energy upgrades that have been incorporated into both Lincoln Memorial Elementary School and Caney Valley Jr.-Sr. High School. Vargas said an energy audit undertaken by the Trane Corporation has revealed energy savings of about $30,000 per year through improved lighting design and efficiencies in HVAC systems.

Vargas also shared a list of projects that were completed by school custodians during the late spring and summer months. The project list was lengthy, as custodians had more time to complete projects due to the closure of classes in March due to COVID-19. The estimated savings by having custodial crews do the bulk of the work as compared to private contractors was almost $90,000, Vargas noted.

PITTSBURG — October and polka music go together like pumpkin and spice, so what better time for the Bicknell Family Center for the Arts at Pittsburg State University to offer a concert of polka favorites by local polka legends?

The Johnnie Zibert Band didn't get a chance to perform at their usual Little Balkans Day venue because the festival was canceled due to the pandemic. But thanks to the recording and streaming capabilities of the Bicknell Center, the community can plan to enjoy a concert at 7 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 5.

It can be viewed at pittstate.tv, at Facebook.com/bicknellcenter, and on CAPS 13 TV.

Zibert began his accordion playing career performing with a band in the Tulsa, Oklahoma, area in 1982. In 2013, he joined with Gerald Azember, a banjo and guitar player from Girard, and George Barberich, a bass, accordion, and guitar player from Pittsburg, to form the Johnnie Zibert Band.

With his new band, he has carried on the legacy of his father, local polka legend accordionist John Zibert, in playing Slovenian/Cleveland style polka music at a variety of dance halls throughout Southeast Kansas as well as numerous outdoor festivals, including the Big Brutus Polka Fest and Little Balkans Days.

Barberich's music career began in 1966 in Kansas City, Kansas, on Strawberry Hill under the direction of the late accordion master Don Lipovac. He began with the St. John's Tamburitzans, performing Eastern Balkan music and dance, then, after relocating to Southeast Kansas in the mid 1970s, began performing with accordion band leaders John Zibert, Joe Nepote, Bobby Stewart, John Yoger, and Jimmy Karlinger.

Barberich noticed that there were no Button Box Accordion musicians playing professionally in the area, so after spending time with Lipovac, the Button Box practice developed into an enjoyable musical addition for him.

Azember began playing guitar with The Holiday Band in 1996 and continued to play with the group at several locations in the area for 21 years. In 2013, he joined the Johnnie Zibert Band as a guitar and banjo player.

City commission to consider $250,000 contribution for healthcare center expansion

BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

INDEPENDENCE — A decision on whether to expend City of Independence tax funds for the anticipated expansion of Labette Health's Independence Healthcare Center was tabled by Independence city commissioners at their semi-monthly meeting last Thursday.

Commissioners chose to delay a decision on a recommendation by the Independence Economic Development Advisory Board to provide $250,000 in tax funds for the healthcare cencounted on a pro-rata basis. The initial $50,000 payment, if granted, would be made on March 1, 2023.

Commissioners conferred about the advisory board's proposal in executive session, which is closed to the press and public, with advisory board members as well as Brian Williams, Labette Health chief executive officer. Commissioners indicated after the closed-door session that they wished to have more information and consultation about the project and the incentive proposal.

Coffeyville adds fund to create housing development program

BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

COFFEYVILLE - Emphasis on improving Coffeyville's housing supply was made evident when Coffeyville city commissioners on Sept. 22 approved the creation of a $200,000 fund to create a housing/community development department.

Commissioners approved the request by city manager Mark Hall to dedicate $200,000 from the City of Coffeyville's Economic Development Fund for the purpose of creating a housing/ community development department. The department will oversee financial resources to address existing and future housing needs, establish a housing/community development director, and dedicate housing options, priorities for land acquisition and development, and program implementation.

Hall said the housing/community development director would initially also work with other departments, including code enforcement, building inspections, and engineering. The director would eventually phase into a stand-alone position and department.

Mayor Paul Bauer emphasized that the creation of a housing department was being done to improve Coffeyville's housing situation.

"We're not creating a position just to create a position," said Bauer. "There actually is a reason behind this."

Hall said that in January 2020, the City of Coffeyville began to plan to meet housing needs across a broad range of income levels. This effort will continue with education and outreach to keep the Coffeyville community informed and engaged about the need for a diverse set of housing choices and opportunities, he said.

"The City's Strategic Housing Plan 2030 comes at a time when Coffeyville is redefining its place in the southeast Kansas economy, he said. "It is an opportune time to examine how the City can provide a balance of housing choices and preserve affordable and workforce housing and the fabric of Coffeyville's neighborhoods.

"Coffevville is in a state of change, the economy is stable, but residential development is very weak or nonexistent. As such, there is urgency in addressing housing needs now, before they become acute.³

The $200,000 that is being dedicated for a housing/community development department program will use about $81,000 reserved for a housing director payroll, health insurance, and City payroll commitments. The remainder will be used for various housing programs and initiatives.

IN OTHER BUSINESS from the Sept. 22 meeting, commissioners:

• formally accepted the funding allocated by the Montgomery County Commission to the City of Coffeyville through the State of Kansas' SPARKS fund for COVID-19 response and relief.

The City of Coffeyville was awarded $546,604.69 through SPARKS funds for various coronavirus relief efforts.

Housing sales on the increase in Independence, official says

INDEPENDENCE — City commissioners agreed to seek a grant through the Kansas housing Resources Corporation for construction of a new housing subdivision.

At their meeting on Sept. 24, city commissioners agreed with there ecommendation from April Nutt, director of the Independence Housing Authority, to seek a $400,000 grant through the KHRC for the Catalpa Subdivision. The 7.93-acre subdivision will include 20 residential lots. The subdivision, is located immediately north of the Eisenhower Subdivision and is bordered by 11th Street on the east. The subdivision will include extensions of Catalpa and Pearl streets to the west; each street would terminate in a cul de sac.

Nutt said the Catalpa Subdivision would be constructed in phases, with the first phase involving infrastructure installation. The City's commitment for the project is $65,380 for water service. All other funds for this development would be paid from the Independence Housing Authority's development account.

Nutt said the Independence Housing Authority was partnering with the City of Neodesha for the grant. Neodesha plans to construct 18 new residences, Nutt said.

KHRC will notified recipients of the housing grant by the end of 2020. If Independence receives the grant, then the Independence Housing Authority will move forward with installing infrastructure at the Catalpa Subdivi sion in early 2021.

On a related note, Nutt told commissioners that approximately 57 homes have been sold within Independence in the past 90 days. Nutt said many of the homeowners have moved to Independence to escape the fast-paced life and problems on both coasts. In speaking to real estate brokers, Nutt said she has learned people are wanting to relocate to Independence because of a simpler, safer way of life.

"These are the stories I have heard . . . time and time again," said Nuts. "Whatever we have going for us, we just need to keep going.³

Commissioners also agreed to study a request by the Independence Housing Authority concerning the establishment of an Independence Land Bank. A land bank, which contains properties that are provided to a city entity through donation, acquisition via tax foreclosure, purchase, or transfer from the City, is designed to strategically acquire problematic properties. The land bank would be able to sell the properties — both commercial and residential - to potential property owners who intend on improving the conditions of those properties.

The City of Pittsburg is the nearest community with an aggressive land bank. Commissioners said they might plan to visit with Pittshurg city officials about its land hank ter's expansion. The commission is expected to discuss the proposal at their next meeting in October.

The advisory board has recommended that the city commission provide a $250,000 forgivable loan to Labette Health to be disbursed over a five-year period. The incentive will be paid out with revenue from the City of Independence's special use sales tax, which is subject to renewal by city voters at the upcoming general election. The incentive for Labette Health is contingent upon the passage of the special use sales tax renewal question.

In return for acceptance of the loan, Labette Health will be required to prove the creation of five new full-time equivalent (FTE) employees at the Independence Healthcare Center during 2022, over a level of base employment established at the end of 2021.

Labette Health must maintain those five positions over subsequent years in order to receive a maximum of $50,000 per year as an incentive for job creation.

Should less than five FTE positions be maintained during the reporting period, the annual incentive payment for that period will be dis-

Williams said he was prepared to send a 56-page document to the commission that details all aspects of the anticipated expansion of the Independence Healthcare Center.

Commissioners indicated they would discuss the proposal at their next meeting.

IN OTHER BUSINESS transacted at the Sept. 24 commission meeting, city commissioners:

• held a series of public hearings concerning 12 structures that have been deemed dangerous and unsafe. Commissioners agreed to move forward with condemnation of structures at 409 S. 17th, 509 N. 14th, 708 S. 16th, 813 S. 18th, 1101 W. Main, 1105 W. Main, 1217 N. 9th and 1629 W. Laurel.

The commission agreed to adjourn condemnation proceedings for 60 days for structures at 416 S. 18th, 801 E. Birch, 414 S. Wall, and 321 S. 19th.

On a related note, the commission agreed to hold a public hearing at 5;30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 19 concerning the property at 201 E. Main. The property, which was the former location of a Dollar General Store, has fallen into an unsafe condemnation because of a collapsing roof.

• agreed to hold a special meeting at 9 a.m., Thursday, Oct. 15 to discuss anticipated programming and office space for the 1916 City Hall and Fire-EMS station project.

Commissioners grilled about allowing public works crews on private land to clear trees from fence lines; policy to be re-evaluated

BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

INDEPENDENCE — Montgomery County commissioners on Monday were taken to task for a long-standing policy that allows the county's public works department to remove trees along fence lines on private property.

For several decades, the public works department has worked with property owners to remove aging trees and brush along fence rows as a way to not only remove the vegetation but also improve drainage. Public works crews use equipment to knock down the trees and place them in piles on the private property. The property owner is responsible for removing and replacing any fences, as well as burning the brush pile or cutting up the trees for firewood.

On Monday, two rural property owners said the policy not only was a waste of county labor and expense but also was unfair to other property owners who hire private contractors for treeline removal.

Colby Flatt, who resides between Cherryvale and Liberty, complained about the fairness of the policy. He said he recently spent more than $8,000 with a private contractor to remove trees along his property owner that is adjacent to a county road. Meanwhile, his neighbor is using the county's public works department to freely clean and remove a fencerow on the neighbor's property.

"Where I come from, I would have never dreamed about calling the county public works department to see if they would come to my property and freely remove trees," said Flatt. "I would have never imagined that could even be an option."

John Gillman, who resides on county road 3300 near Jefferson, complained that the public works department's involvement in removing trees on private property was taking away revenue possibilities from private contractors. He said he would be more understanding of the policy if the county's focus was on improving safety, such as removing trees or limbs so that they don't impair school buses, farm equipment, and other large vehicles. However, the wholesale removal of trees along a fence line from one corner of a property to the other was an unreasonable use of county resources, Gillman said.

"When is this going to end," asked Gillman. "But, taking out the trees along the fencerows is unbelievable."

Commissioners have said in previous meetings that the removal of trees along fence rows is triggered at the request of the private landowner. After the landowner and the county agree to the project, the public works department enter the private property to remove trees and brush along a fence line.

Commissioner Fred Brown voiced concern about the county's policy, even though he has supported it in the past. He said he feared the policy would take away money out of the pockets of local contractors who might be able to do the tree clearing. icy would have a negative impact on wildlife habitats.

"Once we take away those trees, then there is less habitat for the deer and the birds," said Brown. "And, that means less wildlife to attract hunters."

Brown, who was presiding at Monday's meeting in the absence of commission chairman Larry McManus, said the commission would revisit the nus returns in two weeks.

Also at Monday's meeting, commissioners Fred Brown and Robert Bever agreed to pursue an opportunity through the Kansas Department of Transportation to participate in a cost-share program for replacement of a rural bridge. Jim Wright, public works director, said Montgomery County will submit an application to KDOT for more Creek bridge, which is located on county road 3300, north of county road 6200, in Sycamore Township.

If KDOT allows Montgomery County to obtain costshare funds, then KDOT will fund up to $900,000 for a bridge replacement. KDOT's cost-share program this hear has dwindled to $5 million total, meaning there will likely be few projects chosen statewide, Wright said.

Montgomery County's application to the cost-share program is due today (Thursday).

Sheriff's 911 dispatch console to return to judicial center

BY ANDY TAYLOR chronicle@taylornews.org

INDEPENDENCE — Plans for the relocation of the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department 911 dispatching console to the Montgomery County Judicial Center were announced on Monday.

The sheriff's 911 dispatching unit is now located in the basement of the temporary Independence City Hall, where it shares quarters with the City of Independence 911 PSAP console.

The City of Independence has notified the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department that the sheriff's 911 console will have to find different quarters after the City relocates its 911 dispatching center to the Independence City Hall at Sixth and Myrtle streets after its renovation is completed in 2021.

Returning the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department 911 console to the Montgomery County Judicial Center, where it was housed prior to being moved to the temporary City Hall, will cost about $80,000 in equipment and upgrades. However, speaking at Monday's Montgomery County Commission meeting, Sheriff Ron Wade justified the expense because several existing 911 dispatch positions will be eliminated and/or reduced when the console is returned to the judicial center. That labor savings will more than cover the cost of the equipment upgrade, relocation costs and minor remodeling for the placement of the sheriff's department 911 console, Wade said.

However, Wade will not be using the labor savings to pay for

'Dogs blank Pittsburg in pivotal SEK League game

BV BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org

INDEPENDENCE — For the fifth time in six games, the Independence High School soccer team blanked an opponent. This time around, the Bulldogs scored two first-half goals en route to a 2-0 shutout victory over Pittsburg in a Southeast Kansas League match Tuesday evening at Emmot Field.

"We played a wonderful game," said IHS coach Max Bradbury. "The main focus was to play aggressive and loose the first half. The kids did just that. We did a great job possessing and talking offense and defense. Defensively, we focused on keeping the Pittsburg players in the front of us at all times and challenge back passing from Pittsburg. Each time we won the ball, we tried to switch the field at start to work the one v one attacks. With each game, these kids are getting better and can't wait to practice to get better. This is a great group of kids." IHS was coming off a 3-3 draw against Fort Scott last Thursday that put an end to a string of four straight shutout wins by the Bulldogs. With Tuesday's outcome, Independence improved to 5-0-1 overall, including 2-0-1 in SEK play. IHS will step out of league action the next three games, starting with an Oct. 6 road game at Riverton. The Bulldogs took control early with a pair of first-half goals. The first came in the eighth minute on an unassisted goal by Mason Messenger. Midway through the half, Dominique Mendoza scored off an assist from Gustavo Ventura in the 21st minute. That proved to be more than enough for IHS by game's end. The Bulldog defense put the clamps down the rest of the way as it recorded its fifth shutout already this season.

Independence had a 12-3 advantage in total shots for the match, including a gamehigh five from Caleb Johnston.

FORT SCOTT — After posting four straight shutouts to the 43rd minute to get the Bulldogs on the board. That's where things stood until the closing minutes of the game.

Johnston had Independence back within one on an unassisted goal in the 72nd minute. Then in the closing minutes of regulation, Johnston added his second goal in the 77th minute to tie things up and send the game into overtime.

The teams battled through two overtime periods before settling for a draw.

IHS had a commanding 20-9 edge in total shots, with Johnston recording a gamehigh seven shots.

Return to normal doesn't favor 'Nado in 49-0 loss

Field Kindley to forget 49-0 shelling to Topeka-Hayden in preparation for Friday's game against Mulvane

By BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org COFFEYVILLE — After having to sit out a week due to concerns over COVID-19, the Field Kindley High School football team was just wanting to get back on the field ... no matter the opponent.

Unfortunately, a last-minute addition to the schedule had the Golden Tornado taking on a tough Topeka-Hayden squad. FKHS had a rough time getting anything going offensively as it suffered a 49-0 loss to the Wildcats last Friday at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

"Any team would have been a difficult task, but Topeka-Hayden was and is a different animal," said 'Nado coach Deonta Wade. "No excuses, though. They were on the same boat, and we are the first team this season that has had to face this task. We won't be the last. We live, we learn and we grow."

With the loss, Field Kindley dropped to 1-2 overall on the season heading into this Friday's non-league contest at home against Mulvane. The Wildcats are currently 0-3 on the season after previous losses to Wichita Collegiate (56-0), Andale (63-0) and Clearwater (61-14). Last Friday's home game against Towanda-Circle was postponed.

This will be the third straight year the 'Nado and Wildcats are meeting in football, with Mulvane capturing the previous two games -28-20 in 2018 and 47-12 a year ago.

"Mulvane is a tough team who is balanced offensively," Wade said. "On defense, they want to bring pressure and get after you. It will be another tough week. For us. it's all about third downs.

teams in third-and-long but have given up huge yardage. On the flip side, we haven't given ourselves much of a chance on first and second down."

The Golden Tornado had not played a game since suffering a 14-7 home loss to Columbus on Sept. 11. After players from the squad were forced into quarantine due to COVID-19 concerns, Field Kindley cancelled its non-league contest at Valley Center on Sept. 18. The 'Nado were going to return to action last Friday against Montgomery County rival Independence, but that game was also postponed after the Bulldog team was placed in quarantine and forced out of action for two weeks.

Looking for an opponent to replace Independence, Field Kindley was finally able to fill that spot last Wednesday by adding Topeka-Hayden to the slate. The Wildcats were definitely no slouch as they were coming off a 10-2 campaign a year ago that included a trip to the sub-state round of the Class 3A playoffs. It was just the third meeting all-time between the two schools with Hayden winning both of the previous matchups in the playoffs in 2003 (42-21) and 2014 (40-16).

"It was awesome just to be back out there," Wade said. "You don't know what you miss until it's gone. For the players, coaches and community, it was great to be at The Vet on a Friday night playing, coaching or watching ball. Honestly after watching film, I thought we played solid ver sus a darn good team. The score doesn't reflect it, but I liked what I saw."

It was a rough night for the Golden Tornado from the start against Hayden. The Wildcats returned the opening kickoff of the game for a touchdown as Desmond Purnell ran 70 yards to the end zone.

That was the start of a 20-point first quarter for Hayden, which included a seven-yard run for Purnell and a 25-yard scamper from Will DeVader.

The Wildcats blew the game open before halftime. Purnell ran in from 13 yards out and Johnny Holloway also found Geivonnii Williams for a 29-yard scoring strike to give the visitors a 34-0 edge heading into the intermission.

Hayden put the finishing touch on things in the second half. DeVader went in from two yards out to push the difference to 41-0 after three quarters. Bradyn Rose capped off the Wildcat scoring with a two-yard run into the end zone.

Hayden dominated every aspect of the game, including a 16-5 edge in first downs and 293-62 advantage in total yardage.

Bullpup boys earn bronze on Humboldt course

By BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org

HUMBOLDT — Despite no runners placing in the top 10, the Caney Valley High School cross country team captured third place in the boys' division of the Humboldt Invitational on Sept. 22.

CVHS recored 46 points to take the third spot behind champion Columbus at 29 and runner-up Humboldt at 45. In the girls' division, the Bullpups did not have enough runners to qualify for the team standings. Humboldt won the girls' team title with 15 points.

"We weren't entirely sure what to expect since this was Humboldt's first time hosting," said CVHS coach Josh Kristalyn. "The weather was great. They did a great job with the course, and the competition was solid. It was really nice to race a smaller meet. We really enjoyed the more intimate atmosphere competing. Performance-wise, we didn't get some of the outcomes we wanted, but I was very happy with the kids supporting each other and handling disappointment in a serious but positive manner.'

Leading the way for the Caney Valley boys was Grady Postrach, who took 13th place in 20:41. Stephen Kyler was one spot back in 14th place at 20:44. Also competing for the 'Pups were Mikey Bradley, 17th in 21:27; John Wheatley, 19th

Jones, Miller are Paydirt Payday winners for week#2

Jay Jones of Katy, Texas, formerly of Independence, claims the first place win in week #2 of the Paydirt Payday Football Contest printed in the Sept. 17 edition of the Montgomery County Chronicle. He wins a $25 cash prize. Jones missed only one game, that being the contest between Kansas State University vs. Oklahoma — KSU won that game. All contestants who entered the week #2 contest also missed choosing the correct winner of that game

Coming in second place is Wanda Miller, Caney, missing two games, and she picks up a cash prize of $15. Others missing two games but edged out by Miller were Ralph Bachman, Coffeyville; Marthena Draper, Caney; and Lauri Henisey, Independence. The Game of the Week #2 combine score (between Kansas City Chiefs and the Baltimore Ravens) was used to determine second place.

The game between Independence High School and Coffeyville Field Kindley High School that was listed in the contest did not count as that game had to be postponed due to COVID-19, however those two schools did play other teams that night but those games were not part of the contest.

The contest is sponsored by Montgomery County businesses.

Be sure to enter the Paydirt Payday Weekly Football Contest found in this week's Chronicle and mail entries to the Montgomery County Chronicle, P.O. Box. 186, Caney, KS 67333 (can be dropped off at 202 W. 4th Ave.) or at 422 W. Main, Independence, KS 67301, or email to: chronicle@taylornews.org. Entries must be received or postmarked by 6 p.m. on Friday.

Those winning either first or second place will have their names put in a drawing at the end of the season for a grand prize of $150.

On the girls' side, CVHS was led by Monaequea O'Shields with a 12th-place finish in 26:12. Deandrea O'Shields finished in 15th at 28:45, while Johnna Rosson was 17th at 30:17 and Krymsyn Clopp 18th at 31:40.

Jack Adams of Iola won the individual boys' title in a time of 17:30. Montana Ohmart of Columbus was the girls' top runner at 20:59

The Bullpups were originally scheduled to compete in the Iola Invitational on Sept. 22, but that meet was cancelled due to concerns over COVID-19, allowing them to compete in the Humboldt Invitational instead.

Caney Valley will next compete in today's Pittsburg Invitational.

Caney Valley to host Galena on Friday in pivotal class 3A district game; Cherryvale prepares for road game at undefeated Columbus

By BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org

CANEY — Leading by 28 points at halftime, the Caney Valley High School football team cruised from there to a convincing 40-6 victory over Montgomery County rival Cherryvale in the Class 3A-District 1 opener for both teams last Friday at Caney Valley High School Stadium.

"We came out and got after them real quick," said CVHS coach Criss Davis, whose squad has now beaten its longtime rival for the 10th time in the last 12 meetings since 2010. "We played well defensively for about 3 1/2 quarters. We did a pretty good job on special teams. We had some good returns that set us up with the short field. Our offensive line did a really nice job. Cherryvale is big up front, and we were very physical. I just thought we played really well most of the game."

Caney Valley, which has outscored its four opponents by a combined score of 150-34, improved to 4-0 overall and 1-0 in district play following last week's performance. The Bullpups will cap off a three-game homestand this Friday as they entertain Galena in another District 1 contest scheduled for 7 p.m.

The Bulldogs, who compete in the CNC League, are currently 3-0 overall and 1-0 in district action following last week's 34-14 home win over Parsons. Galena has been dominant in its three outings this season, outscoring the opposition 118-36. GHS had its week-two contest cancelled due to concerns over COVID-19.

"There's no doubt about it that we're going to have to come out and play," Davis said. "Galena is a good ball club. I'm sure it will be a good ball game. Right now, we have to take it one game at a time. We're in a tough district, and we can't look too far ahead. We need to go out and do the things we do well."

Although not in the same league, Caney Valley and Galena have met several times over the years, whether it be in district play or the postseason. In fact, since 2006, the teams have faced each other on 10 different occasions, with Galena holding a slight 6-4 edge in those outings.

A year ago in Galena, the Bullpups led a good chunk of the game, including by eight with less than a minute remaining in regulation. Yet, the Bulldogs came back to tie things up and eventually got the game-winning touchdown in the second overtime to se-

As for Cherryvale, it lost for the third time in the first four games of the season while dropping to 0-1 in district play. The Chargers will remain on the road this Friday as they travel to Columbus for a 7 p.m. contest.

The Titans are 4-0 overall and 1-0 in the district following a 52-7 victory at Baxter Springs last Friday. Defense has been key for CUHS during the early stages of the season as it has outscored the opposition 117-27 overall and held each team to seven points or less.

"It doesn't get any easier," said Charger coach Travis Young. "Columbus is another team that will be big, physical and have a lot of depth. Our key will be having good practices and getting better at our schemes."

This will be the first meeting between the Chargers and Titans in nearly two decades. The last matchup came in 2001 when Cherryvale captured a 42-13 victory over Columbus. In fact, the Chargers have won the last two meetings, including a 39-32 decision in 2000.

Last Friday's contest was a reunion for Young — a 2014 graduate of Caney Valley who was a quarterback and defensive back for the Bullpups during his playing career.

"We came out and started flat and never really got going," Young said. "It was a loss that we can take a lot away from and continue to improve upon. Caney was an extremely physical team that plays very hard."

Caney Valley set the tone in the contest from the start. Less than three minutes in, the Bullpups found themselves on the scoreboard by way of a 73-yard scamper from Tanner Rose. Trey King ran in the conversion for an 8-0 Bullpup lead.

quarter. Baylor Thornton followed with touchdown runs of 21 and seven yards. King also included another conversion run as the 'Pups expanded their advantage to 22-0 at the end of 12 minutes of action.

CVHS continued to extend its edge before halftime. Rose scored again on a five-yard run as the Bullpups went into the intermission up 28-0.

Caney Valley eventually put the game well out of reach after the break. King dove into the end zone from a yard out to bump the 'Pup advantage up to 34-0 after three quarters. During the early stages of the fourth quarter, CVHS was at it again on a 37-yard scramble for six by Rose — his third touchdown of the game — to push the difference up to 40-0.

Cherryvale was able to avoid the shutout in the closing moments of the game as Chet Linn found his way into the end zone from a yard out for the final margin.

The Bullpups dominated on both sides of the football, racking up 298 total yards while limiting the Chargers to just 138. CVHS did most of its damage on the ground, rushing the ball 37 times for 293 yards. Rose had a game-high 186 yards rushing on 15 attempts.

Chargers open TVL schedule with split matches at home

By BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org

CHERRYVALE — Opening Tri-Valley League action with a victory over Fredonia, the Cherryvale High School volleyball team managed just a split of its own Cherryvale Triangular on Tuesday, falling in the nightcap to Neodesha.

The Lady Chargers beat the Lady Yellowjackets 2-1 (25-22, 19-25, 25-21) but lost to the Lady Bluestreaks in three sets (18-25, 27-25, 18-25) to close out the evening.

"We should have only played two against Fredonia," said CHS coach Aimee Strickland. "It took us awhile to get warmed up and playing to our potential. Luckily, we pulled out the win. Obviously we wanted the W against Neodesha, but we played so much better against them than our last meeting. We don't usually struggle with serves, but we had some troubles tonight and those points really could have helped us get the win."

With the split of matches, Cherryvale moved to 6-4 overall and 1-1 in the TVL. The Lady Chargers will step out of league play on Saturday when they entertain Independence in a non-league dual. After that, they will return to TVL play on Oct. 6 when they travel to Leon for a dual against Bluestem.

Statistically, CHS was led in the triangular by Joy Renfro with 16 kills, Kobi Pearson with 39 assists, Mariah Monroy with 12 blocks and 25 digs, and Laryn Raida with four service aces.

In the other league match of the evening, Neodesha took on Fredonia. No scores or information were available from that match as of press time.

Chargers beat West Elk in Saturday dual CHERRYVALE — Despite dropping the opening set, the Lady Chargers closed out the match by winning the final three sets en route to a nonleague victory over West Elk Saturday morning. CHS finished off the match in four sets, 24-26, 25-6, 25-17, 25-14.

"Today showed the hard work the girls have put in the last week of no games," Strickland said. "We've made a few minor adjustments in our lineup, and so far it's proving to work. Today everyone was on."

Originally, the Lady Chargers were scheduled to host the annual Sharon Wadman Charger Classic on Saturday, but that tournament was cancelled due to concerns over COVID-19. Instead, CHS chose to schedule a few nonleague duals, including Saturday's match against West Elk.

In that match, Mariah Monroy and Joy Renfro shared team-high honors with 13 kills and 16 digs each. Monroy also had seven blocks. Meanwhile, Kobi Pearson recorded seven aces and 30 assists.

Indy gains ground in SEK League after Tuesday wins

By BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org FORT SCOTT - At the midway point of Southeast Kansas League play, the Independence High School volleyball team is still on pace to continue its run of league championships

The Lady Bulldogs overcame a sluggish first match to earn a sweep of action Tuesday night at the Fort Scott Quad. IHS beat Parsons 2-1 (25-15, 17-25, 25-17) in the opening match before capping off the evening with a sweep of Fort Scott (25-22, 25-13).

Independence has now won five consecutive matches since a loss to Chanute in the opening match of SEK play. With the sweep, IHS improved to 9-7 overall, including 5-1 in the league, heading into Saturday's non-league dual at Montgomery County foe Cherryvale.

The Lady Bulldogs have won the last three SEK championships and head into the back half of the league season tied with Labette County (12-4, 5-1) for first place in the standings. Those teams will meet on Oct. 6 at the Chanute Triangular, which will also include a Chanute team just one game back in the standings at 7-5 overall and 4-2 in the league.

Independence was without the services of head coach Kristi Speicher, who said she

Home matches unkind to Golden 'Nado spikers; team 4-11 overall

By BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org

COFFEYVILLE — Despite taking Chanute to three sets, the Field Kindley High School volleyball team still came up on the short end of a pair of matches at its own Field Kindley Triangular Tuesday evening at Stoner-McClure Gymnasium.

The Lady 'Nado lost to Pittsburg in straight sets (19-25, 9-25) during the opening match of the evening. In the nightcap, they went three sets with the Blue Comets before dropping a 2-1 decision (22-25, 25-14, 18-25).

"We finally got the girls to compete when we played against Chanute," said FKHS coach Julie Cook. "We lost, but I was proud of them for competing all three sets and never giving up. If we can keep competing like that, we will get better, and the wins will come."

Field Kindley suffered its eighth consecutive loss as it dropped to 4-11 overall and 1-5 in the Southeast Kansas League. Up next, the Lady 'Nado are scheduled to compete in the Chanute Invitational on Saturday before returning to SEK action on Oct. 6 at the Pittsburg Quad, taking on Parsons and Fort Scott.

No further details, including individual statistics, were available from Tuesday's triangular as of press time.

In other action at the triangular, Pittsburg took down Chanute. Scores were not known from that match. The Purple Dragons improved to 2-6 overall and 2-2 in the SEK, while the Blue Comets are now 7-5 overall and 4-2 in the league.

Team drops matches at Labette County quad on Saturday

ALTAMONT - FKHS extended its losing streak to six straight matches as it dropped all three of its matches in the Labette County Quad on Saturday at Harrison Gymnasium.

straight sets to all three opponents, which included Chetopa (18-25, 13-25), Pittsburg-Colgan (7-25, 9-25) and host Labette County (8-25, 9-25).

"We have moments where we play good as a team and then moments where we struggle," Cook said. "Our rotation has changed about every game we have played due to kids quarantined, sick and injured that it has been hard to try to get consistent. I have kids that I have had to pull up from JV just to fill spots. Most of them are freshmen. It's a challenging year for us with everything going on and then taking into account we have such a young team since we lost so many seniors from last year. My goal is to just get the kids to fight and play hard with every opponent."

Against Chetopa/St. Paul, Freshman Addie Mund led the way in kills with five. Jaeden Cook recorded 16 assists, while Kylie Speer and Jordan Wilson finished with seven digs each. Top performers against Colgan included Adyson Peck with five kills and Cook with three digs. Wrapping up the day against Labette County, Speer recorded six digs, and Wilson had two aces.

Saturday's quad was an addition to the schedule after the cancellation of the Sharon Wadman Charger Classic in Cherryvale due to concerns over COVID-19.

'Nado faces tough Frontenac squad but falls in three games

COFFEYVILLE — In a late addition to the schedule, the Lady 'Nado dropped a best three-of-five match against non-league foe Frontenac on Sept. 24.

Field Kindley lost in straight sets to the Raiders, 17-25, 7-25, 11-25.

"Frontenac is a good team," Cook said. "You can tell they have played together for awhile and played lots of club. Coffeyville girls haven't played much together and don't have a lot of club experience, so it's hard to compete against a team like that. I was proud of them the first set as they played with them, but then some of the girls just gave up after the first set. Trying to get these girls to compete is one of my biggest challenges this year ... changing their mentality to expecting to win."

No individual statistics were available from that match.

Road trip to Leon-Bluestem proves unfriendly to Bullpups

By BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org

LEON — It was another rough night on the court for the Caney Valley High School volleyball team. The Lady Bullpups dropped a pair of Tri-Valley League matches Tuesday evening at the Bluestem Triangular. CVHS fell in straight sets during both matches, including 17-25, 7-25 against host Bluestem and a 9-25,

10-25 decision to Eureka. The 'Pups watched their losing streak extend to 16 consecutive matches as they fell to 2-19 overall and 0-2 in the TVL. Caney Valley will be back in action on Oct. 6 at the Neodesha Triangular, taking on Humboldt and host Neodesha in league action.

No further information was available from Tuesday's Caney Valley matches as of press time.

In the other league match at the triangular, host Bluestem won in three sets over Eureka (21-25, 25-21, 25-19).

Caney Valley drops matches at Central

BURDEN — The Lady Bullpups

lost all three of their matches in pool play as part of the Central Invitational on Saturday.

CVHS dropped all three matches in straight sets to Flinthills (7-25, 15-25), Sedan (9-25, 14-25) and host Central of Burden (19-25, 19-25).

The Central Invitational was altered from its traditional 10-team, one-site tournament due to concerns over COVID-19. In addition to the Burden Pool, the event was divided into two other pools, including Caldwell, Oxford and Udall in Caldwell, as well as Argonia, Attica and Cunningham in Argonia. Only pool matches were played, with no champion declared.

'Pups lose struggle to Sedan, Oswego

MORAN — Despite taking two of its three opponents to three sets, Caney Valley dropped all three of its matches last Thursday at the Marmaton Valley Quad.

CVHS lost 2-1 to host Marmaton Valley (25-22, 11-25, 14-25) before falling in straight sets to Sedan (17-25, 8-25). The 'Pups capped off the evening with a three-set loss to Oswego (16-25, 25-21, 21-25).

"We had some absolutely great moments and some very not good moments," said CVHS coach Kirsten Ergenbright.

In the quad, Taylor Gilliland had a team-high 17 service points, while Maggie McVey, Evie Scoles and Morgan Hall had nine each. Gilliland also had eight aces. Scoles recorded 15 kills, 12 assists and seven blocks. Meanwhile, Ally Miller added 21 kills and 49 assists.

IHS tennis team in middle of pack at powerful TOC

By BRIAN THOMAS sports@taylornews.org

WICHITA — In one of its biggest tuneups for the postseason, the Independence High School girls' tennis team took sixth place overall in the 11-team Tournament of Champions on Saturday.

The Lady Bulldogs finished the tournament with a score of 49 points. Host Wichita Collegiate won the team championship with 79 points, followed by Kapaun Mount Carmel in second place at 78, Andover in third at 73, Topeka-Hayden in fourth at 54 and McPherson in fifth at 51. Rounding out the field behind Independence were Goddard Eisenhower in seventh at 47, Maize in eighth at 34, Wellington and the Blend Team tied for ninth at 10, and Parsons in 11th at 25.

"What a windy day for tennis," said IHS coach Sam Carnes. "I am glad that we faced some weather issues because you never know what Kansas will give us, and that helps us get ready for anything. As the season progresses, the chances for poor weather conditions increases. We earned sixth as a team, which is a solid result. I always say that I want to play our best in October. Well October is Thursday. We need to understand that the end of the season is coming, and we need to play with a sense of urgency. It's my job to get these ladies ready."

Leading the way for IHS in the tournament was the doubles team of Tia Gregory and Piper Marquez. Gregory and Marquez went 2-2 in the bracket to take sixth place overall. Also in the doubles bracket were Mercy Smith and Browyn O'Malley, who won three of their five matches on the day for 10th place overall.

In singles, the Lady Bulldogs had two competitors, including Abby Viele and Kristina Morrison. Morrison split her four matches on the day to take 13th place in the bracket. Viele won one of her three matches to take 18th place.

The Lady Bulldog tennis team will wrap up the regular season this week with today's Campus Invitational in Haysville, followed by the annual Southeast Kansas League Tournament Saturday in Parsons. IHS will be seeking a fourth straight league championship. Since the inception of the league tournament back in 1974, Independence has won 35 of the 46 teams crowns overall, including 14 of the last 16.

That leads into the postseason as the Lady Bulldogs will compete in the Class 4A Regional Tournament on Oct. 10 at Parsons. Also competing in that regional will be Chanute, Columbus, Field Kindley, Fort Scott, Iola, Labette County and Parsons. TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS

Area kids may join 4-H at no cost for 2020-21

4-H enrollment opens October 1, and thanks to the generous support of donors, Wildcat District students can enroll in the state program this year without paying the required $15 annual fee.

"Dozens of people bought dinner tickets, bid on silent auction items and sponsored our annual fundraiser," said Jerry Hall, Wildcat Extension Education Foundation Chairman. "Thanks to their support, we can cover the enrollment fees for hundreds of students throughout our district. We hope that by removing any financial barrier to student enrollment, we will have even more kids involved in the great programming and activities offered by our local 4-H clubs.

The Wildcat District Education Foundation was created in 2018 to solicit and receive funds in order to support and promote the activities of K-State Research and Extension's Wildcat District which covers Crawford. Labette, Montgomery and Wilson counties. To become a 4-H member. parents can call their county 4-H agent to determine which club is the best fit for their family. Wildcat District 4-H and Youth Development agents are: Will Morris (Crawford County): 620-724-8233, Cara Comstock (Labette County): 620-784-5337, Katie Townsend (Montgomery County): 620-331-2690 and Cheri Nelsen (Wilson County) 620-378-2167. Appellate court affirms conviction of local man charged with sex crime the aggravated criminal sod-

BY ANDY TAYLOF chronicle@taylornews.org

Montgomery County А man who is in a state prison following his conviction of aggravated indecent liberties with a minor will remain behind bars for 25 years to life, following affirmation of the prison sentence by the Kansas Court of Appeals on Friday.

However, the appellate court ruled that also the Montgomery County district court judge erred in giving Michael Dean Forrest, who is now an inmate at the Hutchinson Correctional Facility, a lifetime post release supervision. Therefore, the post release supervision is nullified. In July 2017, Forrest was charged with aggravated indecent liberties with a minor and aggravated criminal sodomy. Both crimes were Jessica's Law Offenses, calling for life sentences with no possibility of parole for 25 years.

Under a plea agreement between Forrest and the Montgomery County District Attorney's office, Forrest agreed to plead no contest to aggravated indecent liberties with a child, and the county attorney agreed to dismiss

Forrest hoped for a lighter sentence. During the sentencing phase, Forrest's attorney hired Dr. Robert Barnett, a clinical psychologist, to perform a psychosexual evaluation of Forrest. In Dr. Barnett's opinion, Forrest did not appear to be a pe-dophile or a sexual predator. He concluded that there was no evidence of mental disease or defect, but he believed that Forrest would benefit from psychotherapy or counseling to address symptoms of depression which stemmed from the charges. Barnett noted that Forrest had a substance abuse problem-Forrest used cannabis daily and the drug ecstasy occasionally-but Barnett concluded that Forrest "appears to be a reasonably good candidate for probation or some type of community placement."

However, the lead detective in the case testified in the sentencing hearing that Forrest continued to have a fascination with the victim, as evident through a series of letters written by Forrest to the victim whereby Forrest mentioned how he thought the two could continue a relationship after the minor turned 18.

Forrest sought a departure from the life sentence and noted that he had limited criminal history prior to the incidents involving the minor.

Judge William Cullins rejected Forrest's claims in that sentencing hearing and noted that he believed Forrest, through his continued communication with the victim, exhibited dangerous behavior.

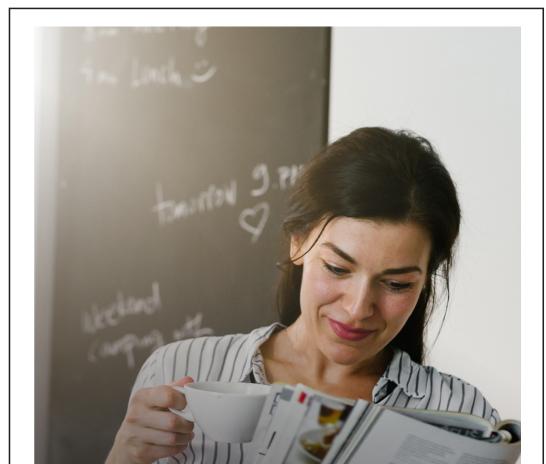

Therefore, Cullins issued a 25 year to life prison sentence with lifetime post release supervision if he was able to attain parole after 25 years.

The Kansas Court of Appeals ruled that Cullins was allowed judicial discretion in issuing the lifetime prison sentence but did not have the authority to issue lifetime post release supervision. The appellate court said previous case law specifically prohibits lower courts from ordering a term of post release supervision in conjunction with a lifetime prison sentence.

Instead, defendants sentenced to imprisonment are subject to lifetime parole, the appellate court said.

The appellate court vacated Cullins' issuance of lifetime postrelease supervision.

Forrest will not be eligible for parole until 2042.

CHERRYVALE - Spirit Week will be held next week at Cherryvale Middle-High School with several activities designed to bolster school spirit.

Events begin on Monday, Oct. 5. Throughout the entire week, students will be collecting canned food in order to "can the teacher." Students will use their canned good to vote for their favorite -- or least favorite teacher. The teacher with the most canned goods on Thursday evening will receive a pie in the face during Friday's pep rally. Following the competition, the canned goods will be taken to the Cherryvale Food Bank for donation.

In addition to "can the teacher," there will be dress-up days. On Monday, Oct. 5, students and staff are asked to show their colors. Freshmen will dress in black, sophomores in grey, juniors in white and seniors in blue while staff is asked to wear green. The class with the most participation will earn an ice cream party.

On Tuesday, Oct. 6, the students will be "hunting for a victory" with everyone wearing cammo.

On Wednesday, Oct. 7, the theme is "total confusion" with girls dressing as guys and guys dressing as girls.

Thursday, Oct. 8 will be "sporting for a win" and wearing gear representing a favorite team.

Concluding the week's activities on Friday, Oct. 9 will be Charger Day with everyone being asked to wear blue and white to show their school spirit

The traditional parade will take place at 2 p.m., Friday, Oct. 9, followed by a pep rally at the CMHS Gym afterward.

Coronation will take place at 6:30 p.m., at the Logan Park Stadium prior to the Cherryvale-Baxter Springs football game. After the game instead of a dance, there will be a celebration with music and games at the football field.

Sponsors for this year's homecoming are EZ Storage, JP Food & Fuel, and Jim Gill Agency, all of Cherryvale, and CJ Threads of Independence. Also helping to bring this event together is the Cherryvale Booster Club.

National Life Chain to rally for support for the unborn

CANEY — Local pro-life Christians will again form a line along Highway 75 in Caney as part of the National Life Chain on Sunday, Oct. 4.

The Life Chain will take place from 2 to 3 p.m., rain or shine.

The group, composed of Christians from many denominations, will stand silently and hold placards with positive wording to show their opposition to abortion.

For 33 years, pro-life Christians have taken this stand all across the United States and Canada. The chain is formed on the first Sunday in October.

They invite everyone to participate in this Life Chain, and there are no rules to folsilent and bold in the stand everyone is taking.

They will ask participants to space themselves 25 to 30 feet apart once they arrive. Placards will be provided.

On the back of each cardboard placard will be printed scriptures from the Bible. Participants will be asked to simply stand and silently read the provided scriptures.

As a central Bible scripture theme, they pointed to II Chronicles 7:14-15: "When God's people humble themselves, pray, seek his face and turn from their own ways, God will hear from Heaven, forgive a nation's sins and heal their land."

For information on the Life Chain, contact Miriam Staton, and will be held Nov. 21. Among the local graduates were:

PSU reports decline in testing demand and positive rate

PITTSBURG — The Bryant Student Health Center at Pittsburg State University reported Wednesday that the number of positive COVID-19 cases involving students continues to decline.

Currently, 12 students are in active isolation, down from 24 students in the last week, and the number of those quarantined also fell for the third straight week to about 50 students, according to Taylor Panczer, COVID-19 case manager at PSU.

In the seven days leading up to Wednesday, Sept. 23, the Bryant Student Health Center tested 33 individuals, down 50 from the previous seven-day span. Of those, eight tested positive. Eight tests were pending as of Wednesday afternoon.

Among faculty and staff, four new cases were reported in the most recent seven-day period. Currently, four faculty/staff are in isolation and five are in quarantine due to possible exposure. Since the university began tracking in March, 14 faculty/staff have reported infections, and 36 have had to quarantine for any reason.

Panczer noted that the only tested/positive numbers the university can reliably report are those from the Bryant Student Health Center. Isolation and quarantine numbers will differ from the Crawford County Health Department report due to student being tested elsewhere and then later reporting as PSU students via the health department.

New testing strategy to target asymptomatic Kansans in at-risk areas

BY NOAH TABORDA Kansas Reflector

TOPEKA — Gov. Laura Kelly on Monday announced a COVID-19 testing strategy that will target asymptomatic Kansans in areas with high community spread.

The current state plan limits access to testing for those with symptoms or exposure to individuals with confirmed infections. Phase one of the state's new plan will provide testing for those without symptoms in "atrisk congregate settings," like correctional facilities, schools and nursing homes.

Kelly said the goal of the new plan is to help cover gaps in testing across the state.

"With shared goals and clear metrics, this coordinated strategy will go a long way in ensuring we can effectively test our population and identifying where the virus exists in our communities," Kelly said. "Together with the use of masks and recommended social distancing, we can better contain the must increase. She said the state is currently administering about 16,000 per week, and under the new plan that number should continue to grow.

Senate Majority Leader Jim Denning, a Republican from Overland Park, had previously said the state had a capacity of about 2,800 per week. The goal was to ramp up to 10,800 tests per day to show the state's positivity rate is closer to 5%.

Marci Nielson, vice president for policy and strategy at the Government Employees Health Association, will lead the new testing strategy. She previously served as president and CEO of the Patient-Centered Primary Care Collaborative in Washington, D.C., and worked at the University of Kansas Medical Center.

Kelly said Nielsen already has begun work with stakeholders and the Kansas Department of Health and Environment.

The hope is the testing strategy will provide a clear framework for everyone across the state. Kelly described the current strategy as a "patchwork and a hodgepodge of stuff." "It's more of having everybody operating from the same premise and having one portal to go through, rather than having the nursing homes over here doing this, the schools doing this, somebody else doing that," Kelly said. "Just having it all operating under here, so we know what's going on and we know where we need to focus." Phase one will focus on screening the population by adding asymptomatic carriers in at-risk areas. When resources and need allow, Kelly said, they will move to surveillance testing, or testing groups outside of congregate living, within the community.

Kelly announced the expanded testing strategy paid for with more than $50 million in CARES act funding allocated to testing in September - following the highest number of cases in a reporting period for the state.

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment confirmed 2,037 cases and five new deaths since Friday. That brings the state totals to 58,629 cases and 637 deaths since the pandemic began.
