Code Enforcer joins forces with Elderly Without Families

LADONNA RHODES
STAFF WRITER

When Adam Arden took over being the Code Enforcer for the City of Checotah just a little over a year ago he had no idea how much he would be “thinking outside the box” to keep the city ordinances up to code. He sure enough didn’t know he would join forces with Elderly Without Families (E.W.F.) to get the job done.

The City of Checotah has been committed to working with the local residents to improve the city; the neighborhoods and the business corridors to not only protect property values but to improve the quality of life.

This is why they have a code enforcement officer to help uphold city ordinances like mowing, removing trash and sometimes even having to identify derelict homes.

Whether it’s overgrown vegetation, dilapidated property, unauthorized garage sales, wrecked vehicles, swimming pools without the proper 48-inch barriers or lack of trash containers, the code enforcer is there to help ensure that owners maintain their properties. If not, the city is forced to maintain them, which can result in some pretty steep fines from $250 and up.

“When a property owner has grass that’s not kept under eight inches or they allow trash to build up around their properties, it’s my job to contact them, write a ticket for breaking an ordinance and then follow through to make sure we get prop-

Locals lined up their lawn chairs last year to hear some great music. Everyone is invited to come out to hear local bands and have a lot of family fun at the Fall Festival on Sept. 5 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Checotah to host Fall Festival

LADONNA RHODES

The 2020 Checotah Fall Festival is coming together and coming soon but there are still spaces available for food and arts and craft vendors.

The Checotah Chamber of Commerce and the City of Checotah have teamed together to bring the town of Checotah one great event with activities going from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Sept. 5 at the Checotah Sports Complex.

There will be three events in one, as the town’s traditional Old Settlers Day event had to be postponed for the first time in 54 years and the city’s 4th of July Celebration rescheduled. However, all these events will be combined with the Fall Festival Car Show this year to make one spectacular event with trophies and cash prizes.

“McGirt filings” continue to grow

JERRY FINK
MANAGING EDITOR

Two more defendants in McIntosh County District Court have filed motions requesting that their cases be dismissed based upon their claims that the local court lacks jurisdiction due to a June 9 ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court.

That brings the number to five cases in the past two weeks in which defendants have filed for motions to dismiss because of lack of jurisdiction.

The motions cite the 5-4 decision in the matter of McGirt v. Oklahoma, which declared that Native Americans who have been charged with committing major crimes on Indian land must be tried in federal court.

The high court said much of Eastern Oklahoma, for purposes of criminal prosecution of major crimes, continues to be reservations belonging to the Five Civilized Tribes.

Jimcy McGirt, a registered member of the Seminole and Muscogee (Creek) Nations, was convicted by a Wagoner County jury in 1997 of rape, molestation and forcible sodomy of a child and given a life sentence.

Lackey often retrieves snakes out of chicken coops.

Local naturalist captures snakes with a smile

LADONNA RHODES

Local naturalist Holly Lackey isn’t afraid to capture snakes on camera or by a hook. She knows they’re not camera shy and actually had several award-winning pictures featured in this year’s Outdoor Oklahoma magazine.

During the spring, summer and even the fall months there seem to be an abundance of snakes in Oklahoma. Lackey hopes to educate people and then relocate these creatures that she believes are misunderstood for the most part.

“Although many people do not like snakes of any kind, they are actually very beneficial,” Lackey said. “Snakes play an important role in our ecosystem by helping to maintain the balance of the food chain. Because snakes can be both the predator and the prey, they help to keep down the pest population by feeding on mice and other small rodents that not only can carry disease but can damage crops and cause desperate times if left out of balance.”

This is why Lackey believes it is best to leave the snakes alone.

Each year over 80 percent of snakebites occur when a snake is being killed or captured. Though it’s best to just avoid them, individuals will go out of their way to kill them. This then results in someone getting bit.

Checotah’s population grows by 1

Checotah’s population grew by one on Sunday. Mayor Daniel Tarkington and his wife, Jamie, added to their household of three, making it an even four. Hallory June Tarkington decided to make her grand appearance on Aug. 23 at 6:30 a.m. She weighed in at 9 lbs. 12 oz. and 22 inches long. Big sister, RayLynn, will now have a live baby doll to play with after school and everyone is doing fine. Congratulations to the Tarkington family.

Juvenile injured in ATV accident

A 15-year-old Checotah boy was injured Sunday when his Sportsman 570 ATV crashed on private property, according to a report by the Oklahoma Highway Patrol.

The youth was eastbound on the property eight miles west and three miles north of Checotah when he attempted to jump an embankment. Then the vehicle went airborne for about 18 feet, struck the ground and rolled, the OHP said.

The victim was flown to St. Francis Hospital in Tulsa where he was admitted in fair condition with external trunk and leg injuries.

Eufaula man sentenced in child porn case

Jacob Quinlan Navarrette, 28, of Eufaula, was sentenced in federal court Monday to 78 months' imprisonment, 10 years of supervised release and must pay $3,000 in restitution for possession of child pornography.

The United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of Oklahoma said the specific crime with which Navarrette was charged was Possession Of Certain Material Involving The Sexual Exploitation Of A Minor, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 2252(a)(4)(B) and 2252(b)(2).

Once released from incarceration, the defendant must register as a sex offender, complete sex offender treatment and comply with conditions of that treatment including polygraphs to determine compliance.

The defendant may not possess any type of pornography, and he must submit to examinations of his computers.

The charges arose from an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The Indictment alleged that "beginning in or about January 2018, and continuing until on or about May

2, 2018, in the Eastern District of Oklahoma, the defendant knowingly possessed and accessed with the intent to view, and attempted to possess and access with the intent to view, a visual depiction of a pre-pubescent minor under the age of 12 engaging in sexually explicit conduct, and said visual depiction was of such sexually explicit conduct and had been transported in interstate commerce by computer."

United States Attorney Brian J. Kuester said, "The horrific acts committed against children by the criminals who produce child pornography is made profitable by the criminals that purchase, possess, and share it. I commend the FBI for its diligent efforts to identify, investigate, and bring to justice those who are involved in despicable acts against children."

The Honorable Ronald A. White, U.S. District Judge in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Oklahoma, in Muskogee, presided over the hearing.

Assistant United States Attorney Sarah McAmis represented the United States.

Of the 46 snake species in Oklahoma, only seven of them are actually venomous and many times people misidentify non-venomous snakes for venomous ones. This is why snakes are best left alone.

However, if locals find themselves in a snaky situation they can contact Lackey to assist with safely removing the snake to a better area.

"One of the biggest things we dealt with at the Nature Center were people who tried to kill a snake or move it without proper equipment then they got bit. So it is best to leave them alone or call someone who knows how to handle them properly."

Anyone needing assistance with snake removal can call Lackey at 918-881-3379.

Eufaula Municpal Airport installed a new fueling tank last week.

Airport installs fueling tank

Aviators in need of fuel will be happy to know that a new fueling tank was installed last week at the Eufaula Municipal Airport, thanks to the Federal Aviation Administration.

"We hope this added amenity will increase air traffic and spur additional economic development and tourism for the area," City Manager Jacob Foos said.

The project cost $316,325, with the FAA paying 90 percent of that amount and the city paying the rest.

The fuel that is being dispensed is 100LL Aviation

Gas.

Foos said the Oklahoma Corporation Commission is processing the final paperwork to authorize the sale of fuel. That is expected to be complete by the first week of September, and then the City will begin offering fuel for sale.

The fueling system is entirely self-service and will be available for pilots 24/7.

The system is just like fueling up a car at a gas station with a few extra steps specific to fueling an airplane.

U.S. Census timer running down, state funding at stake

BRIAN BRUS
OSU COMMUNICATIONS SPECIALIST

The opportunity for Oklahomans to be counted in the U.S. Census is only weeks away, and officials are concerned about participation.

"If Oklahoma residents don't self-report, no one will be looking for them after September," said Larry Sanders, Oklahoma State University Extension agricultural policy specialist. "This is too important to put off any longer; there's too much riding on the process."

The decennial head count of every person living in the country is required by the U.S. Constitution, used for apportioning House of Representative seats' shares of tax revenue distributed for local uses. Census numbers will be used for such mathematical formulas in more than 55 federal programs and as many state programs.

For example, rural Oklahoma districts received more than $7 million from the U.S. Department of Agriculture to improve water infrastructure last year, Sanders said.

More than $675 billion in federal funding is affected by Census data, so it is important that anyone served by schools, hospitals, roads

Federal representatives initially said they expected the 2020 U.S. Census to be more than a yearlong process, delivered to the President and U.S. Congress in December and passed along to states for their redistricting processes by March 31, 2021. The deadline has been moved up to Sept. 30, more than a month earlier than originally announced.

and other infrastructure and services be counted. Josh McGoldrick, general counsel and chief of staff at the Oklahoma Department of Commerce, said the cost to Oklahomans is about $1,675 annually for each missed survey, compounded over 10 years.

So avoiding the Census only serves to penalize that person's community in the long run. There is no positive side to lower numbers.

If all Oklahomans are accounted for, the state should have a total population of slightly more than 4 million in the next tally. Estimates so far suggest that the current Census is lagging the 2010 count. There is no time left to compensate.

Federal representatives initially said they expected the 2020 U.S. Census to be more than a year-long process, delivered to the president and U.S. Congress in December and passed along to states for their redistricting processes by March 31, 2021. Partly due to pandemic impacts, the landscape and schedule has changed since then.

Census Bureau Director Steven Dillingham in early August said in a prepared statement that field data collection will end by Sept. 30, as will self-response options, to permit the commencement of data processing.

"People for now still have the same opportunity to self-report by going online that they've had since the Census began, and they can still participate by phone and by traditional mail. They can even welcome the public employee or census-taker if that person comes to their front door," Sanders said.

Although many people distrust government and data-collection systems, Sanders stressed that Census participants are protected under the law. Survey-takers cannot ask for personal details such erties back to code," Arden said.

"Generally they will have ten days to come into compliance. If they don't then I'm forced to get the property back into compliance."

Arden then has to mow the property himself, or have the city crew do it or he has to contract it out. After the property is brought up to code, the resident receives the bill for the clean up cost. If the resident cannot pay the fine, a lien is placed on their property, sometimes causing a greater hardship on the resident.

Arden began seeing an endless cycle of fines and liens and then realized some elder residents couldn't change their circumstances.

"I realized some of these people were elderly and they had no means to mow and they had no family to help them. So he started thinking of ways to help to fix the problem. Then I heard about a group of volunteers who helped senior citizens, disabled and veterans in the McIntosh County area.

Elderly Without Families (E.W.F.) is a nonprofit organization that offers some of the following services:

- Mowing yards
- Minor home repairs
- Offering company
- Providing a meal

At E.W.F. they understand that many times these elderly get overlooked. However, E.W.F. simply wants to be there to help share the load of those with no help and possibly no hope.

Their services are free to low income senior citizens, disabled and American veterans. They truly believe that a small group of thoughtful, committed and concerned citizens change the world one step at a time.

"We are now working on several homes in Checotah and it's nice to see people stepping up to help who really have a heart for the elderly," Arden said. "We are still looking for more volunteers because the mowing is a full time job. I would like to see some church youth groups or youth organizations sign up to help. We just want to take pride in our community and I feel like the mayor has done that and we should too."

For more information on how to volunteer contact Adam Arden at 918-689-0242 or E.W.F. at 918-936-5213.

CASA gets new volunteer

Beginning this month, some children navigating the juvenile court system will have another advocate looking out for their best interests. Associate District Judge Brendon Bridges signed an agreement on May 27 to implement a McIntosh County Court Appointed Special Advocates program, part of a nationwide program of trained volunteers. The agreement helped to create a county satellite CASA program under the auspices of CASA for Children, which operates similar programs in Muskogee, Wagoner and Sequoyah Counties. “My wife was a volunteer and a former coordinator. I know it is emotionally hard work, but the reward of protecting our future, I think it’s worth it for those able to help,” said Bridges in a Facebook post announcing the Aug. 4 swearing-in of Delaina Stevens, the first official volunteer of the new program. CASA volunteers are screened and trained through a thorough training program before being sworn in as officers of the court and assigned to advocate on behalf of an abused or neglected child or sibling group. Once assigned, the advocate becomes a voice for the child’s best interests in court. “CASA allows me to be a part of a kiddo’s life when they need it most,” Stevens said. “Training taught me to listen to the child, the facts, the history and to keep my common sense zoned in. I want to help the children who are too scared to have a voice but have not been heard because they are a child and the adults are not listening. Sometimes that happens - as adults, we forget to listen to the kiddos whose lives are actually being impacted because of our grown-up decisions.” CASA for Children trains and supports volunteers to serve children in foster care in Muskogee, Sequoyah, Wagoner and now McIntosh counties. CASA volunteers are everyday citizens, from all walks of life, who are dedicated to advocating for abused and neglected children. CASA is committed to continuing to advocate for children and families through the current pandemic and is hopeful others will consider joining the CASA movement. CASA for Children hopes to recruit, train, and support enough volunteers so that every child can have an advocate. The volunteer recruitment, screening and training process have all moved online during the COVID pandemic in order to continue to expand the CASA volunteer roster. Online classes are forming now for McIntosh, Muskogee, Wagoner and Sequoyah counties. For more information on CASA for Children or to RSVP to attend the virtual meeting contact Jenny Crosby via email at jenny@casaok.org or via phone at 918-685-1501.

EHS graduate honored

Recent Eufaula High School graduate Caton Skaggs was the guest of honor at a college-send-off shower hosted by local Chapter T, of the P.E.O. Sisterhood. The shower was held on Aug. 1 at the Eufaula city pavilion by the cove with her mother, Lyndsey Skaggs, and grandmother, Debbie Newton, in attendance. Skaggs, whose high school senior year application led her to be selected from many for this recognition, will be attending the University of Oklahoma this fall. Twelve Chapter T members showered her with creative and useful gifts to help her settle into college life. The shower is a yearly project of Chapter T of the P.E.O. Sisterhood, a philanthropic educational organization with over 230,000 members in the United States and Canada.

Caton Skaggs

The organization’s goal is to help women who are seeking additional education to improve their lives, the lives of their family members, and their communities. The organization has raised and given away over $345 million in grants and loans to 109,000 recipients in the past 151 years. The P.E.O. Sisterhood also owns and operates Cottey College, a highly rated private women’s college in Nevada, Missouri.

McGirt appealed the verdict, which wound its way through several courts to the U.S. Supreme Court, which overturned his conviction. The federal district court continued to keep McGirt in custody and has filed charges against him in its jurisdiction. Last week attorneys for two defendants in the county cited lack of jurisdiction in their motions to dismiss. Jimmy O’Brian Mitchell, 22, of Eufaula, was charged on Aug. 5 with obstructing an officer, a misdemeanour. However, he had pled guilty to multiple felonies over the past two years, including domestic abuse – assault and battery, and assault on a police officer. His attorney filed the McGirt motion, as it has become known, on Aug. 12 and a hearing has been set for Aug. 26. The second case involves Georgina Hill, 36, of Henryetta, who was charged on Nov. 19, 2019 with larceny of merchandise from a retailer, which is a felony, and trespassing after being forbidden. Her attorney filed a McGirt motion on Aug. 18 and a hearing has been set for 9 a.m., Sept. 8. Two weeks ago attorneys for defendants in three other McIntosh County cases cited the McGirt ruling in their motions to dismiss the charges against their clients.

Vote for kindness

LaDonna's
LAST WORD

by LaDonna Rhodes

From the media mayhem to President Trump’s trivial tweets, the politics of today are sure to drive the sanest person crazy. Unfortunately, politics are some of the most controversial topics discussed these days and there seems to be more hatred than kindness shown to each other.

Even though Trump’s State of the Union Address made his approval ratings jump up to 49 percent according to Real Clear Politics, the sad fact is more Americans are still fighting amongst each other since he took office and less than half of the U.S. population even like Donald Trump. But the same can be said about our current Speaker of the House, Nancy Pelosi, who boasts a 40 percent job approval, which makes me laugh. What if we all had a 40 percent job approval? Would our bosses keep us or let us go? I think the latter for sure. Yet the ugliness of our American politics continues day in and day out, when our nation needs to desperately come together rather than pull apart at the seams.

One would think that Americans would grow tired of the current bureaucratic bull, as well as the single party partisanship. One would think that Americans might vote for a leader who wants to solve problems rather than start problems. I would like to think that we are wiser than all the political pandemonium, but sometimes I wonder.

When I think about the Voting Rights Acts of 1965, which was designed to enforce the voting rights guaranteed by our Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution, it makes me sad to think that so many take that right to vote and use it like a weapon against each other. Are we so petty that we can no longer agree to disagree or come together for the common good?

This is why my vote is for kindness. Do we need to remember how to be gentle, generous and considerate again?

Though some may think kindness shows weakness, I believe it shows quite the opposite. Kindness requires a different kind of strength. Kindness is a willingness to full-heartedly embrace someone else’s successes, which in turn can make everyone win.

When it’s all said and done it will be kindness that we never regret and never forget.

So vote for kindness today and see how it changes our tomorrow.

Capitol update

This Week at the Capitol

by State Rep. Randy Randleman

The U.S. Constitution requires that a population count be taken every decade for the purposes of distributing funding and representation equally among our communities. The 2020 census has been underway since mid-March, and the deadline to complete the census is fast approaching.

The data gathered this year will determine how more than $675 billion in federal funds will be distributed to the states annually over the following decade. Federal funds support all types of government services, including education, infrastructure, health and social welfare.

Right now, Oklahoma has a 58.5% response rate, dragging behind the national response rate of 64%. If Oklahomans don’t step up to complete their census, our schools and towns will be at risk of losing millions of dollars in federal funding over the next decade.

Each person counted in the census brings an estimated $1,675 in annual federal dollars to Oklahoma, which adds up to $16,750 per person over the next ten years. For every 60 people who don’t fill out the census, Oklahoma misses out on $1,005,000 in funding every year.

Instead, that money will be allocated to other states with a higher reported population, putting Oklahoma at further risk of falling behind and losing our citizens and businesses to other states.

There is a lot riding on having an accurate population count for the 2020 census. Businesses consider population when deciding where to open new stores or factories.

Transportation planners decide where to build new roads and improve existing ones based in part on where population is most concentrated. Local governments use census data to decide what areas are most in need of new schools, libraries and parks.

As of Aug. 19, House District 15 had a response rate of 34.2%. Your census response, and the responses of your friends, family and members of your community, is vital to improving the quality of life and the economy in eastern Oklahoma.

Your census answers are confidential and only accessible by the Census Bureau. Online responses are secured by multiple layers of encryption throughout the questionnaire, and any confidentiality violation is a federal crime.

If you haven’t yet completed the census, you may do so at 2020census.gov. There may also be census employees going door to door in your area to take down responses of anyone who hasn’t filled it out, and they will be maintaining a safe distance while doing so. You can also fill out the census by calling 1-844-330-2020.

In other news, I had several meetings this week regarding issues important to District 15.

I recently set up a meeting with Lieutenant Governor Matt Pinnell and Cherokee Nation Chief Chuck Hoskin, along with State Rep. Jim Olsen, to discuss Tenkiller State Park in Sequoyah County. The park is in need of some updates, and we met to consider how the Cherokee Nation and the Oklahoma Dept. of Tourism, of which Lt. Gov. Pinnell serves as Secretary, can work together to address the park’s needs.

I also recently met with Hilliary Communications to discuss potentially laying new fiber optics in Haskell County and the surrounding counties that make up District 15. The leaders at Hilliary Communications have been a great resource to me over the last few years as we work together to improve rural broadband access for our community.

I hope you made plans to vote on Tuesday, August 25 and have started thinking about November’s election as well. The right to vote is one of our most important American values. To find your polling place or request an absentee ballot, visit ok.gov/elections.

Please remember my office is always open to assist you with any issues you may have. You can contact me at randy.randleman@okhouse.gov or (405) 557-7375.

Thank you for allowing me to serve you!

Rep. Randy Randleman represents District 15 in the Oklahoma House of Representatives, which includes portions of Haskell, LeFlore, McIntosh, Muskogee, Pittsburg and Sequoyah Counties.

Eastern offers affordable alternative to start STEM degree programs

While the global need for professionals in the science, technology, engineering and math fields (STEM) continues to increase, so does the cost to earn these degrees at a four-year university. Earning an associate degree in one of the STEM fields at a community college is an affordable option for students.

Eastern Oklahoma State College’s Science and Mathematics Division offers associate degrees in life science, mathematics and physical science. A number of foundational courses are also available for students interested in pursuing educational pathways in pre-professional degree programs such as veterinary medicine, dental, pharmacy, physical and occupational therapy or radiologic technology.

“Two of the major advantages of Eastern, and community colleges in general, are the affordability and value of beginning in an associate degree program,” said Dr. Andrea Green, dean of the Science and Mathematics Division. “By starting at Eastern, students can set themselves up for success with high quality foundational courses in smaller class sizes and a significantly reduced cost for the first two years.”

Green said students experience exceptional learning opportunities in Eastern’s STEM programs. The coursework allows students to acquire the content knowledge, laboratory skills, and critical thinking abilities to successfully transfer to university-level programs.

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics forecasts overall employment in the economy to increase by 7.4 percent between 2016 and 2026, while jobs in STEM fields are expected to grow by 10.8 percent. According to the U.S. Department of Commerce, college-educated STEM job holders earn between 29 and 39 percent more per hour than non-STEM employees with the same education level.

“If you’re interested in any area of science and math, this is a high-demand industry with tremendous career opportunities,” Green said. “With strong advising, supportive faculty and effective tutoring resources, our graduates are well prepared for their next steps at a four-year college or university.”

For more information on Eastern’s Science and Mathematics Division, contact Green at agreen@eoscd.edu or 918-465-1763.

SNAKE INDIANS WILL MEET

Inauguration of New Chiefs May First

The Snake Indians are preparing to have a big time at old Hickory grounds near here on the first of May when they will meet for the purpose of inaugurating their new chiefs, Este Larney and Second Chief Hot-gun. These chiefs were elected several weeks ago.

SENATE COMMITTEE

Favors the Removal of Restrictions

Washington, D.C., April 26 – The Senate Committee on Indian affairs favors the removal of restrictions. This sentiment was emphasized by the committee today by its approval of an amendment to that effect to the Indian Appropriation Bill. The committee on Indian affairs of the senate met this morning and adopted a sweeping amendment removing restrictions on all Indian lands in the Five Tribes, except as to full bloods and homesteads.

Coal at Porum

The developments at the different coal pits during the past week have been extremely gratifying. The Porum Coal Company’s entry now shows an aggregate coal front of fully 7 feet, and one unbroken solid vein over 3 feet. The three veins thus far exposed lie one above the other and are interlaid with thin stratas of clay.

San Francisco Refugees

A party of San Francisco refugees composed of Mrs. John Gardner, Miss Eliza Coddey and M.B. Silva arrived in Checotah yesterday and went from here to Coon town where they have relatives. They report the earthquake and fire at San Francisco even worse than reported by the papers. They lost everything they had.

Night Police

The city council last Monday night OK’s the appointment of Dick West as night police and that gentleman is now doing regular duty. Dick is by no means a stranger to the citizens of Checotah having efficiently served the city as Chief of Police for several years. During the past year and a half he has acted as night watchman at the Glass Plant.

Visitors Take City

Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 4 o’clock business was practically suspended while our business men extended a hearty welcome to about 150 Muskogee business and professional men who were spending the day at the different towns and cities between Muskogee and McAlester boosting the Free State Fair and Jefferson Highway.

Lad Suffers Serious Injury

Paul Herrod, 14 year old son of Dr. and Mrs. R.T. Herrod of Fort Smith, Ark., and grandson of Mrs. M.J. Sink of this city with whom he had been visiting the past summer, lies in a Muskogee hospital suffering from blood poison. Little hope is given for the boy’s life at last reports. The lad in company with several other boys went dove hunting about two weeks ago and during the day the gun “kicked” him in the face causing a very frightful injury. Blood poisoning later developed and he was rushed to a Muskogee hospital.

James White Down Over China Coast

Hardly had their jubilation over the Japanese surrender subsided when Mr. and Mrs. E. T. White received a grim message from the department of war notifying them that their son, Lt. James White, was missing in action over the coast of China. Lieutenant White was the pilot of a fast P-38 pursuit plane, used in bombing and strafing missions over Japanese occupied territory.

Camp Gruber Seeks Gifts For Soldiers

This week, according to an announcement by Mrs. Charles R. Freeman, the local Red Cross camp and hospital committee has been asked to furnish 50 gifts for hospitalized service men at Camp Gruber. Work with this phase of Red Cross activity will continue indefinitely as army and navy hospitals are filled to overflowing with men wounded on battlefronts of the world.

Ranger Announces Game Law Change

A change in Oklahoma bird hunting laws, effective within the next two weeks, was announced this week by John Taylor, state game warden. The dove season has been extended this year from September 1 through October 30. The daily bag limit is 10.

Highway 266 Overpass Is Blocked By Dobson

Checotah may lose an interstate change at the intersection of new highway 69 and state highway 266 West of the city unless the state highway department can come to agreement with county commissioner Elsba Dobson in regard to the county underwriting one-half of the cost of the acquisition of land in the improvement right-of-way.

Continental Bus Station Is Moved

The Continental Trailways Bus depot in this city has been moved to the Checotah Grill at 303 North Broadway. Jimmy Thompson, operator of the bus depot and news stand for nearly 40 years, retired two weeks ago and sold his building to a new enterprise.

Checotah Lumber Expert Going Back to the Jungle

Clyde Jernigan, one of Checotah’s most outstanding citizens, and his charming wife, Carol, were here recently for a visit with Clyde’s mother, Mrs. Ben Jernigan, en route from Liberia, Africa to San Francisco. Clyde, who is a former vice president and general manager of Georgia Pacific, was associated with Skelly Oil Company in the same capacity in Liberia, where Skelly had acquired one and one-half million acres of timberland. Clyde, who is an expert in every phase of the lumber business, was the logical man to oversee the entire Liberian operation “from stump to sales.”

City Pay Hikes Granted; Zoning Change Denied

Checotah’s combined city council and public works authority Monday approved salary increases and additional duty pay for policemen, the sewer superintendent and city clerk. Several policemen were in attendance to protest salary increases that were granted for other departments at the special budget meeting in July.

Checotah Methodist Church to Celebrate 105th Anniversary

A two-event invitation has been issued this week by officials of Checotah’s Methodist Church to both members and friends, according to the pastor, Rev. Larry A. Taston. “We are commemorating the 105th year of our congregation in the community with two signifcant happenings the last Saturday and Sunday in August. “Ours is the first church founded in the town.”

Hot Temperatures Don’t Deter Okrafest Crowd

While the temperature gage on People’s National Bank danced around the 100-degree mark most of the day, many of those attending Checotah’s 2nd annual OkraFest! spent quite a bit of time looking for shade and something cold to drink. Finding a shady place in the shade proved to be more of a challenge than finding something cold to drink as the downtown area was blanketed with food concessions that almost all had something to quench thirst on the menu

Besides seeing some impressive vehicles, there will be lawn mower races, power wheel races, minnow races, a fishing derby, a home run derby, kid games, corn hole tournaments, pony rides, train rides and a mechanical bull to ride. If that’s not enough, there’s a scavenger hunt to win a new bicycle, inflatables for the kids, turtle races, a frog-jumping contest, and awards for the best beard, the oldest settler and the farthest traveled.

Old Settlers Day commemorative t-shirts and bolo ties are on sale now and will also be on sale at the event. The theme is Keep Calm, Old Settlers Day On and it sure is. It will seem like Christmas came early for some, as the Chamber will be giving away $3,000 dollars in Checotah Bucks for this special event. By purchasing a bolo tie, you will get the chance to win part of the $3,000 that can be spent like cash at participating Checotah businesses. The Chamber knows by shopping locally everyone wins. There will also be a drawing for a new grill that you don’t want to miss out on. A parade will kick off at 3 p.m. but will only include golf carts, ATVs, UTVs, power wheels and bicycles as they cruise around the Checotah Sports Complex in style. Bring your lawn chairs because there will be live music throughout the day, until the fireworks begin at dusk. Dirty Creek Band is just one of the acts scheduled to play. Mayor Daniel Tarkington has promised the fireworks show will be one of the best in McIntosh County so make sure you plan to stay for the whole day.

The event is an outside event that will be spread over the entire Sports Complex. All vendors have been asked to provide hand sanitizer at their booths and the Chamber encourages everyone who wants to wear a mask to please do so and to practice social distancing as much as possible. For more information contact Jerri Holder at the Checotah Chamber of Commerce at 918-473-2070.

Dr. Rice joined the team in 1979 and has continued the practice.

Dr. Rice is a board certified family physician and provides medical care to all ages.

The staff cares for acute and chronic illnesses, preventive care services, minor surgical needs and laceration repairs and the notorious fish hook removals.

They have a full lab and x-ray with many tests at the time of service so results are the same day.

They give flu and pneumonia shots and other immunizations.

The business is unique because it is the only one doctor-owned family practice clinic left in McIntosh County and they have been providing quality compassionate care for four decades.

They have also continued to remain open during the pandemic to provide patients with medical care. They are currently in the process of getting an analyzer to help determine COVID-19 cases from the flu for the upcoming flu season to assist their patients in their medical care.

Oklahoma Arts Institute announces new online Arts Academy for high school students

Every accepted student will attend the OSAI at Home Academy on full scholarship

Thanks to a generous grant from a private donor, the Oklahoma Arts Institute (OAI) is kicking off a new program, the OSAI at Home Academy, which will provide online education during the upcoming school year for artistically gifted high school students. The program is specifically targeting students from rural communities who have never attended the Oklahoma Summer Arts Institute at Quartz Mountain.

The recent success of their online Summer Arts Institute, OSAI at Home, convinced President & CEO Julie Cohen of the powerful impact online programming can make, even with the limitations of virtual classrooms.

“While we were reluctant to move our students to an online format this summer, we were amazed by how much they were able to accomplish,” Cohen says. “It occurred to us that the virtual classroom could help us overcome a lot of the financial barriers we’ve faced in our efforts to reach more talented students across the state. It’s always been a wish list item to provide this type of training to promising students who have limited opportunities available to them, and this format has made it an attainable goal.”

The new 8- to 10-week program, which starts in mid-September, will provide an opportunity for students to receive intensive, high-level training in their art form so that they can expand their creative skills.

The workshops will offer advanced instruction with OAI faculty in the disciplines of acting, chorus, creative writing, dance, drawing & painting, film & video, orchestra and photography. Just like the Oklahoma Summer Arts Institute at Quartz Mountain, every accepted student will receive a full scholarship to participate in the OSAI at Home Academy.

To qualify, students must be current Oklahoma high school students who have not previously attended the Oklahoma Summer Arts Institute at Quartz Mountain. The program is aimed at students who are underserved or underrepresented at OSAI, including rural students.

“We are looking for highly motivated students who show great promise and could benefit from some focused instruction,” Cohen says. “The goal of the OSAI at Home Academy is to help put students who may not have the same opportunities on equal footing with those who have more robust arts education programs available to them at home.”

For information on nominating a student, educators should email Outreach Coordinator Becky Holladay at bholladay@oaiquartz.org. Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis until the program begins. It is recommended that educators submit their student nominations by Aug. 24.

The Oklahoma Arts Institute (OAI) is a private, non-profit organization founded in 1977, with a mission to provide exceptional multidisciplinary arts experiences that develop individual talent and inspire a lifelong passion for the arts. In addition to the Summer Arts Institute, OAI administers a series of continuing education workshops for adults every fall. For more information, visit oaiquartz.org.

Area football teams knock off rust in scrimmage action

RODNEY HALTOM
SPORTS EDITOR

The Checotah and Eufaula football teams knocked off the rust as each team hosted 7-on-7, line drills and scrimmages on Friday. Checotah had their hands full with both Poteau and Wagoner. The Wildcats' running game looked effective, but the scrimmage left several questions about both the defensive and offensive lines. There is no doubt that the Wildcats have talent at their skill positions in Dontierre Fisher (running back), Elijah Fuller (running back), Trenton Dan (running back) and Matt Clover (quarterback).

Clover was under duress most of the scrimmage as Poteau's defensive line powered past the Wildcats' line of scrimmage. When Clover had time in the pocket he was productive as he hit Malachi Harris and Brock Butler for long gains.

The Wildcats' defense looked sharp for being the first time they took the field against a different opponent than themselves. Clancy Campbell and Bailey McIntosh continued to look impressive as did the Wildcats' secondary.

"Poteau is the real deal. They were

Beggs scores three runs in sixth inning to seal victory

RODNEY HALTOM

The Beggs Lady Demons earned a tough road win as they defeated Eufaula 3-1. Beggs scored three runs in the sixth inning in a game where defense was the key. Jordas McClish led Eufaula at bat going 2-for-3 with an RBI. Liberty Glover took the loss from the pitching circle for the Lady Ironheads. Glover started the game but was relieved by Avery Williams in the seventh inning.

Glover surrendered three runs on eight hits over six innings, striking out four. On the other side, Beggs pitching was nearly perfect. The Lady Demons only gave up one run (7th inning) on four hits over seven innings, striking out six with zero walks.

The Lady Demons were perfect on defense as they went the entire game without an error.

Avery Williams, Jordas McClish, Liberty Glover and Mykah Osborne each collected one hit for Eufaula.

"This was a tough game. We knew coming into it, it was going to be tough. Beggs has a great program and has several athletes that have a high skill level. We just did not play up to our potential. We're a better team than the score shows. We have to limit errors and be aggressive at the plate. We need production at the plate if we're going to have a successful season. As a team we are going to learn from this loss and put it behind us and get ready for the next opponent on our schedule," Eufaula head coach Ryan Green said.

Checotah (3-0) scored early and a lot to earn an 8-6 win over Sallisaw on Monday. The Lady Wildcats scored four runs in the second and three in the fourth inning to hang on to the victory. Both teams played hard as each team collected six hits in the high-scoring affair.

The Lady Wildcats fired up the offense in the second inning, when Jordyn Combs singled on a 0-1 count, scoring one run.

Senior Alexis Hamilton earned the win from the pitching circle. She lasted all seven innings, allowing six hits and four runs while striking out one. She finished with 24 first-pitch strikes.

Tulsa University athletic director accepts NCAA job

RODNEY HALTOM
SPORTS EDITOR

University of Tulsa athletic director Derrick Gragg accepted the position to become the NCAA's senior vice president for inclusion, education and community engagement. Gragg chose to leave the University of Tulsa, where he had been athletic director for more than seven years.

Gragg will stay at TU until Sept. 17 and will start at the NCAA at its Indianapolis headquarters Oct. 5. An interim athletic director hasn't been identified.

He hired six head coaches, most notably Philip Montgomery (football) and Frank Haith (men's basketball). In six seasons in the American Athletic Conference, TU has won the second-most league championships with 19 conference titles and has had 18 second-place finishes.

Gragg will be the chief inclusion and diversity officer for the NCAA and will serve on the senior management team and will lead the leadership development office. He has worked in college athletics for more than 20 years.

Gragg will act as a national ambassador tasked with promoting the NCAA core values of diversity and inclusion.

impressive on both sides of the football. They did a good job of exploiting our weaknesses. We're going to learn from this and get ready for next week," Checotah co-offensive coordinator Brian Young said.

The Eufaula Ironheads hosted the Morris Golden Eagles in scrimmage action on Friday. The biggest question going into the 2020 season was the play of their linemen on both sides of the football. They answered that quickly as seniors Tye Pippenger (linebacker/DL) and Jo-Dan Marshall (OL/DL) proved that they are ready to make another run at their third consecutive district title. Noah Gray, Blake Pennington, Brian Sweitzer and Stetson Smelser played extremely aggressive on the defensive line. Offensively, the Ironheads dominated the Eagles. Quarterbacks Jacob Fitzer and Nick Jones played extremely well. The Ironheads' run game of Noah Alexander and Corrie Crabtree was very productive. The ability to open up the rushing attack was due to the offensive line playing well. Ty Dodd (center), JoDan Marshall (OL) and Draven Gragg anchored the line and consistently provided Alexander with great lanes to run through.

"I'm pretty proud of what we did this evening. It felt good to be back on the field. It gave us a little normalcy in preparing for the season. We made a few mistakes but it's just going to take some time for us to get our timing down and to decide exactly where we are going to play guys. We have a lot of underclassmen that should get a large amount of playing time this year," Eufaula head coach Larry Newton said.

mulgee. Eufaula scored seven runs in the second inning, three runs in the fourth and added four more runs in the sixth inning to seal the victory.

Avery Williams earned the win from the pitching circle going six innings with 10 strikeouts with 21 first pitch strikes and allowed only two runs.

Eufaula finished the game with 16 hits and 15 runs. Gabrielle Noriega started the offensive barrage with a grounded out, scoring a run. Kam-bry Williams and Liberty Glover led the team in hits going 3-for-3, Noriega 2-for-3 with 2 RBIs and Avery Willimas added two RBIs.

LADY WILDCATS

Sallisaw tallied six hits on the day led by Brittany Barker and Emma Lessley as both went 2-for-3 from the plate. Jackie Williams added two RBIs in the contest. They nearly completed a successful rally, scoring one run in the six inning and added two more in the seventh.

Checotah had several players that were productive at the plate.

Jordyn Combs, Kohlie Atkins, Jesie Roachell, Amanda Brown, Ciara Moore and Kaitlyn Searless each recorded a hit.

Left fielder Ciara Moore made a couple of spectacular plays. She ran down what seemed to be a homerun only to catch it on the run and secondly made a great throw to second base for an out.

In Tuesday's action Checotah rallied late in the fifth inning to top Muldrow 3-2. A Muldrow error in the bottom of the sixth inning scored the winning run.

Alexis Hamilton went all seven innings, allowing two runs on five hits, striking out two and walking one. She also went 2-for-2 at the plate. The infield defense for Checotah was outstanding as they held Muldrow scoreless in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

Tigers edge Checotah 1-0

The Oktaha Lady Tigers held on to a 1-0 victory over Checotah on Thursday in the Oktaha Softball tournament. Alexis Hamilton pitched all five innings with two strikeouts and 15 first pitch stikes. Natalie Knight, Amanda Brown, Vanessa Henson and Ciara Moore each managed one hit in the loss.

Checotah fell for the second time on Thursday as Wilburton made seven combined runs in the first three innings in a 7-2 win. Alexis Hamilton was 2-for-3 at the plate and finished with five strikeouts, 14 first pitch strikes in all five innings and allowed seven hits and seven runs.

3 ways young pitching prospects can get ready when no one is watching

Summer is when baseball recruiting is in full swing, but the COVID-19 pandemic has greatly reduced it. The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) extended a ban on in-person recruiting through the end of September, and only recently has Major League Baseball permitted scouts to go back on the road to watch players in showcase events.

Couple those reductions with the fact that high school and college baseball seasons were already cut short last year and may not start up on time this year, and players hoping to be seen by scouts and coaches have gotten little to no exposure.

That hurts their chances of getting scholarship offers or drawing big-league interest. But in the meantime, it's crucial that they train properly so they'll be prepared for when college coaches are allowed to hit the recruiting trail again, says Ron Wolforth (www.TexasBaseballRanch.com), a long-time pitching trainer who is founder of Texas Baseball Ranch and author of Pitching with Confidence: A Parent's Guide To Giving Your Elite Pitcher An Edge.

"This is usually a pivotal time for coaches to evaluate prospects," Wolforth says. "But while some showcases and tournaments have remained on the schedule, many parents naively believe that the primary reason their son hasn't garnered more attention from college or professional scouts is lack of exposure. The primary reason is that the athlete lacks the specific skill set required at the next level.

"Spend your time, effort and money developing skills with proven instructors instead of attending a showcase. This is particularly important for young pitchers, who may lack the throwing velocity or consistency required to perform at the next level. This extended waiting time is extra time to fine-tune skills and get ready to be seen."

Wolforth suggests pitchers pay attention to the following fundamentals if they hope to attract scouts' and coaches' attention:

- Wake-up, warm-up.

"One of the most frequent mistakes made by pitchers today is being significantly underprepared for the intensity of the stress on the body," Wolforth says. "Throwing hard at any age requires the full utilization of all our body, not just our arm. A pitcher who doesn't take sufficient time to warm up the entire body is at greater risk of injury. Develop three different personal wake-up/warm-up routines of at least 15-30 minutes."

- Mechanical efficiencies. A pitcher progresses toward his potential when he streamlines his efficiency of movement, from wind-up to delivery. Wolforth says instructors should incorporate concepts such as mobility, stability, holistic training, synchronization, degrees of freedom, and deceleration. "The truth is," Wolforth says, "no two pitchers in the history of baseball have ever thrown identically. Insisting there is one ideal mechanical model and cloning your pitcher for that model is one of the worst things one could do to a young man. Yet we see this scene play out again and again. Stay away from any instructor or coach who wants to place the pitcher into a specific mold. It almost always ends poorly, in underperforming or injury."

- Command of the ball. "A pitcher who can put the ball exactly where he wants it is ahead of the game," Wolforth says. "Command is predominantly about developing a repeatable outcome. One builds repeatable outcomes only by a lot of deliberate practice; thousands and thousands of hours. What we are seeking is a mechanically efficient movement pattern and then training that pattern so our outcome is more and more repeatable."

"Showcases make sense for only about 15-25% of all baseball players actually attending the showcase," Wolforth says. "That doesn't mean that many of the others will never have the capabilities of reaching the next competitive level. Those who develop those capabilities do so by putting in the work consistently under the right, focused guidance."

HALTOM'S HUDDLE

Almost there, football fans

Well, after months of meetings with health professionals and school administrators, the OSSAA gave Oklahoma schools the green light to play fall sports. Fans of football and fast-pitch can relax now as coaches for both sports are eager to hit the field.

Even though the OSSAA gave the okay to begin practice and hold scrimmages and games, it is still up to individual schools to provide and maintain health guidelines pertaining to the COVID-19 virus.

The Eufaula School Board passed a mandate that everyone on school property has to have a mask on and Checotah schools strongly encourage students, teachers and support personnel to wear masks. Fast-pitch softball has already begun its season and high school football will kick off September 4. In order to have a season that is not interrupted, I strongly encourage you and I as fans to take precautions in limiting the spread of this disease. 1-2-3 break.

Leme wins fifth event of 2020 with league high 94-point ride

Win pushes Leme's lead on world No. 2 to 365.75 points

In the shadow of Utah's state capitol building, world No. 1 Jose Victor Leme (Ribas do Rio Pardo, Brazil) finished the 2020 TicketSmarter Invitational, presented by Cooper Tires, with a bang. The Brazilian's championship round ride had the socially distanced crowd erupting inside Days of '47 Arena.

Leme entered the championship round trailing Daylon Swearingen (Piffard, New York) by 0.75 points after putting together an 87.5 point ride on Rudy Can Do (Bierema Rodeo Inc.), a bull that bucked him off just weeks ago in Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

In the championship round draft, Leme drafted Chiseled (Flinn/D&H Cattle Co.), creating a world No. 1 bovine vs. world No. 1 rider matchup. Exploding from the chute, Leme showed why he's dominated the competition this year, matching Chiseled jump for jump and turn for turn, to the tune of 94 points – the highest marked ride in PBR competition in 2020.

"It's hard to explain," said Leme. "This ride was important for my career. It is another win, another round win, but I've got to keep battling for the world title. I hope I've got more left for this season."

The fifth event win of Leme's season, and 11th round win, earned him $34,126.05 and 122.5 points.

Leme was followed by his countryman Lucas Divino (Nova Crixas Goias, Brazil) who turned in a perfect 2-for-2 performance on Saturday. After bucking off in 7.8 seconds on Friday night, Divino took care of business on Smoke Show (Humps and Hornz/Sis 'N' Stan/KMH) for 87 points in Round 2.

Drafting Soup in a Group (Dakota Rodeo/Chad Berger/Clay Struve/Wilks Ranch) in the championship round paid off the Brazilian, as he made the 8 for a score of 90.5 points.

The second place finish earned Divino $15,452.33 and 65 world points. The points were enough to leapfrog Divino over Kaique Pacheco (Itatiba, Brazil) for the No. 6 spot in the world.

horn Leghorn (Dakota Rodeo/Chad Berger/Clay Struve/WSM Auctioneers) in Round 2, Daylon Swearingen earned the first pick in the bull draft, taking Sky Harbor (Dakota Rodeo/Chad Berger/Clay Struve/Wilks Ranch).

But the son of legendary bull Pearl Harbor proved too much for Swearingen, who hit the dirt in 2.98 seconds.

But his performance from Rounds 1 and 2 gave the New York cowboy third place. Taking home $10,952.12 and 59.5 world points, Swearingen now sits at No. 4 in the world standings, just 34.84 points behind 2019 World Champion Jess Lockwood (Volborg, Montana).

Washington's Derek Kolbaba (Walla Walla, Washington) ended the weekend in fourth place. Taking on Keno (Chad Berger Bucking Bulls) in Round 2, Kolbaba was marked 88.5 points.

Kolbaba went on to pick one of his favorite adversaries, three-time World Champion bucking bull Sweet Pro's Bruiser (D&H Cattle Co./Buck Cattle Co.) as his championship round mount. But Bruiser proved his namesake, tossing Kolbaba in 7.19 seconds and earning a 46.5-point bull score, tied for highest of the event.

Bruiser's performance tied him with Chiseled's 46.5-point bull score, splitting the YETI Built for the Wild Bull of the Event honors.

Kolbaba was in the cash and world points, taking home $7,460.18

Lake Eufaula Fishing Report

Elevation normal, water 81 and murky. For current elevation conditions go to the US Army Corps of Engineers website at <https://www.swt-wc.usace.army.mil/EUFA.lakepage.html>. Alligator gar good on live bait and bowfishing below and around the dam. Striped bass good on cut bait, live bait, live shad, shad, and topwater lures below and around the dam. Blue and flathead catfish fair on cut bait, goldfish, and worms below the dam, and around the dam, main lake, and river mouth.

Report submitted by Cannon Harrison, game warden stationed in McIntosh County.

Species spotlight: Luna Moth

Luna moths may be one of Oklahoma's largest moths, but these giants start out as tiny eggs about one-third the size of a BB pellet. After hatching, caterpillars feed on the leaves of the persimmon, black walnut or other hardwood host plants for 5 - 6 weeks while undergoing several molts. The fully-grown caterpillars then crawl or fall to the ground and wrap themselves in a silk-bound leaf at the bottom of the host tree. Adult moths have about one week to find a mate and produce the next generation before they die.

On August 27, 1832 – Blackhawk, leader of Sauk-Indians, gave himself up, ending the Blackhawk War.

1859 – Edwin Drake struck oil at 69 feet near Titusville, Pennsylvania—the world's first successful oil well.

1941 – Prince Fumimaro Konoye, prime minister of Japan, announces that he would like to enter into direct negotiations with President Roosevelt in order to prevent the Japanese conflict with China from expanding into world war.

1945 – B-29 Superfortress bombers began to drop supplies into Allied prisoner of war camps in China.

1945 – The Allied fleets anchor in Sagami (Tokyo) Bay within sight of Mount Fujiyama. Admiral Halsey, commander of the US 3rd Fleet, is present for what is probably the greatest display of naval might in history. The armada includes 23 aircraft carriers, 12 battleships, 26 cruisers, 116 destroyers and escorts, 12 submarines and 185 other vessels. In addition to the American and British ships, there are ships from Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the Netherlands represented.

1972 – In the heaviest bombing in four years, U.S. aircraft flatten North Vietnamese barracks near Hanoi and Haiphong as part of ongoing Operation Linebacker I, part of President Nixon's response to the NVA Easter Offensive.

1989 – The first U.S. commercial satellite rocket was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., a Delta booster carrying a British communications satellite.

1997 – There was a report on the US nuclear arsenal broken down to the number of nuclear weapons in each state. New Mexico was 1st with 2,850, Georgia 2nd with 2,000, and Washington State 3rd with 1,600. The total stockpile was totaled at 12,500 warheads, of which 8,750 were described as "operational."

GREGG, STEPHEN R.

Rank and organization: Second Lieutenant, U.S. Army, 143d Infantry, 36th Infantry Division. Place and date: Near Montelimar, France, 27 August 1944. Entered service at: Bayonne, N.J. Birth: New York, N.Y. G.O. No.: 31, 17 April 1945. Citation: For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at risk of life above and beyond the call of duty on 27 August 1944, in the vicinity of Montelimar, France. As his platoon advanced upon the enemy positions; the leading scout was fired upon and 2d Lt. Gregg (then a Tech. Sgt.) immediately put his machineguns into action to cover the advance of the riflemen. The Germans, who were at close range, threw hand grenades at the riflemen, killing some and wounding.

Each time a medical aid man attempted to reach the wounded, the Germans fired at him. Realizing the seriousness of the situation, 2d Lt. Gregg took 1 of the light .30-caliber machineguns, and firing from the hip, started boldly up the hill with the medical aid man following him. Although the enemy was throwing hand grenades at him, 2d Lt. Gregg remained and fired into the enemy positions while the medical aid man removed the 7 wounded men to safety. When 2d Lt. Gregg had expended all his ammunition, he was covered by 4 Germans who ordered him to surrender. Since the attention of most of the Germans had been diverted by watching this action, friendly riflemen were able to maneuver into firing positions. One, seeing 2d Lt. Gregg's situation, opened fire on his captors. The 4 Germans hit the ground and thereupon 2d Lt. Gregg recovered a machine pistol from one of the Germans and managed to escape to his other machinegun positions. He manned a gun, firing at his captors, killed 1 of them and wounded the other. This action so discouraged the Germans that the platoon was able to continue its advance up the hill to achieve its objective. The following morning, just prior to daybreak, the Germans launched a strong attack, supported by tanks, in an attempt to drive Company L from the hill.

As these tanks moved along the valley and their foot troops advanced up the hill, 2d Lt. Gregg immediately ordered his mortars into action. During the day by careful observation, he was able to direct effective fire on the enemy, inflicting heavy casualties. By late afternoon he had directed 600 rounds when his communication to the mortars was knocked out. Without hesitation he started checking his wires, although the area was under heavy enemy small arms and artillery fire. When he was within 100 yards of his mortar position, 1 of his men informed him that the section had been captured and the Germans were using the mortars to fire on the company. 2d Lt. Gregg with this man and another nearby rifleman started for the gun position where he could see 5 Germans firing his mortars. He ordered the 2 men to cover him, crawled up, threw a hand grenade into the position, and then charged it. The hand grenade killed 1, injured 2, 2d Lt. Gregg took the other 2 prisoners, and put his mortars back into action.

If, regardless of cause, any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, or clause of this ordinance, including the System as set forth in Exhibit "A" is held invalid or to be unconstitutional, the remaining sections, subsections, paragraphs, sentences, or clauses shall continue in full force and effect and shall be construed thereafter as being the entire provisions of this ordinance.

Section 4. REPEALER.

Any ordinance inconsistent with the terms and provisions of this ordinance is hereby repealed; provided, however, that such repeal shall be only to the extent of such inconsistency and in all other respects this ordinance shall be cumulative of other ordinances regulating and governing the subject matter covered by this ordinance.

Section 5. EMERGENCY.

Whereas, in the judgment of the City Council of the City of Checotah, Oklahoma, the public peace, health, safety, and welfare of the City of Checotah, Oklahoma, and the inhabitants thereof demand the immediate passage of this ordinance, an emergency is hereby declared, the rules are suspended, and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect on its passage and approval.

END

The foregoing ordinance was introduced before the City of Checotah on the 10 day of August, 2020, and was duly adopted and approved by the Mayor and City Council on the 10 day of August, 2020, after compliance with notice requirements of the Open Meeting Law (25 OSA, Section 301, et seq.).

Patriot golf day, PGA HOPE and Folds of Honor come together over Labor Day weekend to serve military families

Folds of Honor, a non-profit that provides educational scholarships to spouses and children of fallen and disabled Veterans, and PGA HOPE (Helping Our Patriots Everywhere) will host Patriot Golf Day over Labor Day Weekend, Sept. 4-7.

Beginning this year, the two organizations have joined together to expand and grow annual fundraising efforts for both Folds of Honor and PGA HOPE to better serve the needs of Veterans and their families through the game of golf. PGA HOPE is the flagship military program of the PGA of America's 501(c)(3) foundation, PGA Foundation, Inc. d/b/a PGA REACH.

Patriot Golf Day, a nationwide initiative to raise awareness and scholarship funds for the families of fallen and wounded Veterans, will take place over Labor Day Weekend to honor the sacrifice of America's heroes.

"We are so impressed by the outpouring of support that the golf community has consistently shown for Folds of Honor over the last 13 years," said Lt. Col. Dan Rooney, CEO and Founder of Folds of Honor and a PGA Member. "Working closer with PGA REACH, we can now offer opportunities and service that benefit both our Veterans through PGA HOPE and their families through educational scholarships funded by Folds on Patriot Golf Day. I am very proud to stand with my fellow PGA Professionals and take this next step together with PGA HOPE, to honor those who have sacrificed so much for our country."

Patriot Golf Day began as a grassroots fundraising initiative over Labor Day Weekend in 2007, with golfers nationwide encouraged to add an extra dollar to their green fees to fund Folds of Honor or scholarships. Over the last 13 years, the effort has grown to encompass onsite donation boxes, a variety of fundraising events, tournaments and golf marathons led by PGA Professionals and golfers across America, resulting in over 28,000 scholarships to benefit Folds of Honor—in all 50 states and 41 PGA Sections. If you can't locate a participating course near you, you can still play golf during Patriot Golf Day Weekend and donate at FoldsofHonor.org or Venmo @PariotGolfDay.

PGA HOPE introduces golf to Veterans with disabilities to enhance their physical, mental, social and emotional well-being. The program includes a developmental six-to-eight-week curriculum, taught by PGA Professionals trained in adaptive golf and military cultural competency. In 2019, PGA HOPE programming impacted 2,500 Veterans nationwide.

"We couldn't be more proud of the work that PGA Professionals have done through PGA HOPE, utilizing the game of golf as a form of therapy and rehabilitation for Veterans," said PGA of America CEO Seth Waugh. "By partnering with Folds of Honor on Patriot Golf Day, we can expand our footprint within the families of those we serve through golf. This partnership is a natural extension of our long-standing mission to support our nation's heroes."

The Patriot Golf Day campaign is led by Jack Nicklaus, who annually serves as honorary chair of the event and is also a strong supporter of PGA HOPE. Mr. Nicklaus will continue to stay involved in both causes through this new partnership.

"I never had the privilege to serve our great nation, but I am passionate and committed to any initiative that allows us to recognize, assist and support the men and women of our military, who have sacrificed so much for our freedom," said Nicklaus. "When we can use the game of golf as the vehicle to give back, it becomes even more meaningful to me. That's why I feel blessed and honored to partner with great organizations like Folds of Honor and PGA REACH."

OU to open Big 12 play against K-State in Dallas

The Sooners will now open the 2020 Big 12 Conference season against Kansas State on Sept. 26, according to a report by Brett McMurphy of Stadium. OU-Texas is also still scheduled for Oct. 10 in Dallas, per McMurphy.

The start of the season can be delayed to as late as Oct. 10, with the slate concluding on Dec. 12 and the Big 12

Championship set for Dec. 19, McMurphy reports. The full schedule is expected to be released at 11 a.m. CT, as Big 12 Commissioner Bob Bowlsby is meeting with the media.

OU was previously set to open up league play against Baylor on Oct. 3. Under the old schedule, it wouldn't have hosted Kansas State until Nov. 14.

Osage Nation

JIM NORTH
GAYLORD NEWS

The exchange of lush, green woodlands for the dry, unwanted land of Indian Territory came with plot twists.

Osage ancestral territory east of the Mississippi included the Ohio Valley region, taking in portions of Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

The Osage travelled for centuries between their spring and winter homes, from the Ohio Valley to the plains west of the Mississippi River. Sometime prior to European contact, they settled near what would become St. Louis, including the Cahokia Mounds.

Talon Ray Satepauhoodle is a member of the Osage Nation and staff representative at the Osage Tribal Museum in Pawhuska.

“We were slowly but surely moving anyway,” Satepauhoodle said. “We crossed the Mississippi, we already made a treaty with the U.S. government...saying that we gave up those lands in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Pennsylvania.”

Regarding the influx of white settlers in St. Louis, “we allowed them, because at that time... we stopped fighting. We knew we had to assimilate. We had to live with these people anyway, so we never fought with them,” he said.

Osage land by the turn of the 19th century primarily encompassed Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Massive cessions of land began with major treaties in 1808, 1818 and 1825.

By the time of the Treaty of 1839 at Fort Gibson, the Cherokee Trail of Tears was underway, exiling the Cherokee to Indian territory, but the Osage people lived there already. This decision by the U.S. government created conflict, so the 1839 treaty called for cession of the Osage’s remaining land in Oklahoma and their removal to Kansas to alleviate the tension.

“That’s pretty much stirring up a big hive full of bees and you just go over there and shake it up to see what happens,” Satepauhoodle said. “It was forcible removal so the Cherokee can live in peace, and they made the Osage move, even though that was [a portion of] our traditional homeland.”

Many had moved from Kansas by 1870. Their land had diminished over the decades to 1.65 million acres in territory later named Osage County, Oklahoma. The Osage owned the title free and clear—until the Dawes Severalty Act of 1887.

The Indian Appropriation Act of 1889 opened the door for 50,000 settlers to take possession of 2 million acres, beginning April 22 of that year, during The Oklahoma Land Run.

Osage leaders retained mineral rights in their final treaty negotiations. This paid dividends with a sudden discovery in 1897.

“The moment we struck oil, we knew. Overnight, we became the richest people in the world,” Satepauhoodle said. Peaceful living became impossible, as tens of thousands of settlers were fixated on the formerly undesirable piece of Oklahoma. Boom towns sprouted by the dozens.

Oil was a catalyst for the 1906 Allotment Act, building on Dawes.

The effect of the 1906 act boomeranged in favor of the Osage. Wiser because of their decades enduring misdealing, they negotiated 160-acre allotments per individual in each household. This multiplied land ownership, rather than limiting it to 160 acres per “head of household,” formerly provided by Dawes. They retained roughly 75 percent of the original reservation.

“We bought it for everyone, but they [government] wanted to diminish that more, because we’re about to have a land run,” Satepauhoodle said. In November of 1907, Indian territory became the 46th state in the union—Oklahoma.

The location of the Million-Dollar Elm tree is marked on the Osage campus headquarters in Pawhuska, where auctions took place beginning in 1912 for the leasing and sale of tribal headrights, which is the right to receive a quarterly distribution from minerals. Frank Phillips outbid Henry Ford by a small margin and the scene erupted into a fist-fight between the two men.

Mysterious crimes rippled across the countryside and the period became known as the Reign of Terror. Hundreds of deaths on the Osage reservation remain unsolved to date and only three people were ever held accountable.

The New York Times wrote on Jan. 17, 1926:

“Seldom in the long history of the white man’s

JIM NORTH | GAYLORD NEWS

Public auctions by the Osage Nation took place under the “Million Dollar Elm” tree in Pawhuska. Eighteen 160-acre allotments were leased for more than 1,000,000 each in the early 1920s.

dubious dealings with the Indian has there been such a determined combination of craft and violence...white men and women have married members of the wealthy tribe. Others have become beneficiaries of heavily insured Indians. The devices for transferring oil royalties into white hands have been infinite. Before oil was discovered, the Osage Nation lived in peace on its meagre lands, held under treaty with Uncle Sam, and unmolested by the white man. But when petroleum began to gush from the Indians’ hills a throng of whites appeared on the scene; and ever since that time the courts of the little town of Pawhuska have been overwhelmed with lawsuits and criminal cases, while one after another of the heads of rich Indian families has been the victim of murder.”

How close did the government come to the extermination of Osage culture? Satepauhoodle replies, “really close,” referring to government prescribed boarding schools where children were beaten for speaking their language—and forced to assimilate into white culture after the pattern of military boot camps.

“If you kill off all of the culture, all of the language, all the traditions inside this little student’s mind and you just have the plain body with a blank mind, you save the body and you kill the Indian inside the body.”

A young girl escaped a boarding school and was returned after capture. It was discovered that another person was caring for the girl like a mother, Satepauhoodle said.

“They took her [the helper] out, tied her hands and feet, and swung her against the tree like a baseball bat. Things like that happened.”

Satepauhoodle said the Osage people are taught there is balance and imbalance in the universe and when things go awry, the universe will eventually balance itself again. He said maintaining and building Osage Nation sovereignty is of primary importance. Today, the tribe has more than 20,000 enrolled members, nearly half of whom live in Oklahoma.

Jim North is a reporter with Gaylord News, a reporting project at the University of Oklahoma Gaylord College of Journalism and Mass Communication.

Axe. In back row are unidentified, unidentified, Ben Harrison, Elias Stanton, Amos Osage and Harry Kohpay. William Conner adopted George Conner after the murders of George’s biological parents, Little Doctor and Leatassa.

They called it the “Indian problem.” The white settlers wanted more land, and the tribes held rich acreages. Removing tribes from the Southeast was more than just an idea by the time Andrew Jackson was elected president in 1828.

The Indian Removal Act was among his defining pieces of legislation. Jackson argued that moving tribes west of the Mississippi River would guarantee their survival. Instead it launched an era of genocide.

Thousands died during the forced marches to land designated as Indian Territory. For members of the 39 tribes in Oklahoma, the removal stories have not been forgotten. Neither has the Dawes Severalty Act of 1887, intended to assimilate Native Americans into white society by stripping them of their cultural and social traditions. The ramifications persist today.

This University of Oklahoma’s Gaylord News project has written a series of stories about this issue entitled Exiled to Indian Country. The series details the stories of how each of the state’s 39 tribes wound up in Oklahoma.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF TAX LIEN ON REAL ESTATE FOR DELINQUENT TAXES LOCATED IN MCINTOSH COUNTY, STATE OF OKLAHOMA

Notice is hereby given that, under authority and direction of Title 68 Okl. St. Ann. Section 3101 et seq., the hereinafter described land, lots, tracts and parcels or real estate, all situated in McIntosh County, Oklahoma, now has a tax lien for unpaid ad valorem taxes and/or special assessments. Further, if the lien remains unpaid for a period of three years or more, as of the date such taxes first became due and payable, this property will be sold at public auction unless the delinquent taxes, interest, and penalty are paid in full prior to the time of the tax sale. The said list contains all the lands on which the ad valorem taxes of the taxable year 2019 remain due, delinquent and unpaid, except where the 2019 taxes have been endorsed on a prior year's delinquent tax lien, together with any delinquent and unpaid ad valorem taxes of other years, and including any personal taxes which are by law made a lien upon the real property owned by such person or persons; and further including delinquent special improvement and maintenance assessments separately stated and described for the year or years as specifically stated in said lists for certain lands, lots and tracts of real estate having special improvement and maintenance assessments which are by statute a lien upon realty and subject to a lien at this time. As to each class and year of tax, the accrued interest separately computed to date of first publication of this notice, together with advertising costs and listing fees, have been included in the total amount of all such taxes, interest and costs remaining due, delinquent and unpaid.

The real estate hereby advertised may involve a manufactured home which may be subject to the right of a secured party to repossess. A holder of a perfected security interest in such manufactured home may be able to pay ad valorem taxes based upon the value of the manufactured home apart from the value of real property.

This notice applies to the following lands, lots, tracts and parcels of real estate, to-wit:
