

New Sunshine House director devoted to mission

BY ROXANNE HILL
Staff Writer

The Sunshine House Senior Center in Alpine has always fulfilled its mission of providing quality nourishment and social enrichment in the lives of the seniors it serves. Set to continue that mission is new Executive Director Kerie van Zeyst.

Kerie van Zeyst

She was previously assistant director for about year, and took the reins in early January after Director Judy Ford's retirement.

Because of COVID concerns, Sunshine House has not fully opened its doors to the public, and the dining hall, computer room, library, TV room, and quilting room are still closed. Also, there is still no weekly bingo, a popular activity with many clients.

TSUS announces interim president process for Sul Ross

BY GAIL DIANE YOVANOVICH
Managing Editor

According to a statement released last week, the Texas State University System Administration has begun the process of identifying potential candidates to serve as interim president of Sul Ross State University upon President Pete Gallego's departure at the end of the spring semester. Gallego previously announced he will leave the university June 4.

TSUS spokesman Mike Wintemute talked with the Avalanche earlier this week, and said the interim president will likely be named later in the spring, although a specific date hasn't yet been set. The only time line that must be met is to insure the interim president is in place by June 4.

TSUS Chancellor Brian McCall and others in the system administration have begun the process of identifying potential candidates for interim president at Sul Ross. The process hasn't concluded, and many of those to whom McCall has reached out are individuals who have served in higher education leadership positions within Texas, and with whom the chancellor was familiar.

Said Wintemute, "Ideally President Gallego would be working with the interim president before he leaves. That would be the ideal arrangement. Regardless of the type of presidential search, it's always ideal to have the incoming president overlap with the outgoing president so they have an opportunity to work together to pass the baton."

Alpine celebrates new priest

Newly ordained Fr. Alfonso Coronado, previously a deacon at Our Lady of Peace Catholic Church in Alpine, smiles joyfully with Fr. Pablo Matta and Fr. Victorino Loresca at the church Parish Hall on Jan. 30. Many friends and family, as well as parishioners, attended the big fiesta for Coronado, and toasted him for the occasion. He also celebrated his first mass at Our Lady of Peace, followed by a dinner and social gathering with plenty of food, drink, celebratory cakes, and more.

Aiming for the target a mile-high

BY ROXANNE HILL
Staff Writer

While many people will be watching the Super Bowl while tucked inside the comfort of their homes, another group of enthusiasts will be participating in its own gridiron fest - the annual WesTex Run n' Gun. This ultimate test of endurance will feature running and marksmanship at Historic Prude Ranch in the Davis Mountains.

This five-mile biathlon event, held Friday through Sunday, Feb. 11-13, is not for the faint of heart. Possessing the strength and stamina to withstand rugged terrain while running, and being able to shoot on target are some of the core competencies tested.

"If this were easy, there'd be a lot more people who would want to do it," said Bruce Davis, general manager of Prude Ranch. "It's not an easy event. Thirty percent of your scores are how fast you run the course, and 70 percent of your scores are how well you do at the shooting stations."

Traditionally held on Super Bowl weekend, the run n' gun events take place all over Texas, and Davis started one in 2016 at the ranch.

He said the president of Prude Ranch, Bill Caruth, who has a home in Fort Davis, connected with Davis to start a biathlon for summer campers at the ranch using 22-caliber rifles. Though the gun n' run tests a variety of skills such as speed and quickness, along with tactical ability and coping with pressure situations, safety is of the utmost importance, and is emphasized thoroughly.

"This is a firearm-related activity, and you've got to have training and upmost of care and expertise when you're messing with firearms in any way," said Davis.

Some stations alternate between rifle and handgun shooting, and there is a time limit on each station. Participants must carry their own ammo and water,

West Texas Safari Club donates to scholarship endowment

The West Texas Chapter of Safari Club International has made a $5,000 donation to support an endowed scholarship at the Borderlands Research Institute at Sul Ross State University. The endowment was set up by the West Texas chapter in 2014, and has been supporting students ever since.

This year's scholarship recipients are graduate students Daniel Wilcox and Olivia Gray. Wilcox's thesis project is investigating the impact of aoudad expansion into native bighorn and mule deer range. Gray is studying the dietary overlap of aoudad, desert bighorn sheep, and mule deer in the Trans-Pecos.

"The West Texas Chapter of Safari Club International aims to keep a large portion of the funds we raise for local use," said Brandon Bredemeyer, board president of the West Texas Chapter of Safari Club International. "It makes sense for us to invest in the education of future conservation scientists whose research benefits projects where we live, work, and enjoy the outdoors. We see it as an investment in our future that will benefit future generations of outdoor enthusiasts."

Raising taxes on city's radar

BY ROXANNE HILL
Staff Writer

The City of Alpine held its regularly scheduled city council meeting on Feb. 1, and taxes led the discussion.

"We don't necessarily want to raise taxes. I know that's it's never something that council wants to ask, but after so many years of not raising it, you become stagnant," Interim City Manager Megan Antrim said. "You can't keep moving forward because you don't have any money coming in. That is where we are at. Your money has got to come in from somewhere, and your two biggest sources right now are sales tax and property tax."

One to two percent options were offered, with Antrim contemplating what would be the effect on the community and the budget, along with the best interests of the city.

Director of Utilities Keith Segar then provided a report, and Mayor Andy Ramos commented on the city's aging infrastructure, saying, "In the past, city council has been reluctant to go out for monies to rehab the infrastructure, and it's catching up to us. We are in a serious situation, and we just cannot just put a band-aid on it anymore. It's not just a matter of raising the taxes, it's where they are going to."

Segar hoped federal funding might be available but said the issue was an "inconvenient truth." Next, Antrim provided an EMS update, indicating that during its last meeting, Big Bend Regional Hospital District took no action as far as taking over EMS after April 30. She said it was Brewster County's responsibility to provide EMS services, and Big Bend Regional Medical Center also expressed interest. Nevertheless, cost would be a significant consideration.

Antrim added, "This is going to be a business, it is going to cost me, and I'm going to pass on those costs on to you."

Big Bend Regional Hospital District Director J.D. Newsom added he was anticipating a proposal from the hospital from a hospital-based EMS service.

In other business, the council thoroughly discussed the proposed contract with Austin-based waste collection service TDS, and Rick Fraumann and City Attorney Rod Ponton reviewed the entirety of the contract. The issue will be up for a vote at the next city council meeting.

TDS proposed a three-year, five-year, and 10-year option for the contract with the city. Some of the issues discussed were the city's landfill, illegal dumping, the Hal Flanders Recycling Center and its use for county residents, and rates that TDS would charge the city for the services.

Finally, Lisa Fielder of Chisos Brewery provided an update on the proposed craft brewery, which would be located on Murphy Street. Fielder said the brewery would benefit the city financially with increased tourism and added, "Our goal is to lure them at least overnight, so they patronize nearby businesses, other bars in the region, hotels, and we hope to bring general prosperity."

The next regularly scheduled city council meeting is set for Tuesday, Feb. 15 at 5:30 p.m. in the city council chambers and via Zoom videoconferencing.

Texas, our Texas flag

“Honor the Texas flag; I pledge allegiance to thee, Texas, one state under God, one and indivisible.”

Children across our state recite this pledge at the start of every school day. Placing their right hands over their hearts, they take a moment to pause and appreciate the independent spirit of our beloved Lone Star State.

Many identify this famous moniker with the Texas flag, which proudly bears a single white star. But the story of our flag's design and unusual history deserves to be shared, especially as we celebrated its 183rd anniversary on Jan. 25.

In 1839 the Republic of Texas adopted the bold flag as a symbol of our fierce independence. Each color represents a staple characteristic of our state - red for bravery, white for purity, and blue for loyalty. The red and white stripe resemble the flag of the Republic of Fredonia, a short-lived Republic near modern-day Nacogdoches that seceded from Mexico in the 1820s. The famous single star represents all Texans standing together for God, state, and country.

JOHN CORNYN
Texas U.S. Senator

Before our current flag cemented its place in history, two others shared some time in the spotlight, though both were eventually removed. Stephen F. Austin and Lorenzo de Zavala created their own ideas for the Texas flag, but neither of these ideas was formally adopted. In 1839, the national flag was approved, marking the official beginning of our state's present-day flag.

While the original mastermind of our beloved flag is still unknown, some speculate the creator of the Lone Star flag may have been Montgomery County resident and former representative in the Texas Congress, Charles B. Stewart. It is said his sketches looked suspiciously similar to those of Peter Krag's design, which would ultimately become the flag we know and love today. Stewart's drawings even included an interesting detail from some of Krag's previous artwork - an upside-down copy of Republic of Texas President Mirabeau Lamar's signature.

After the legislation to make the flag the official symbol of the Republic of Texas introduced in 1838, it wasn't long before Texas joined the Union in 1845, and brought our beloved flag with us. From 1879-1933, Texas was technically flagless due to a state civil statutes revision which did not renew the flag code but in 1933 the Texas Flag Code was enacted, finally codifying our state flag.

Today, the Texas flag serves as one of only two state flags that have doubled as a national flag, the other being Hawaii.

While six flags have flown over Texas, the one we know and love today has withstood the test of time. Whenever we catch a glimpse of the Lone Star flag billowing in the wind, let's take a moment to thank our lucky stars for that unwavering symbol of freedom.

Building well-rounded students

As Alpine ISD moves into February, the challenges are many and varied as they are for everyone across our nation.

However, if we look around us, there are equally as many opportunities to celebrate the accomplishments and spirit of the youth in this community. There are many successes from UIL competitions in academics, career, technology, engineering, and band programs, as well as athletics.

This week, the district has been notified by the Texas High School Coaches Association that Alpine High School has been named a state finalist for the 2021-2022 National Football Foundation High School Academic Excellence Award.

DENNIS MCENTIRE
Alpine ISD Interim Superintendent

The athletic success of the sports teams of a district are a source of pride and community spirit. It is equally as important to recognize that sports teach lasting lessons in strong community values, teamwork, sportsmanship, and the hard work required to reach difficult goals.

The mission of Alpine ISD is primarily the academic success of students. However, the lessons learned in the classroom do not translate into success in life without the values taught by the family, participation in athletics, and the equally valuable lessons learned in all the extracurricular activities, from stock shows to band, robotics, and welding.

Being named as a finalist for this prestigious award is an indicator of well-balanced academic and competitive programming.

When the community has an opportunity to celebrate accomplishments of its student athletes for academic excellence, it should be a special source of pride in the well-rounded youth of Alpine ISD.

Please join me in congratulating not just the football team for this well-deserved honor, but all AISD students and staff for the hard work and dedication required to be successful in extracurricular and academic programs.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Face the truth

People of faith and ethics, we must master our fear. We are coming up on almost two years of contradictory and harmful orders from the government. It is exhausting to live in fear and difficult to think. To get out of fear, we need to be strong, courageous, and clear minded.

One example of the contradictory and harmful guidance given to us is masks. First we were told they didn't work. Then they were mandated. Recently, they "discovered" cloth masks, which had been mandated on the premise that they would prevent death, don't work at all. Nor do surgical masks. Now they are promising you will not die if everyone wears N-95.

At the same time authorities openly state that omicron is very mild, and will help confer immunity on our whole population. Something is very wrong here. If we stand in faith and think, we will be able to see what is wrong.

There has been a lot of death and injury across the country since the vaccines rolled out. It's time to deeply research these products. The FDA listed about 20 conditions they were looking to track after introducing them. These included death, heart/lung problems, neurological disease, autoimmune disorders, and cancer. If you are suffering adverse effects, there are doctors who understand. There is a COVID vaccine injury compensation fund through the federal government. This may help with financial pressure.

Although the knowledge we gain may be frightening, we must be courageous. We can face the truth of what is happening, and reclaim the society of love which Martin Luther King, a man who faced death every day, hoped for us all.

Heard on the STREET

Our Avalanche reporter asked, "Are you a cat or a dog person?"

Katie Daley, Terlingua: I'm definitely a dog person. A dog loves you to death even when you have to punish him. A cat will get revenge. A dog loves to play and interact most of the time with you, a cat has to be in the mood. Now, I respect cats for being authentic and see their royalty essence, I just enjoy playing with a dog a lot more. Plus, I'm allergic to cats.

Rena Gallego, Alpine: Dogs, because they have unconditional love, and they keep me company. I don't have babies, so those are my babies.

Tina Neufeld, Alpine: Cats, because they are easier to handle and are low maintenance.

J.D. Lammons, Alpine: Dogs. They are more manageable. Our dog lives with four cats. We have both, but the dog is more manageable than the cats.

Manny Contreras, Alpine: Dogs, because they love you unconditionally, and cats are weirdos.

PET OF THE WEEK

Alpine Humane Society Pet of the Week is Ida. She would enjoy a patient, loving household, and would benefit from extra love and attention so she can settle into a happy life. She appreciates relaxed living, and likes being indoors but is not against enjoying an afternoon under the shade on a cool patio. When going out, she seems to be in her element riding shotgun in the car. Once very nervous and shy, Ida is coming out of her shell. She is participating in playgroups, and showing her athletic side. This young Lab mix is a beautiful dog, and will make a wonderful companion for the right human.

Having your pet microchipped is one way to identify them if they become lost. A vet or rescue group can scan the chip and obtain your contact information. You can have your pet chipped at the Alpine Animal Shelter for a small charge. It could be a lifesaver!

Alpine Animal Services handles pet adoptions at the city shelter, 10 a.m.-1 p.m. and 2-6 p.m. Monday through Friday at 2900 East Old Marathon Highway.

The Alpine Humane Society Thrift Store and Cattery is at 706 North Fifth Street in Alpine, open 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. For information about shelter pet adoptions, cremation services, or lost/found pets, call the shelter at 432-837-9030. To view adoptable pets, visit alpinehumane.society.org.

Sul Ross gets state money

The Texas State University System has received more than $60 million in state support for Sul Ross State University, including an historic investment of more than $59 million for capital projects in the university's two service regions. The funding, secured by TSUS leadership during the 2021 legislative sessions, includes $33.1 million for multi-purpose education buildings in the Rio Grande College service area, $26.4 million toward renovations of fine arts buildings in Alpine, and $1 million in recurring state general revenue support to enhance the university's student success initiatives.

"This funding for Sul Ross represents an historic investment in South and West Texas, and will go very far to help give our students the tools needed to prepare them for meaningful careers in Texas' robust workforce," said Texas House Speaker Dade Phelan. "I commend the Texas State University System for continuing to make Sul Ross a priority, and for laying out a thoughtful process to ensure the best use of these funds."

TSUS institutions will receive a combined $422.6 million in capital project support under Senate Bill 52, the capital construction assistance bill passed by the Legislature in the third special session of 2021.

sometime in the spring, but all decisions are up to the Board of Directors, who makes the final determination.

According to van Zeyst, there has been a significant increase in the number of seniors who need meals delivered to them via Meals on Wheels, as more have been homebound. Previously around 150 clients asked for the service, and that number is now around 260.

"In our area we don't have any nursing homes anymore, and we don't have any long-term care facilities, so it's important that we try to keep people in their homes," explained van Zeyst. "We have an aging population in Alpine, so it's important that we do our part to keep them in their own home safely, with good nutrition, with the mobility equipment that we have, and that helps that whole cross section of our population."

The Sunshine House also has medical equipment that can be loaned out to seniors, including mobility equipment such as walkers, canes, and more. For clients who are mobile, they can still check out newspapers, magazines, books, greeting cards, DVDs, and more from Sunshine House, and may use the public wi-fi while they are outside on the benches.

Van Zeyst credited Brewster County and the generous businesses and donors who have contributed to the center, along with the Sunshine House staff who make sure everything runs smoothly. She is gratified to be working with a dedicated and zealous team to continue to fulfill the Sunshine House mission.

Despite some limited programs, there are plans to bring back the popular Wild West fundraiser later in the year, and van Zeyst is hopeful it can be in person again.

"Our biggest challenge is getting back open in person," she said. "That is going to be the big hurdle and the big joy, and the biggest accomplishment this year is just getting back a little more towards normality, and how we were before COVID came along. We are looking forward to the day when we can have all of our clients inside with us again, and everybody can enjoy the senior center."

and cannot run with a loaded firearm. Range officers are on hand at each station, and are military veterans or former law enforcement officers. Davis said 35 participants are expected to run the course on Friday, and 85 on Saturday. Prude Ranch will provide meals to all participants and lodging is offered with bunkhouses and conventional cabins.

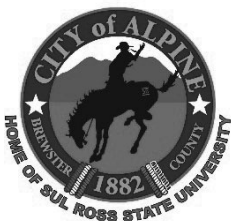

Families are welcome to lodge, but no children or guests are allowed on the course, as it's strictly not a spectator event.

In the event of hazardous driving conditions due to predicted freezing weather, the event will be postponed to two weeks later.

"Marksmanship is important, but you also have to be in good physical condition to go out there," said Davis. "We have a pretty drastic change in elevation from 4,000 feet to 5,200 feet. It is going up and down, and it's a rugged course. The road is smooth in some places, and at some places you're not on the road at all, you are in rocky trails."

For those prepared to withstand the vigorous challenge, there is no shortage of excitement at Historic Prude Ranch.

Wintemute stressed it was not a requirement for candidates to be within the Texas State University System. He said McCall was considering a wide range of higher education leaders both within and outside of the system.

"One of the reasons the chancellor decided to appoint an interim president at this time rather than launch a full-scale national search is to have someone who can come in and continue to focus on meeting institutional goals that are important for everyone without losing momentum in that process," said Wintemute.

He noted national presidential searches were time consuming and resource intensive, and could sometimes lead to institutions putting long term initiatives on pause until a new president was identified and brought on board.

"This will allow the important work of the institution, faculty, and staff to continue without disruption," said Wintemute.

No goal or timeline for appointing a permanent president was in place beyond expecting the interim to serve through the end of the 2022-2023 academic year.

Avocados not a cold-hardy plant

Dear Neil: This is our Lila avocado. I set it in our garage with a heat lamp last February. It survived, although it had no fruit. Now the slit in the trunk has become much worse. Do you think it will make it?

It looks like the trunk and bark are extremely compromised. It appears to be trying to heal, but only time will tell. Assuming the tree does survive, the pot won't be large enough as it grows and develops. You'll need a much larger container. Hopefully it will heal enough to bear for you. Keep it moist at all times, and protect it from freezing temperatures. You lose a lot of winter-hardiness

 by neil sperry

when you have a plant's root system above ground, and avocados don't have much hardiness in the first place. Good luck with it!

Dear Neil: We have almost a dozen Italian cypress trees in our backyard. They seem to be dying, and it's getting worse. We thought we saw spider webs on some. What would cause this browning, and what can we do to save them?

Spider mites do attack Italian cypress. They usually start toward the bottoms of the plants, and flush upward and outward. Assuming you have not applied any type of insecticide or miticide, the best way to tell for sure is to thump a branch that is starting to turn brown (but not already brown) over a sheet of white paper. If you can see ultra-tiny (almost microscopic) specks of reddish-brown starting to move around on the paper after 20-30 seconds, those are the spider mites. The type that attacks cypress and junipers will show up in winter, unlike the ones we see on tomatoes, beans, marigolds, and so many other plants in the summer. If you see the mites, spray the plants thoroughly with a general-purpose insecticide. Be careful to penetrate all the branches with the spray.

Lila avocado.

The browned needles won't green up again, however. You may ultimately decide that you need to replace them just to get a better look to your landscape. I'd suggest Oakland holly as an upright shrub that is better suited and more easily maintained.

Girls basketball remains undefeated

BY GLENN MCCARTHY
Sports Correspondent

With strong play behind their starting guards senior point guard Jenica Portillo and shooting guard Novah Carrasco, the Lady Bucks remained undefeated in district play with a big win over the Presidio Lady Devils, 55-26.

Portillo's good ball handling allowed Alpine to run its offense the whole game, trap on defense when necessary, and come up with lots of opportune steals. Carrasco had 14 points to lead all Alpine scorers. After a giant blowout home win against Anthony, the Lady Bucks beat these same Lady Devils in Presidio, 40-27.

Head Coach Rick Garcia said of the big district win on the Sul Ross State campus, "This has always been a sweet place to play, girls love it, and we came out here and practiced. The girls looked like they were at home, and everyone was in synch, and it carries over. That's where it starts."

They then went on to beat Tornillo 67-39 Jan. 14 at their place, then Kermit on Jan. 21, and Anthony 66-33, all on the road. That was four big road games before returning to Alpine and the Gallego Center.

The Lady Bucks have been playing without junior Jasmine DeLeon to a knee injury. Alpine controlled the tip, though the Lady Devils got on the board first as Ysel Castro nailed a three, 3-0. Chloe Cordova scored the first Alpine points on an 18-footer. Cordova then converted under the basket after Alpine had four offensive boards fall to them before she snatched one down and scored.

Awards continue to pour in for football team

Canaba signs with Hardin-Simmons

BY GLENN MCCARTHY
Sports Correspondent

Coach John Fellows just received an award he cannot quit bragging and smiling about. That's because it's for his football team and all his players. They were awarded The Texas High School Coaches Association Texas state finalist for academic excellence. The Fightin' Buck football team, along with 13 other high school teams, was named a finalist in 3A.

The award requires a certain number of student athletes over a 3.0 and 3.5 GPA. Fellows and his staff had 30 All-District academic kids and six All-State in Jayden Canaba, Jaime Rodriguez, Derek Schwierjohn, Aiden Morrissey, Shaun Foster, and Jeremy Dominguez.

Jayden Canaba

Said Fellows on what really matters, "We preach to our young men to be men of high character in the classroom as well as on the field. So, we are very proud of this team, and it's well deserved. It's an honor to be their coach."

Foster and Canaba also placed first on the All-Permian Basin team, Foster as a defensive end and Canaba as a punter. Foster was also Second Team Defensive Linemen on the Padilla Poll All-State team for 3A.

Last week star quarterback-defensive back-punter Canaba committed to the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys in Abilene. He signed with them Feb. 1, now dubbed late signing day. A ceremony was held at the high school gym.

Canaba was excited for his school selection, saying, "From the moment I got there, it felt like home. I feel very honored and humbled to be able to play for a university with a winning tradition and a great coaching staff. They talked to me about playing quarterback and developing my strengths so that in the next couple of years, I can be playing my best ball on Saturdays."

Canaba finished with, "It doesn't hurt that I am sticking to the purple and gold. Saddle up!"

Bucks toss aside Presidio at Gallego

BY GLENN MCCARTHY
Sports Correspondent

The Alpine Fightin' Buck basketball team came back from nine points down to the Presidio Blue Devils to smash them in the second half at the Gallego center, 56-42. Aiden Morrissey had 15 points to lead all scorers, Esteban Macias had 10 points, and Jayden and Jace Canaba had 13 and 9 points respectively.

Coach Hugh Morrissey said of playing at Gallego, "Kids love playing at SRSU. It's awesome that Sul Ross works and supports Alpine athletics. We have been blessed not only this year but in previous years that the community comes out and supports these boys in big games. Hopefully we get the same turnout for Tuesday, as we play Tornillo who is undefeated. If we win, we will be tied for first. Naturally some kids get a little jitters, anxious, and excited to play in these big games, but that's what makes it fun."

On the difficulty of playing in a bigger gym,

Coach Morrissey said, "Yes, depth perception, playing in a bigger court, etc., it took us a little to get use to playing in the arena, but it's great to play in gyms like this as that is what we will play in come playoffs."

On playing in the gym his father coaches' volleyball in and his sister starred in, Jayden Canaba said, "It's definitely special. Jace and I have been shooting and putting in work there since we were in elementary school."

Jace Canaba added, "It feels like we have home court advantage because like my brother said, we've grown up in that gym. It's nice to be able to play at the Gallego Center, and get a big crowd out like we did tonight."

The Bucks had an early 4-0 lead when Tray Ervin took charge. Presidio is a taller, bigger team than the boys in purple. The Bucks relinquished the lead with two easy Blue Devil run outs, and a

Buck powerlifters host Alpine Invitational

BY GLENN MCCARTHY
Sports Correspondent

On Jan. 29 at the Alpine High School gymnasium, Buck powerlifting hosted the Alpine Invitational. The six schools represented by lifters were Kermit, Fort Stockton, Monahans, Alpine, Marfa, and Wink.

The Alpine lady lifters had the best showing, finishing with a third place. Mia Morris placed first in her 97-pound weight class. Kermit finished first, and Monahans second above Alpine.

Coach Jarrett Vickers said of the tournament, "Being a newcomer to Alpine, I was blown away at the amount of community support and volunteers that we had to put on the meet. We couldn't have done it without them!"

And on how his lifters performed, he added, "I think the team performed really well. They did not have to get up as early as we normally do, so I think they really enjoyed that. I definitely think the work they are putting in in the weight room is truly paying off."

Jesse Portillo, Oscar Vasquez, Reese Ahrens, do-it-all Marco Martinez, Zack Walsh, Ryan Gooch and Tristan Smith were all lifters in the competition for Alpine.

"This year the second meet started really well," said Gooch. "I'm just glad to be back after that ACL injury. I'm proud that we have everyone here, and everyone showed up to support us."

Mia Morris, Kaylee Fierro, Sierra Ruckman, Madalyn Warren, Hannah Vidal, Enyssa Fierro, and Sarah Wilborn were all the girls competing.

Sophomore Mia Morris said, "I'm really comfortable at home here in our gym. Now everything I've been working for has come to this moment, and all that hard work is paying off."

When asked how she juggles three sports - volleyball, powerlifting, and track and field - Morris said, "The weight room is my main priority. I am in the weight room all the time. I think lifting weights correlates well with the other two. They balance out."

found Jenica Portillo on a fast break for an easy layup, and during the defensive possession following, she stole the ball and had another easy layup. Portillo then launched another shot from 16 feet off the top of the key. Rodriguez had another put back, and Alpine was up 17-7.

After a big block for Cordova and the ensuing madness, a Lady Blue Devil came down with a rebound. She missed her put back attempt, and Cordova finally corralled the rebound. Ali Maroney then had a put back and Alpine led 22-9, cruising.

Amory Aranda had a steal and a nifty pass to Jenica Portillo, who missed her first attempt but followed it with a second chance.

It was sloppy going in the second half before Rodriguez crushed a three to make it 35-18, Lady Bucks. With beautiful passing Carrasco found Portillo who hit Maroney for an easy layup, 37-18 Alpine. Cordova nailed a basket as the third quarter ran out, 45-22 Lady Bucks.

"I really like it, I feel like it gets my adrenaline pumping even more, and I am so proud of my team," said Carrasco of the home win. "We really worked hard together, and we would be nothing without our army-like cohesion. We are all connected."

And on being undefeated in district play, she added, "It feels great I don't think we have been undefeated in district since 2003."

Of the 55-26 win, Portillo said, "Getting the win is the best feeling, especially right now on being 6-0. I think the adrenaline of being undefeated gets us more pumped for every game."

Alpine beat Tornillo 57-34 on Feb. 1 for Senior Night, and will have this Friday off. They will head to Kermit on Tuesday, Feb. 8, for their final season matchup before playoffs begin.

BUCKS • FROM 8

11-9 Presidio lead to close out the first quarter. It was 9 to 16 when Gavin Wash picked up another charge against the Blue Devils.

Aiden Morrissey had a sneaky steal, and he did find a wide open Jace Canaba for a three-pointer, 18-14 Blue Devils. Aiden nailed a three to make it 24-23, then followed it with yet another three-pointer.

Dom Fierro had an easy layup underneath, then Jace with a shot underneath, and a 36-32 Alpine lead.

Aiden crushed a three from the left corner, and followed that up with a beautiful layup with full arm extension. He unfortunately missed a three-pointer at the end of the quarter.

Jayden Canaba then got a steal, and finished with a layup and 46-38 Alpine in the fourth. He nailed a three with 4:14 left in the game, and Jace converted an old fashion three-point play as he knocked down the free throw.

On a steal, Jayden found Aiden to seal the game for another easy layup.

About his game, Jace said, "It helps that my teammates have a lot of confidence in me, and encourage me to keep shooting. Luckily my shots were falling tonight, and we were able to get some big stops there at the end."

Alpine had a big game on Feb. 1 against Anthony, the only team in district to have beaten them. If Alpine wins they will share first place with the Wildcats. They are off this Friday and will resume play Tuesday, Feb. 8, at home for Senior Night against Kermit.

The easiest rolls you will ever make

It is Tuesday night. You have made your chicken dish in your InstaPot, your mashed potatoes and green beans are ready, and your dinner is complete. Except, oh no, you have forgotten the dinner rolls! The frozen rolls in your freezer will take too long to thaw and bake at this point, thus ruining your dinner. Have no fear, your dilemma is solved with easy, no-yeast dinner rolls.

I know what you are thinking. How can you make a dinner roll without yeast? Well, it is easy.

HEAD OVER MEALS
by kara gerbert

While this recipe only makes about five rolls, it is simple enough to double it if you need more.

There is no yeast, no kneading, and no rising required. In 20 minutes, you have the bread portion of your meal.

Since I enjoy experimenting with recipes, I have added shredded cheese to my no-yeast rolls in the past. They turned out surprisingly good. In fact, these are so easy and quick there are several ways to add extra flavor to them. You are only limited by your imagination and your willingness to step outside the box.

So grab your mayonnaise, your milk, your salt, flour, and baking powder, and any other flavor you might want to add, and mix yourself up a batch with your next meal. They are guaranteed to satisfy when you are pressed for time, or plain forgot about the bread element of your meal.

Questions, comments, or suggestions? Contact Kara at foodie9372@gmail.com.

Simple Dinner Rolls

Ingredients:

- 1 cup flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 tblsp. mayonaise

Directions:

Preheat your oven to 350 degrees, and mix all your dry ingredients. Add in milk and mayonaise, and stir until mixed well. Spoon into greased muffin tins, and bake for approximately 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Your dinner roll dilemma is solved.

What makes a successful marriage?

BY ROBBIE BOYD, INTERIM PASTOR
First Baptist Church Alpine

There are lots of books and marriage seminars, and you can hear many good things that will help marriages be strong and last a lifetime. And, by the way, there is nothing wrong with doing any of those things – just be discerning about what you read and listen to. I have learned a few things after being married for 41 years to the same woman. We haven't always done it right, but we've done enough things correctly that neither of us can imagine life without the other. Try a few of these:

Find a few older Christian couples who have been together a long time and ask lots of questions.

Find a few couples who are (or have been) doing it wrong (divorces, separations, critical attitudes, etc.) and learn from them too.

When - not if - you disagree or argue with each other, get it solved and move on. Don't let it linger. Practice forgiveness often.

Love isn't the feeling you get from snuggling or sex. Love is your commitment to each other.

This Devotional and Directory are sponsored by these businesses who encourage us to attend worship services.

ment to each other. This is how real love can take you thru the hard times. It isn't dependent on how you feel at the moment. Never use sex (withholding it) to get back at each other for something.

Find creative ways to say "I love you," and do them often.

Your first loyalty (outside of God) is to each other. . .period. Nobody comes before your spouse.

Never criticize each other to, or in front of, other people, even your growing-up family. If you can't depend on and trust each other, you're already in trouble.

Always brag on each other in front of other people, especially your growing-up family.

Find a good church with solid small groups that have married couples, and get involved regularly. It isn't necessarily about going to church. It's about learning how to be a Christian couple who loves God and loves each other when the rest of the world is trying to tear you apart. Find a church that teaches the Bible, supports families, and will come alongside of you to help you be the married couple that God created you to be.

DO NOT WAIT until your septic system shows signs of failure to have your septic tank pumped out!

Waiting can mean complete clogging and an expensive septic system repair bill. Periodic septic tank pumping is far less costly than septic tank repair or replacing the entire septic tank system.

We recommend septic system cleaning every 2-5 years.

Remember: Maintenance is much cheaper than replacement!

FOUNDED IN 1945 & STILL GOING STRONG.

Dear Porter's Customers,

Porters has had the pleasure of serving communities in West Texas since 1945. In that time, our company has gone through many changes. Through those changes, we have remained steadfast in our commitment to the communities we serve, the people on our Team, and offer an exceptional place to shop, where we treat customers like family.

Today we are excited to announce changes to our Alpine, Fort Davis and Presidio locations.

In Alpine, we are excited to announce that we will completely renovate our 2nd street store, this process will begin in a couple of weeks. This process will not be without challenges. We will close the 2nd street store and operate all our business out of the E. Sul Ross location. Going down to one location when the community is accustomed to two will definitely increase the traffic experienced at this location. Our team stands ready to serve you and will work hard to ensure our standards are upheld through this process. The result will be a brand new, modern, state-of-the art store ready to serve our customers in the region.

In Fort Davis, we are excited to announce that we have purchased land on State Street and Douglas Drive. Our new building will be built from the ground up to offer our customers a brand-new Porters location. In the next few months, you will see construction begin, and we will share updates along the way.

In Presidio, we are almost complete with our remodel of the old Shopko building on Hwy. 67. This location has been completely renovated and offers a new, beautiful place for Presidio and neighboring Ojinaga customers to find their groceries.

Change is never easy, and we appreciate your patience and understanding while we work hard to make this happen for the communities we serve.

We thank you for your trust and for investing in us; we are excited to invest in you with these three new locations to serve you for years to come.

Sincerely,

The Porters Team
