She has attended Allen since 3rd grade. Macye plays in the outfield and wears the #6. Macye says her most memorable moment was striking out in slow-pitch. Macye's future plans are to attend the Chickasaw Institute of Technology to become a CNA.

Brooklyn Sanders is the daughter of Greg and Sue Sanders and has one brother, Kylan. She has attended Allen since 2009. Brooklyn wears the number 12 and plays in the outfield for the Lady Mustangs. Brooklyn's most memorable moment was when they went to Broken Bow and stayed at the cabin. She enjoyed hanging out with her team — they got to relax in the hot tub and hang out in the game room for quite a while. She also figured out that she's not too bad at throwing darts. Her future plans are to attend East Central University and pursue a degree in biology.

Alexis Slabaugh has one brother, Damon, and is the daughter of Kevin and Dottie Slabaugh. She has attended Allen since she was a freshman. Alexis plays catcher and 1st base and wears #7. Her favorite memory was during Districts her sophomore year. She hit her first homerun ever and she had her head turned looking at the ball — she fell flat on her face onto first base but got right back up and laughed the whole way rounding the bases back to home plate. Alexis's future plans include attending East Central University to complete her basics and then transferring to the University of Oklahoma to pursue her bachelor's degree.

Maebrey Wallace is the daughter of Stan and Lisa Wallace and has one sister, Britten. She has attended Allen for 14 years. Maebrey wears #19 and plays at second base. Her most memorable moment is when she fell in the on-deck circle at Wetumka trying to get a bat—let's just say steel cleats and concrete are not a good combination. Her future plans are to attend Eastern Oklahoma State College to pursue a degree in Agriculture Communications and then transfer to Oklahoma State University.

Maggie Yarbrough is the daughter of Jason and Christin Yarbrough and has one sister, Faith. She has attended Allen since her freshman year. She wears the number 21 and is a utility player for the Lady Mustangs. Her most memorable moment was when they were playing Tushka and Maggie was in the outfield. Lucky for her—a ball was hit to her, and it bounced off her glove and smacked her right in the forehead. Maggie plans to attend East Central University to finish her pre-requisites and then transfer to the University of Oklahoma Health Science Center to become an ultrasound tech.

James Shed Passes Away

James “Harold” Shed was born on July 7, 1935, to Jim Howard and Mayme Belle Franks Shed. He passed away at his home in Holdenville, on September 11, 2022.

Harold was raised in Atwood and moved to Holdenville after marrying Roberta Ilona Smith. He worked at the Ammunition Depot in McAlester for many years and retired from the Oklahoma State Highway Department.

Harold was well known for the care and detail that he put into keeping his yard and vehicles looking perfect. When he wasn’t mowing his yard, or washing a vehicle, he could probably be found at a car show or parade with his pride and joys, his 57 Chevy Bel Air and 72 & 66 Chevrolet Pickups. Harold loved his vehicles almost as much as his family.

He is deeply missed by his wife of 63 years Roberta Ilona Smith Shed; son, Jimmy Shed, of Houston Texas and daughter, Kimberly Shed of Holdenville; three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

School Administrators meet for safety checkup

By Lexy French K-TEN News

Attorney Erik Johnson held a school safety review for school administrators and first responders Thursday morning, April 6th, at the Pontotoc Technology Center, Ada.

The meeting started with a review of law enforcement’s response to recent school shootings and then led to a discussion about school safety and improving security.

“I have four kids that are in public education, so I’m personally very concerned about this,” Johnson explained. “Plus, as district attorney, I’m responsible for every student in Pontotoc, Seminole and Hughes counties. It is the first thing on my mind when I wake up in the morning and the last thing I think about at night; the safety of our kids in District 22.”

An agent from the district attorney’s Drug and Violent Crime Task Force walked through the response in Uvalde, Texas, and what law enforcement can learn from it.

“You can see that the response was deficient,” Johnson said. “However, contrapose that with law enforcement response in Nashville; less than seven minutes after entering the school, the shooter was taken down.”

The goal was to build relationships between law enforcement and educators and to discuss emergency plans.

“I think a visible presence is important. We were able to hire three full-time resource officers,” said Ada City Schools Superintendent Mike Anderson. “I think that’s how you look at this; if we have a resource officer standing out in front of the building, he may prevent something from happening and never even know something was in the works.”

Johnson believes clear communication is critical for school districts.

“School administrators, resource staff, and school resource officers that were here, I wanted them to hear from our local law enforcement and recognize that law enforcement is heavily invested in school security issues and wants to participate in school resource plans and emergency action plans,” Johnson explained.

One Pharmacist's View

It was a long time ago. Probably the winter season of 1965. The north winds had blown clouds of unwanted dust and snow and sleet down Allen streets and the wind chill factors were out of sight. A welcome spring eased our plight of the numbing north winds, but we still had an unwelcome enemy working its way through our school. It was scabies.

The dreaded "itch" mites were accompanied by fleas and other assorted pests. Yes, they thrive in the winter and spring. And yes, all our little kids seemed to have it. It was a national epidemic, and it was unwanted. And it was especially unwanted in our schools where many a little tender-skinned kid suffered their bites. What could be worse? The itch mite and head lice seemed to be first cousins. What made me remember all this? Well,

I'll blame it on Bruce Plunk.

You see, I was driving my golf cart down West Lexington Street the other day and I see Bruce is redoing his old homeplace and building new porches on the North and West sides. His old home place is still in good shape and it's going to look really nice. But it made me remember when his mom taught Pre-K up at our school and those little kids all had head lice and the itch. A doctor told Mary Ann Plunk the only way to get rid of it was to treat the whole class at the same time. Soon I received a call at the pharmacy for several bottles of "itch" medicine in the lotion and the shampoo form—and she needed it delivered and some help.

She was at home with all her whole class. Reminded me of a little pig farm. She had them all stripped and ready to be shampooed and medicated in the bathtub. She had her assistant and then me doing some of the work. Two of the miscreants were my son Ron Bullard and little Bruce Plunk himself. I think it worked, at least for a few days. The whole incident reminded me of 1942. Another time that the little mites took over my 2nd grade class there in Centrahoma School.

We didn't have a school wide program that I can remember but my mom got right on it. We lived in a small apartment in the back end of the grocery store dad ran. Yes, the north end. It was so cold that winter that had we had any plumbing it would have frozen solid. As it was, we felt fortunate to have electricity and a great "Sheet-Iron" heater. Mom decided to treat all three of us. Gerald, Sue and me. She heated up as much water as she could on the wood-fired cook stove and filled a washtub with ice water. She added enough hot water to knock the ice chill off a bit and told us three to strip. We did.

Mom bathed us and then applied the magic potion, a nasty lotion called "Itch O Cide" all over our bodies. She had several of those 8oz bottles on hand and more out in the store if she needed them. Directions called for the lotion to be allowed to dry on the skin for 20 minutes, which she did. She re-dunked Gerald and Sue but left me there to just shiver. "You are going to sleep in that." She said I had a worse case, so I slept that cold winter night with the sheen of Itch-O-Cide on me. The next morning my side of the bed was coated with yellowish powder. I guess that treated the bed too.

I went to school the next day cured. Not so the rest of the class. I related this story many years later at a reunion and when I said the whole class had it, one girl piped up; "Not me." And you know? I don't think she did. And some of us hated her for it.

But getting back to the period, the next day at school my best friend (Letha Mae) asked me what that yellow dust was doing on my neck and in my ears. I replied with unearned pride that I had no idea. I've read in the Bible that "Pride goeth before a fall." Thankfully, while I still hung onto my pride, my itch was gone. I had a hard time convincing Gerald of this. We shared a bed.

Hope your springtime goes great and that you find yourself in church next Sunday, I know we had a big and welcome crowd at FBC Easter Sunday.

Country Comments

Compared to my dad's life, I had a life of ease. He dropped out of school in the eighth grade to join the CCC, was a war veteran going through hell when he was 18 years old. Returned home with no education or job and became a roughneck since that is all he could find.

He never had a really good job, never owned a new car, and our family lived in an apartment most of our lives and struggled financially but never complained.

He sacrificed so that my sister and I would have a better life and a much easier life. That is what moms and dads did back then.

What a difference a generation makes. One generation restores freedom, builds the greatest country in the world and passes it on to us. And it is easy to see what the following generations have done to our country since then.

To the greatest generation, saving lives was their 1st priority and now killing unborn children is the goal of half this country.

Building families was their goal and now we have a generation that can't figure out the difference between a man and a woman. Colleges used to educate in the old days, now they indoctrinate. The greatest generation fought and died for freedom because they loved this country. Now there are many that are trying to destroy America because they are taught to hate it.

We used to take our families to church on Sundays to worship God. A new generation takes their families to ball games, and the malls and the casinos.

From the Greatest Generation to the Coolest generation, we have come a long way – all downhill

Thanks Everyone!!

This year the Allen Easter Bunnies traveled to 59 yards for 131 kids in the Allen area to hide Glow in the dark eggs.

We are thankful for this group that comes together to provide a little extra something to our community!

The expense is paid out of our volunteers pocket and this year the Hughes County Sheriff's Auxillary provided some much appreciated candy for the eggs.

There are a few things that we'll be needing help with in the next few months. We are always appreciative of monetary donations to help us do these things! If you might be interested, we will have Academic Banquet and the Fourth of July Events coming up next. We will need to be fund raising for that so watch the Advocate and Facebook and we will keep the community up-to-date on what is coming up next and how you can help.

All Calvin Police Officers Resign, Hughes County Sheriff's Office Takes Over Duties

The only two officers serving in the Calvin Police Department resigned in a city council meeting this past week, citing a hostile work environment.

Calvin Police Chief Erica Holter and another officer were the only officers working for the department.

The town attorney said the Hughes County Sheriff's Office will continue to patrol in that area while they work to make new hires for the department.
